OUR FOLK APPRECIATE COURTESY FROM OTHERS
Folk in Transylvania are appreciative of any courtesy shown them, and we believe that our people will take extra care to see that the owners of Connettee Falls will have no cause to forget their generous offer of throwing that beautiful scene open to the public without the nasty sting of charging so much per head.

Mr. Miller of the Wachovia Bank has graciously turned the beautiful falls over to the Brevard Kiwanis club for the summer... that is, he is giving our community the privilege of using the immediate grounds for picnic, sight seeing and a place to take our summer visitors, and nary a word is to be said about charges of any kind. Naturally Mr. Miller expects to sell the property on which Connettee Falls is located, as the Wachovia Bank has no use for the several thousand acres of land that go with the falls, and if the property about the falls is damaged by people who are allowed access, his chances for sale will be materially lessened.

We believe our folk will show Mr. Miller and the Wachovia that his trust has not been misplaced, and that we will all go out of our way to show our appreciation for the generous treatment that has been given this section. This newspaper has been hammering for years on the excessive rates that have been charged to see the falls, and any number of tourists have gone away from Brevard feeling that they had been gypped after paying such an excessive tax to see one of the places of grandeur that had been so widely advertised. Now that we have it, let's keep it, and keep it nice.

Did you notice your calendar last week? March 21st was first day of Spring, and we still have no Chamber of Commerce organization.

"The Holy Bible says world war will be declared on April 11, 1934," says a Mr. McRae of California, "and last for 732 days." We'd come just as near believing him if he were to say that 732 people would come in and pay their subscription to The Times on April 11.

Insurance companies say we don't have an all-time fire department, hence the rates are higher... well, we have noticed that the truck is there in time to save the house each time an alarm is turned in, and that's a lot more than the all-timers can say. Fact is, between an all-time fire department and one like ours that keeps people's homes from burning, we take ours.

Well, well, well. Judge Schenck rules that any beer sold in North Carolina containing more than 3.2 percent alcohol is a violation of the law, and that both the vendor and the manufacturer are subject to fines. Next time you hear about some of "that good beer that is more than 3.2" keep right on going, somebody's trying to play you for a sucker.

Three-year-old boy in Florida drank an ounce of moonshine whiskey and died within half a day, which is proof that whiskey is not good for children... grown-up fellow drank some early Saturday night and left a dirty, nasty, ungentlemanly, nigardly, uncouth, cheap, filthy, degenerate bunch of proof of his illness in front of The Times office... which is more proof that ye editor has had to have his last mess of such type cleaned up on Sunday around his front door, and as a preventive measure will sit in the office this Saturday night with all the lights off and a shotgun loaded with rock salt to help the next fellow who does such a trick, get sobered up in a hurry.

Inquiries for houses, cottages, apartments and for board and room are being received by The Times office, and the still-acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. There's possibility of a great season here this summer that could mean a lot of cash for everybody. Suppose we insert a new paragraph in our prayers tonight something like this... "And we need a Chamber of Commerce badly, help us to wake up."

INDIANS LIKE SOME OTHER THINGS
"The Indians are coming! Whoopee!"
That's the term and about the way the news reached this newspaper two weeks ago, and some there were who wondered why the paper didn't put out an extra to herald the event. The Indians were supposed to have been here Tuesday of last week, five hundred or more of them, and this first five hundred would be joined in Brevard by several hundred others, later the entire band moving on to Washington where legislation favorable to the red men was to be sought.

Tuesday came, bright and fair, but nary an Indian. Wednesday no Indians. Thursday no Indians. Friday no Indians, and here it is two weeks later and no Indians as yet. All of which leads us to say... "Don't get excited at every publicity seeker that comes along... there's generally a dead cat up the creek somewhere."

Twenty million copies of the Congressional Record are soon to be wished off on the unsuspecting public by those fellows who are "in and want to go back," and in the meantime the federal treasury continues to go down, the postoffice department goes down, and the speeches of the great and mighty explorators that are recorded in the Congressional Record go down also. (in the wastebasket).

AT THE CLEMSON THEATRE

"Lazy River," a story taken from the Louisiana Bayous, will be featured at the Clemson Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week, weaving in a theme that will be acceptable to both the young and old. Jean Parker, Robert Young and Ted Healy are leading players in the picture that depicts the life that is lived the loves and the hates of the "Lazy River Country." In addition, a Stan Laurel-Oliver Hardy comedy, appropriately labeled "Oliver the Eighth," will be shown.

For Monday and Tuesday of next week Norma Shearer will make her first appearance in over a year, playing with Robert Montgomery in a headliner—"Rip Tide"—that promises to be all that a picture played by these two stellar performers should be. Good short subjects will also be shown at the Monday-Tuesday billing.

War harms everybody, helps nobody, settles nothing.

W. H. GROGAN, JR. District Manager

Camps at Lawndale, Shelby, Kings Mountain, Rhodhiss, Granite Falls, Hickory, and Murphy secured one or more applications last week. All these Camps will receive a special honor by having their names on the Bradshaw Special Bulletin Board now in his office. This is the last week to pay honor in this way to Mr. Bradshaw. Be sure your Camp gets on this week.

Production Monday, March 19th was $1,620,000. This is the largest single day's record in the history of the Woodmen of the World. Total production up to and including the 19th $5,735,500. March business will be the largest ever secured by the W.O.W. in any one month. What part will your Camp have in making this history?

A fellow by the name of O. M. Thompson is running away with the North Carolina honors, we must stop him this week, and the only way to head him off is to flood the United States Mail with applications from Western North Carolina. Can we count on you to work from the time you read this until the old clock strikes midnight March 31st. Get applications and then more applications and that will win for us.

The Concord memorial meeting was well attended and handled in a fine way. They had good music and speaking and the banquet was very good, in fact the eats were better than the usual banquet spread. Mrs. Effie Rogers, and Mrs. Harriett Donelan, state managers of the Carolinas were on program and both made hits with all of us. General Lewis, Judge Hill, Zeke and several others delivered short talks.

Hendersonville Woodmen will arrange for taking care of the largest crowd ever attending a Fraternal meeting on the occasion of visit there by Head Consul, Chas. A. Hines, on April the 24th. We expect a large part of district convention delegates to take in this meeting, and then go on to Sylva next day. We will print the program for both meetings in an early issue of this paper.

Write me a nice letter, you can write it all with applications. Do your stuff this week as never before. We just must be on top when the applications are counted on March the 31st.

Verner Alexander has a host of relatives and friends who read the Times who will be saddened to learn of his recent death. He was principally raised in this section but a few years ago moved to South Carolina where he has been employed as school teacher besides being a successful farmer. He leaves a wife and several small children and a widowed mother, he being her only son.

We would like to say to those who are interested in Lake Toxaway and cemetery that some of the graves are in great need of care, especially the Owen lot. So much rain has caused the ground to give way.

Our Sunday school and church services were poorly attended Sunday on account of rain and mud. When it rains there is a short link of road that cars can't pass. We sincerely hope some one will get interested enough to see that some work is done on it.

Miss Alebra Burgess spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. W. F. McCall.

"YOUR SILENT SERVANTS"

We commend to all of our customers a splendid and intensely interesting feature in the March issue of Better Homes and Gardens under the heading "Your Silent Servants." Every housewife who uses electric service at all will enjoy, and profit by, reading this article by Delight Trimble.

Here are a few excerpts just to give you an idea:

"One is fortunate indeed to have servants who work cheaply and efficiently—servants who never grumble, who never have days off when you need them most, and never get telephone calls. Instead they're always on the job, bright and shining.

"Electric appliances are such cheerful-looking things, aren't they? They look so gay that one almost regards them as extravagances, which they most certainly are not!

"Can you believe that the average customer at the average rate, five cents a kilowatt hour (The top rate under S. P. U. residential schedule No. one is 3 3-4 cents per kilowatt hour), pays only from 42 to 60 cents a year to run a vacuum cleaner! Those appliances equipped with a motor (vacuums, mixers, sewing machines, and so on) use less electrical current than those without, such as toasters and hot pads, and even at that, your waffle iron costs only about four cents an hour."

You will be interested in reading the whole article. Don't miss it!
