county high schools will be eligible for loans under provisions of the orestablishing the fund, and loans will be made only to students entering Brevard College.

It is purpose of the loan fund committee to keep the loans made in as liquid state as possible, and to assist beneficiaries in repaying the loans as soon as possible.

While direct solicitations will not be made by the Kiwanis club for "investments" to the fund, members of the committee, and of the club expect to call attention to the possibilities of service to worthy boys and girls at such times and to such persons as they vay bring the fund up to an amount that will make it an institution of worth to students of the county who are worthy of assistance. The fact that the fund will be administered at all times by members of the club, and the further fact that two members of the loan committee will hold over each year, will be stressed by members and others interested in the growth of the loan fund. This will, it is pointed out, insure business like handling of the money, and will be an extra incentive for people to make contributions to the fund.

County Merchants Will Be Enabled to Handle Packages Under Proposed New Measure

D. S. Coltrane, assistant state commissioner of agriculture, stated here Tuesday that a revision of the seed dealers license fees would very probably be made at the 1939 session of the legislature.

In fact, the bill which will change the $10 license fee has already been drawn, and was checked over by Representatives during the extra session in Raleigh last week.

Provisions of the measure which Commissioner Coltrane says his department will aprove will permit a mall country merchant to have a package seed agency, with a tax stamp of one dollar to be applied to each box of 496 packages of seed. Mr. Coltrane said that there had been much dissatisfaction expressed by representatives and senators from the Western section of the state with regard to the seed license fee which has been a law for several years, but had not been put into enforcing effect until 1988.

The Merrill family reunion will be held at Fletcher on Sunday, Aug. 21.
