Here-There Over the County

(J. A. Glazener, County Agent)

Mrs. T. J. Wilson is the happy owner of a pair of lovely peafowls, named Romeo and Juliet. When they display their pretty plumage, they are very beautiful and become more attractive as they proudly stroll among the horses, cattle and hogs on the meadow.

Arthur Whitmire has just completed two rat-proof cribs, each holding 1000 bushels of corn. The cribs are joined together under one metal roof and are placed on concrete foundations. A large driveway between the cribs makes it convenient for handling corn as well as furnishing a good storage place for wagons.

The idea of building new cribs in the Calvert and Cherryfield communities was further carried out by J. W. Glazener and Gaston Whitmire. Each building cribs that will hold several hundred bushels of corn. Mr. Glazener placed two foot band of sheet metal at the bottom of his crib on the outside as a protection against rats.

SEAL SALE STARTS HERE NOVEMBER 25

Tuberculosis Prevention Is Chief Aim of Organiza- tion Health Work

Annual Christmas Seal sale for Brevard and Transylvania county will begin on Friday and continue until Christmas, sponsored by the local Parent-Teacher association.

Mrs. F. P. Sledge, general chairman, will be assisted in the campaign by civic and religious organizations in the sale of the little seals. The proceeds of the sale will be used in the health promotion in this county.

The Christmas Seal for 1938 is not only attractive in its various colors, but it is beautifully significant. It shows a mother and her two children placing a lighted candle in the window—an impressive maritime custom of old that has an appropriate message for today.

Thousands of men, women and children who have tuberculosis today are unaware as to the ways and means of a cure. The Christmas Seal, like the candle in the window, has lighted the way for millions, and it still beckons the way for millions more.

Dick Rogers Injured In Automobile Crash

Dick Rogers of Enon is in Lyday Memorial hospital with severe cuts and bruises about the head and face, and four young men are in jail, as result of an automobile wreck on the Greenville road near Rockbrook about dark Monday.

Sheriff George Shuford, who investigated the wreck, placed J. C. Lyday, David Lee Sims, and D. C. Landreth of Enon, and Fred Manley of Brevard, in jail pending outcome of Rogers' injuries.

The light Ford car driven by Lyday struck a truck driven by Cleo Garren, just as Mr. Garren was turning into the road leading to his home. Sheriff Shuford said that Mr. Garren was in no way blameable with the wreck, and that signs on the road showed that Lyday was driving on the wrong side a considerable distance before the truck was struck.

Mr. Garren was uninjured. Landreth and Lyday also escaped injury, and only minor scratches and bruises were to be seen on Manley and Sims. Sheriff Shuford said that the five men in the car had been drinking.

Pisgah Forest Celebration Marks New Road Opening

Opening of highway 284 to the top of Pisgah was fittingly celebrated Friday evening with an oyster roast at Schenck Lodge, given by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Burton.

Enough oyster shells were discarded by the hungry throng of 40 or more guests to fill any spot on the road that has not had sufficient stone to make a bonded top.

Johnny Squires, chief ranger, and Charlie McCrary, trucking contractor, and half dozen others, assisted Mr. Burton in serving oysters on half-shell, with red-hot dressing, raw, half-baked, and what-have-you in the realm of oyster cuisine.

Highway officials from Western Carolina, rangers and friends topped out several barrels of oysters with venison roast, and completed the evening with camp-fire songs that rated fair to high in harmony, and nearly one hundred percent in participation.

New 1939 auto license plates have been received by the local branch of the Carolina Motor club and will go on sale December 1, according to Mrs. Mary Jane McCrary, manager.

The new plates may be used on and after the first day of December, but Mrs. McCrary said Saturday that she had already received several applications for delivery on the first day of the coming month.

Transylvania county's number will have 271 for serial, with the first plate sold to be 271-001. All cars and trucks must have new plates by January 1 1939.

Sale of North Carolina state automobile license plates has already exceeded the total of the entire year of 1937, Mrs. McCrary said. Through November 10 the total was 588,116 compared with 582,366 for the same date last year and 586,535 for the entire year 1937.

License plates have been handled by the Carolina Motor club since 1924 and the total issued has passed the 5,000,000 mark. These plates have been valued at more than $65,000,000.

TRANSYLVANIA ROAD CLAIM DISALLOWED

State Commission Turns Down Requests of Counties For Big Amount

Transylvania county's claim against the state highway in the amount of $1,315,000, was disallowed by the commission at Raleigh on Thursday, along with other claims from counties in the state amounting to a grand total of $62,681,000.

Transylvania's claim grew out of the state taking over the highway system, and an act was passed in the 1935 session of the legislature setting up a commission to hear claims of the several counties in the state.

Transylvania's claim was based on money spent for improving roads, and equipment which the state took over. The commission reported that in many instances the refunds asked for by counties included all the money invested in roads over a long period of years, and that there was no way of finding a just and equitable plan of settlement.

General consensus of opinion was that the several counties had received benefits from the roads built, and that the state as a unit was now maintaining these roads built by county funds, and providing other arteries of travel, and that to attempt to pay even a portion of the huge amounts asked for would beggar the state for several years to come and all but stop expenditure on new roads and maintenance.

Buncombe county had the largest claim presented—$3,018,643.

Little hope has ever been held out locally that the sum asked for in the request made up from Transylvania would be paid, and county officials said they were not surprised at the action of the commission.

College Students To Observe Thanksgiving

(E. D. C. Brewer)

A special Thanksgiving service is planned Wednesday morning with Rev. E. P. Billups making his first appearance before the entire student body in chapel. Following the college's custom of having prayer service every Wednesday evening, a special Thanksgiving service is planned with all the dormitory residents meeting together in the auditorium. The service will include the reading of the President's Thanksgiving proclamation, a legend on Thanksgiving, special numbers by the college choir, and a presentation of gifts by the students to the poor of the community. The gifts will consist of food and clothing and other things which the students can give. They will be distributed through the County Department of Public Welfare.
