

Volunteers Doing Much Improvement Work On Golf Course

Each Saturday many local golfers and other interested citizens are working on the greens, fairways and other portions of the Brevard golf course, and Jack Keating, chairman of the greens committee, invites all volunteer workers to come out this coming Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The group above is topspilling, fertilizing and reseeding No. 2 green, and the condition of the course is said to be much improved since the volunteer work has been going on. PINCH HITTING . . . Sport fans in these parts were glad to see Gil Coan pinch hitting last week end, and the consensus is that Gil will be back in the Washington line-up in the next few days.

STOCK FOR SALE . . . Jack Alexander, chairman of membership of the Brevard country club, this week releases a list of captains and lieutenants for the four districts in town. He points out that the sale of stock is open to the public, and during the first day or two of selling, some $1,080 was realized. That's encouraging. It is hoped that 500 shares can be sold, and Mr. Alexander points out that a number of summer visitors are keenly interested in buying stock, and he can be contacted at any time by others desiring to buy a share or two.

TOURNEY SATURDAY . . . Speaking of golfing, Tom Case, pro at Hendersonville, invites Transylvania golfers to enter Luf's contest at Hendersonville on Saturday and compete with Julius Boros, National Open champion. Last year golfers all over the country played against Bantam Ben Hogan, and thousands of them won medals inscribed: "I Beat Ben Hogan." This year Boros will play his home course at Mid Pines, and the golfers will play their various courses, with their scores minus their handicaps. We're predicting that at least one of the local foursome, the publisher, Hank Newbury, George Perkins, Jr., and the ole sports ed will bring back a medal.

"Big Push" Is Now On In Sale Of Brevard Country Club Stock

Chairman Urges Public Support, Captains And Lieutenants Are Named

The "big push" in the sale of stock in the recently organized Brevard country club is now underway, according to Jack Alexander, chairman of membership. Mr. Alexander points out that the four captains have named several lieutenants each to assist in the drive, and they hope to contact everybody before the first of June.

He further explains that a share of stock is $10, and persons may buy as many shares as they wish, and sale is open to the public. It is hoped that 500 shares can be sold, and the money raised in this manner will be used to purchase capital equipment. Volunteer workers are busy improving the condition of the course, and officials of the club believe the course will be playable some time next month.

Captains and assistants in the four districts are as follows: District One—Capt. Bob Arnold, Jim Willis, Smith Conklin, Jack Fenwick, Alfred Perkins, Lucy Clarke, Tom Eller, Catherine Palmer, Chris Rogers, J. O. Davidson, George Justus. District Two—Capt. L. C. Poor, Hank Newbury, Bill Alexander, Cheatham Nelson, Dan Edens, Vernon Fullbright, Duncan Hunter. District Three—Capt. Ned Medford, Harvey Souther, Spad Car-

ECUSTA TO HIT ROAD SATURDAY

Game Slated At Berkeley. Beacon Here Next Wednesday. Down Enka

Ecusta's WNC Industrial league baseball team travels to Berkeley Saturday afternoon for a regular loop contest. The game gets underway at 3:30 o'clock, and a large delegation of local fans is expected to attend the game. Next Wednesday afternoon Beacon comes to Ecusta for a regular league game, which will be played on the plant field beginning at 4:00 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Last Saturday afternoon Ecusta nosed out Enka to the tune of 10-4. Grover Frisbee went the route for the locals, and each of the following Ecustans garnered two hits: Compton, Johnson, Drake, Brank, Banks, while Bryson and Tiger had one each.

Brevard College's WAA Holds Annual Banquet, Awards Made

President Reports Most Successful Year, Nancy Carson Is Honored

The Woman's Athletic association of Brevard college held its annual banquet at the Rhododendron room Tuesday night. Nancy Carson, president, presided. A resume of the year's activities were given by Miss Carson who also said that this year had been the most successful WAA year in the association's history. Eighty-two per cent of the enrolled women students received WAA letters. In order to win a letter a student must have participated in at least seven sports. One hundred per cent of the students participated in at least one sport.

President Robert H. Stamey presented letter awards to the following girls: June Craft, Lyndell Walker, Ellen Torrence, Nancy Carson, Evelyn Ledford, Jeannie Morris, Virginia Osborne, Celia Sherrill, Jane Bishop, Colene Cook, Ann Cudd, Caroline Davis, Dene Duckett, Doris Ferguson, Frances Fortune, Barbara Hanson, Molly Primm, Nancy Setzer, Faye Smith, Betty Lee Starnes, Carolyn Throver, Elaine Walker, Joy Warren, Frances Weaver, Carolyn B. Freeman, Betty George, Rebekah Eaker, Lila Burgess. Miss Louise Moseley, faculty advisor of the WAA, presented the following trophies and pins to the individual champions: archery champion, Caroline Davis; badminton champion, Barbara Hansen; table tennis champion, Molly Primm. Pins were awarded to group winners as follows: Nancy Carson and Jeannie Morris, archery; Ann Cudd and Molly Primm, badminton; and Barbara Hansen and Frances Fortune, table tennis. The tennis tournament is still in the process of being played.

Miss Moseley also announced that for the first time the association was presenting the highest award in athletics that a student could receive for active participation, keen interest, and good sportsmanship. This award was presented to Nancy Carson.

The climax of the evening came when the intramural trophy was awarded to the freshmen class. The day students and the sophomores were never out of the picture until the last tournament. Guests at the banquet included Mr. and Mrs. James N. Fitzpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stamey, and little Miss Becky Roy, the association's mascot.
