NOT WORTH A CONTINENTAL

Money is something everybody wants but few bother to worry about how money works. As long as they have some, can go to the store and get something for it, they figure everything about money is satisfactory.

C. Canby Balderston, Vice Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, once put all this in a very effective way. He said: "In England it is understood by the majority of citizens that British firms must remain competitive if they are to export, and that unless they do export, Britishers will not eat, or, at least, not eat well."

GARDENING

For, we have to go back to the construction of our solar system.

The earth is one of the children of the sun. By what circumstance it happens that the axis of the earth is not perpendicular to the plane of its orbit around the sun, we can only conjecture. That it DOES lean at an angle of twenty-three and one half degrees is well known to all students of the earth.

Because it does lean at an angle, the North pole is turned toward the sun during the warmer half of our year, from March to September. The south pole turns toward the sun during our colder season from September to March. It is this tilted position of the earth's axis that gives us the overall temperature changes of the year.

These changes in the relation of the poles to the sun do not of themselves account, however, for the progression of bloom in plants. At the two equinoxes, spring and autumn, the length of the day and night is equal. From the middle of March to the middle of June, the days become longer, while the nights are shorter. Plans are sensitive to the relative length of day and night. The response of plants, or their ability to respond to the relative day-night lengths has become known as "Photoperiodism".

Flowers Spotted and Jotted: Mrs. Merritt Galloway and Mrs. Lloyd Shook of the Cathey's Creek Community have the loveliest potted plants.

Mrs. Wilburn Galloway, of Rosman, grows a great number of beautiful plants in pots. A true green thumb!

So long, gardeners! living and when they have to do that, they approach the little brats without the patience and loving-kindness that are essential in making decent men and women by learning and training.

Money, which can be the cause of all evil, is also essential for the production of the good.

Insect pests in the United States nullify the labor of at least 1,000,000 working men yearly.
