EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL AND ORGANIZATION

The Welfare House (Old Spindale Inn) was the scene of a lively gathering Thursday evening when a mass meeting of about thirty young men and women of the Methodist Sunday school met for a social and to hold a meeting to formulate plans for the organization of a senior Epworth League. Miss Waddell was in charge of the recreation program and in her usual interesting way kept the guests in a congenial mood with a number of interesting games. Tentative plans were made for the League organization, during a brief informal business session, and Fred C. Kinzie, Mrs. M. Watson and Clarence Griffin were elected as a nomination committee to select officers to be voted on Sunday evening.

After this was disposed of the crowd retired to a vacant room in the building and brought the evening to an enjoyable climax with a weinle roast.

The committee nominated the following officers who were elected at a meeting of the league Sunday evening: President, Ivy Cowan; vice-president, Miss Ossie Melton; recording and corresponding secretary-treasurer and Epworth Era Agent, Clarence Griffin; superintendent of departments, one, two, three and four, Ered C. Kinzie, Mrs. Max Watson, Misses Grace Griffin and Grace Ellington, respectively. Pianist, Miss Hicks.

These officers will serve until the regular annual elections in April.

BEATTY-ENGLAND

A wedding that came as a surprise to the numerous friends of both parties was that of Miss Thelma England and Mr. William Beatty, which took place Sunday, January 4th. The wedding was kept secret until the latter part of last week. The young couple are well-known in Spindale. Mrs. Beatty is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. England. Mr. Beatty formerly lived in Golden Valley section, of this county, but has been making his home in Spindale for some time. He is a brother of Mr. Carl Beatty, of the Spindale Bargain House.

SCHOOL NEWS

A Bible class of Spindale High school has been organized, being taught by Mr. A. M. Norton, high school teacher. Those taking course are: Una Setzer, Ethel Stegall, Dora Ledbetter, Bronner Harrill, Ora Crenshaw, Maude Scott, Zora Harris, Benta Beam, Lavonia Shytle, Horace Elliott and Tommie Culbreth.

The school had only a half day session Friday on account of the rain. The Spindale High school has made four New Year's resolutions. Resolved: 1. To make the last half of our school year better than ever before. 2. To live true to our motto, "To Be Rather Than to Be Seen." 3. To do everything we can for everybody we can just every way we can, and all the good we can to make 1925 a year to be proud of. 4. To do everything we can to make this community a better place to live in.

The program for Elmore Literary Society Friday, Jan. 16, follows:

Short play—Dora Ledbetter, Horace Elliott and Una Setzer.

A Paper—Edited by Ethel Stegall and Maude Stott.

Piano Solo—Plutina Boone.

Oral Story—Flora Hill.

Recitation—Francis Setzer.

Critic—Capt. B. L. Smith.

The name of the paper to be edited this week by Ethel Stegall and Maude Stott is "The Snap Shot." This paper will continue through the society programs. Each week it will be edited by different ones.

We regret to say that Miss Grace Ellington, a member of senior class of Spindale High school, is ill. She has undergone an operation for appendicitis. We hope to have her back with us soon.

An interesting program is planned for the P.-T.-A. meeting January 15. The topics of study will be "Health and Home Study."

The program follows:
Piano Solo—Miss Lurlene Hicks.
Uncle Remus Story—Mary Sue Hill.

Piano Solo—Margaret Tate.
"Health and Play"—Evelyn Waddell.

"What the Home Can Do to Help School Work"—Mrs. R. M. Hill.

"What the School would Like For the Home to Do"—Mr. A. M. Norton.

Refreshments will be served.
A committee of High school girls will care for the babies of mothers who bring them.
