Literary Club Division No. 2 Meets.

Mesdames E. O. Thomas, J. M. Edwards and Miss Princa Gaines were hostess to the Literary Club Division No. 2 at the home of Mrs. Edwards on East Main street. Mrs. J. H. Thomas, chairman, presided. After the club hymn and collect, the roll was called and the members answered with the name of some North Carolina writer. The club was proud to have the name of one of its members, Mrs. D. H. Sutton, called as a famous North Carolina writer.

The minutes were read and approved. It was then requested that each absent club member that did not notify the hostess be fine 25c according to the by-laws of the club. Several names were presented and accepted as members of the club.

A very interesting program was given on Tragedy and Comedy in North Carolina, and very interesting papers were read on the following subjects: "Sketch of Two Present Day North Carolina Playwrights (Hatcher Hughes and Laurence Stallings,) by Mrs. J. H. Thomas; "Hell Bent For Heaven"—"What Price Glory," by Mrs. R. W. Minish, and Mrs. D. H. Sutton gave a splendid talk on "Carolina Play Makers" which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Two beautiful vocal numbers were sung by Mrs. Nell Padgett Norris.

Mrs. C. A. McDaniel announced the first lyceum number which comes to Forest City, November 18. She asked all members to pledge for so many tickets which they all did and also sell as many as they could.

A social hour followed and the hostesses served a delicious salad course with hot coffee.

Division One, Literary Club.

Division one, of the Literary Club held its second meeting of the year on November 4, 1926, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Dalton, with Mrs. Dalton and Mrs. J. W. Morgan as hostesses. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Fred Webb, Mrs. B. B. Doggett, as vice chairman, most ably presided. This being the first meeting of the year as a separate unit, the club heard a reading of the treasurer's report for the summer months and attended to various business. Mrs. Barber appointed a committee composed of Miss Margaret Young, Mrs. T. G. Stone and Mrs. Rice Henry to assist in a strenuous Red Cross drive. Then each division member was asked to pledge herself for one lyceum ticket for the play of November 18, and thus assure the sale of a certain number of tickets.

After disposing of the month's accumulation of business the study of the day "Tragedy and Comedy in North Carolina," was taken up, and Mrs. Bailey gave an inclusive sketch of "Two Present Day North Carolina Playwrights (Hatcher Hughes and Lawrence Stallings.)" Mrs. Hoyle Elliott, next gave reviews of the two plays under discussion "What Price Glory" and "Hell Bent Fer Heaven." Mrs. Rice Henry next freshened our minds on other North Carolina writers with a paper on "Carolina Playwrights." It was indeed a worth while program and each "native daughter" was filled with pride to be reminded of the fact that North Carolina has produced such famed authors and dramatists.

During the pleasant social hour, the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Dillingham, and Miss Emma Dalton, served a most appetizing salad course, consisting of pressed chicken with accessories, carrying out the keynote of the autumnal season.

About all that some couples lay up for old age is a grudge.

The meanest man on earth has been discovered in a Jersey town. The local undertaker there has put a meter on the hearse.

You can always tell a man who has been paid a compliment by the beam of satisfaction that lights his countenance.

A two pound fish caught in the early spring is at least a five pounder now, if you let the fisherman tell you.

Now is the time of the year for the farmers to get plenty of advice. We sometimes pass it along ourselves.

Of course you have seen and admired the improved Ford models, but it's only by riding in one that you learn what Ford has really accomplished. No one can tell you. You must have this experience yourself.

And remember, a Ford closed model—with it's low, roomy seats and easy riding balloon tires—costs less than an open car of any other make.
