

Merry Christmas

Let us supply your holiday wants

We can still get you a National Fruit Cake. No higher in price, but higher in quality.

Swandown Flour for your cakes and pastry. It's better.

Don't fail to see our cake display of all kinds. We can please you.

It is much better to use extracts. We have full line of extracts of spices, cloves, ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg, almond, brandy, etc., for your fruit cakes. We carry the biggest line in town.

We have some nice fig and plum pudding. Call and see them.

A nice line of budded walnuts. The finest in town.

You will need a box of Oranges. They are the best. We have them in any size you may want.

How would you like to have a nice small ham, 8 to 12 pounds? Call and see them.

We have so many good things that we can not enumerate them. Why not shop early so that you can get just what you want?

We have your needs. Give us a call.

Thirteen Winners Represent Six States

Hundreds of essays covering the marketing of every conceivable farm crop in the Southeast were received by the Sears Roebuck Agricultural Foundation on the occasion of its recent marketing essay contest in Atlanta.

Through the co-operation of the various agricultural agencies, including county agents, vocational agriculture teachers and boy and girl club leaders, hundreds of essays were submitted. They were read very carefully and the writers of the two best essays in each of the six Southeastern states were awarded prizes consisting of a gold Stone Mountain Memorial Medal and a trip to Atlanta. During their stay, the party visited the Southeastern Fair, the Georgia College of Agriculture at Athens, Stone Mountain, and other places of interest.

The capital prize for the entire section was awarded to Miss Melba Sparks of Carrollton, Ga., who selected as her subject "The Marketing of Cotton in My Community."

The picture shows in addition to the prize winners, Hollins N. Randolph (rear center), President of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association, who awarded the trophies, and George C. Biggar, Secretary of the Agricultural Foundation, who conducted the contest.
