An Unpleasant Subject

All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 35 cents per bottle from Peoples Drug Store.

Find Legumes Planted In Most Corn Fields

Returning from a field trip in eastern Carolina where he inspected 1,033 corn fields in seven counties, E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at State college, reports that 55 percent of these fields had soybeans, cowpeas or some other summer growing legume interplanted with the corn.

"This is a wonderful showing and indicates that our best corn growers are realizing the importance of keeping up the fertility of their land through the use of legume crops," says Mr. Blair. "My trip was made through Wayne, Duplin, New Hanover, Brunswick, Columbus, Robeson, and Cumberland counties. This is not generally accepted as soybean territory; yet, 565 of the 1,033 fields of corn inspected were planted with either soybeans, cowpeas, velvet beans or snap beans with the soybeans being far in the lead of all other combined."

New Hanover county had the highest proportion of legumes in corn, or 64 percent, while Duplin came second with 60 percent.

Mr. Blair said as a general thing, the best and most thrifty looking fields of corn had legumes in them, while most of those on poor land, and those showing evidence of poor farming, did not have the legumes interplanted. It was also worthy of note, he said, that the most fields without legumes were found in the remote sections of the counties visited.

Some farmers argue, says Mr. Blair, that planting legumes in corn will cut the yield but results of field demonstrations does not bear this out. As a usual thing the yield of corn is maintained and the land made more fertile when the crop residues is thoroughly plowed under. Mr. Blair has some demonstrations which show an increased crop yield the following year. Planting legumes in corn is a good practice and should be more generally followed throughout the State, he recommends.

MARK TWAIN'S COMMENTS AND RESPECTS TO SATAN

I have no special regard for satan, but I can at least claim that I have no prejudice against him. It may even be that I have been a little in his favor, on account of his not having a fair show. All religions issue Bibles against him, but we never hear his side. We have none but the evidence for the prosecution, and yet we have rendered the verdict. To my mind this is irregular. It is un-English, it is un-American.

Of course, satan has some kind of a cause, it goes without saying. It may be a poor one, but that is nothing; that can be said about any of us. As soon as I can get at the facts I will undertake his rehabilitation myself, if I can find an im-petite publisher. It is a thing which we ought to do for anybody who is under a cloud.

We may not pay him reverence, for that would be indiscreet, but we can at least respect his talents. A person who has for untold centuries maintained the imposing position of spiritual head of four-fifths of the human race, and political head of the whole of it, must be granted the possession of executive abilities of the loftiest order. In his large presence the other popes and politicians shrink to midgets for the microscope. I would like to see him. I would rather see him and shake him by the tail than any other member of the European concert.—Mark Twain.

SETTLING UP TIME IS HERE.

Economists say that the depression in business which has existed for some months is by no means confined to the United States but that it is world-wide. It is probably a hang-over from the war. Every country in the world was affected by that conflict. For four years business was abnormal. In this country especially, factories ran day and night turning out vast quantities of products. Big prices for farm products induced the farmers to plant and raise huge crops. Easy money for the skilled and unskilled workman, the merchant, the manufacturer, the farmer, and most everybody caused a tremendous outburst of spending money. Folks spent all they had and then went in debt for more of the things they wanted. Extravagant living became almost universal. People lived beyond their means and made debts which they could not pay or do not want to pay. A settling up time had to come. It has come and the dickens is to pay but we will all live through it and in a few years will look back on this era as if it had been a dream.—Beaufort News.
