COUNTY AGENTS REPORT.

Rutherford County: Zeno Flack of Gilkey, one of our largest potato growers, has this year built a sweet potato curing house with a capacity of 5,000 bushels. Mr. Flack is curing and storing potatoes for his neighbors as well as for himself. He has some nice quality potatoes in the house.

W. G. Harris of Harris has also built a house of 2,500 bushel capacity. He also is storing for his neighbors. This makes a total of 18 sweet potato curing and storage houses in Rutherford county, with a capacity of around 50,000 bushels.—F. E. Patton, County Agent.

Polk County: One day was spent in going over the State Test Farm and getting a registered, 10-week-old Jersey heifer for a 4-H club member, Frederick Arledge, of the Saluda club. Frederick sold his "scrub" heifer and applied the proceeds, supplemented with some money from his dad, on the purchase price of the purebred.

During the week many farmers, who borrowed money in the spring from the government, have called at the office to pay their loans. They have been paying since their main money crops were first placed on the market. B. N. Nix, the government's field agent for this district, is here every Thursday to receive payment and advise. Every farmer who has been interviewed concerning the loan has expressed his appreciation of it and how it saved him from paying a "time" price on fertilizers, usually amounting to $5 to $8 a ton.—John W. Artz, County Agent.

Form Selling Agency To Market Poultry

A central sales office to handle poultry, turkeys and poultry products has been established with headquarters at Durham and with R. W. Galphin, formerly county agent of Pamlico County, as manager.

"For the past four years the 40 small mutual farm exchanges of North Carolina have handled some two million pounds of poultry and the growth of interest in poultry farming has shown the need for some efficient central selling agency" says C. W. Tilson, manager of the Durham Mutual Exchange and president of the newly organized North Carolina Producers' Mutual Exchange. "In some instances the small exchanges have grouped together to sell the poultry products of their members but as the work has grown, a strong central agency has seemed necessary. Mr. Galphin organized one of the first mutual exchanges in this State in 1925 and has had a part in forming others. He is known as an authority on this kind of cooperative effort."

Mr. Tilson says the new exchange will have its headquarters in the Durham Mutual Exchange building and will be partially financed by George Watts Hill, young Durham capitalist and livestock farmer. Mr. Hill and his father will guarantee the operating expenses of the central office for the first year.

The new organization will work with local exchanges in furnishing an ample supply of high quality chickens, eggs and turkeys to North Carolina consumers through local fattening, dressing and packing plants. Surpluses will be sold to the large eastern markets. The State Exchange also plans to take surplus eggs from the market in spring and sell them in the fall when prices are higher.

INJUSTICE TO ALL.

No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business in its columns. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The life of a town depends upon the live wideawake and liberal advertising business man.—American Bankers' Magazine.

Central High Loses To Marion

Rutherfordton, Nov. 16.—The football warriors of Central High school struck a winning stride against the Tryon eleven on Armistice Day. The largest crowd of the season was out to see the local team in action and they responded with a decisive 19-0 victory.

The Hilltoppers broke into the scoring column in the first period when the ball was worked down the field and Lipscomb bucked it over. No more scores were made in this half although Tryon was a continuous threat with a beautifully executed triple lateral pass.

In the last half the local eleven shoved over two more touchdowns. The first resulted from a twenty yard sprint by Jonah Taylor which placed the ball on the Tryon five yard line. Taylor bucked it over from here. The last touchdown was very much like the first in that the ball was steadily driven down the field and Lipscomb carried it over.

Central High versus Marion. Marion caught Central High with a surprise attack that netted two touchdowns and came off with a 12-6 victory last Friday afternoon at Marion. Poor defensive play by the Central High linemen gave Quarterback Bell and his mates their opportunity and one tally was registered early in the first quarter. In the second half the Hilltoppers displayed better coordination and drive and had things much their own way except for one bad break that gave Marion another touchdown. A pass, L. Lipscomb to Taylor, was barely missed by the latter and Bell, for Marion, intercepted it and raced thirty yards for a touchdown. Except for this play Central High had much the better of the argument during the second half. The defensive play of Worth Callahan was the outstanding part of Central High's play. Leroy Lipscomb, who took over the halfback post when his brother, Gerard, was injured, played a beautiful game and deserved better than a defeat. Jonah Taylor again supplied the scoring punch with a slant off tackle and a cut back that enabled him to outdistance the Marion secondary.

Central High journeys to Lenoir this week and closes the season on Wednesday of next week with their age old rivals, Forest City. The Cool Springs boys have had things pretty much their own way all season and are doped to win. However, past performances are of no importance when two such rivals meet. The game will be played on the Central High field at 2:45 p. m.

MIGHT SAVE TROUBLE.

A little advance precaution over at the Cleveland county court house might save some of the deputies considerable walking and trouble.

There is a law that says newspapermen and printers, along with several other classes of workers, do not have to serve on court juries. Under the county-wide system of drawing jurors for Superior court the names of these classes are not drawn, or, rather, are not turned over to a deputy on the list to be called. But since it has been a custom to draw jurors from No. 6 township for the county recorder's court, a deputy has been sent four or five times to summon newspapermen and printers. It doesn't take much time for the paper workers to inform that they are immune, but on occasions, when a deputy doesn't find the worker in the first trip, it means another trip and considerable trouble. Incidentally, there are times when a deputy may think that a printer or newspaperman is trying to pull something over him by explaining that he cannot serve as a juror. Seems as if it all could be eliminated with mighty little effort. A deputy doesn't get pay for his trouble in summoning one ineligible for jury duty, or shouldn't and it isn't fair to trot him about for nothing.—Cleveland Star.

Work Weary "NERVES"

Do they make you Restless, Cranky, Tired, Sleepless, Dyspeptic, Head-achy? Do they spoil your pleasure and interfere with your work?

Tens of thousands have found a way to get relief from over-worked nerves—a way so simple, so pleasant, so low in cost, that we are constantly receiving letters that say, "If I had only found Effervescent Nerve Tablets sooner." Simon Brandt writes: "I was very nervous from over-work. I couldn't sleep well, appetite was poor, and I felt weak for a long time. "Used Dr. Miles' Nerve and now feel fifteen years younger and I am working the same as I did before—fourteen to fifteen hours daily. "Sorry I did not learn about this wonderful medicine sooner as I had tried everything I could hear of, without results, until Dr. Miles' Nerve put me back on my feet."

When you are nervous, try this—put a Dr. Miles' Effervescent Nerve Tablet into a glass of water. Watch it bubble up like sparkling spring water—drink it—enjoy the feeling of calm and relaxation that follows.

In Dr. Miles' Effervescent Nerve Tablets a splendid formula for soothing overworked nerves is combined with bicarbonate of soda and citric acid which tend to correct hyper-acidity—a frequent cause of nervousness.

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford cars
Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time.

21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather.

Their individual records ranged from 73,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,233,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.284 cents a mile—less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance.

Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile.

Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy.

In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile!

Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economies. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs.

The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car.
