Mr. King is a bright and interesting young lawyer and met many of his friends of the long ago while in the city.

The presentation to 250 employees of the Southern railway of bronze medals of honor by President Fairfax Harrison Saturday marked a notable day in railroad circles in the Charlotte division of the service. The medals were given to all who had an uninterrupted service of 25 years.

The oldest man in the division, J. F. Reynolds, who has been in the service for 50 years, was unable to be on hand.

Workmen Saturday while cleaning out the old Commonwealth cotton mill at Durham, which has not been operated for several years, found what is said to be $11,000 worth of dye stuff. The building and plant was sold several months ago to the Duke Improvement Company.

A number of colored ministers of Wilmington entered a protest against the exhibition of the motion picture, "The Birth of a Nation," in that city. The protest did no good.

STILL CAPTURED.

Second Still in History of County Captured Sunday Morning.

Scotland folks drink a good deal of liquor, but most of it comes in quarts, and only every once in a while. There is perhaps as little moonshine liquor made in Scotland county as any county in the State, but even Scotland is not free from this illegal traffic.

Only two liquor stills have ever been captured in Scotland county. Several years ago, Deputy Sheriff Lamar P. Smith took one into his care and keeping, but since then there has been but an occasional reason to suspect that such an enterprise had housed itself in the county.

Some days ago, the same officer and his brother, Frank Smith, who serves as a rural policeman, received information that certain parties were receiving more corn meal than it appeared just an ordinary person not doing a retail grocery business, had need of. Now corn meal is an important factor in the manufacture of corn liquor, and the possession of too much, especially if you live close to a creek, makes matters look rather suspicious.

Following up the deduction that these extra supplies of corn meal perhaps meant the existence of a still, the officers began a systematic search. This was the program for several days and nights, but no still was found.

On Saturday evening the place was located and about six o'clock Sunday morning the Smith brothers and Mr. J. E. Wright made the raid and captured the outfit. It was practically new and from the looks of things about the place, had not been operated more than one or two times. Along with the still they found 13 barrels of beer and about one and a half gallons of new corn liquor. No one was at the still and no arrests have been made.

The still was located in an ideal place on the creek about one mile below the old Morgan water mill and about three miles from Old Hundred back toward Laurel Hill.

In a secluded spot close by the officers found a little cabin, evidently where the distillers lived, but "nobody was to home." In the cabin they found a full set of cooking utensils, mattresses, quilts, etc. This the officers burned. The outfit was brought here to Laurinburg and is carefully housed at the court house.

He is a fearless fighter for the things that are for the common good. He is a man that began at the very bottom and has by reason of his real worth risen to a position of prominence that is both enviable and most commendable.

Dunham Bundy Goes.

Monroe, March 24.—J. Dunham Bundy, Seaboard baggage-master running between Monroe and Atlanta, instituted suit Thursday in Atlanta for $25,000 damages against J. G. McHan, night clerk at the Southern Hotel in that city, for alleged slander. The petition, which was filed by Attorney W. S. Coburn, set out that McHan told several persons that Bundy had stolen a $300 diamond ring out of the hotel safe. Attorney Coburn stated that since that time a negro porter in the hotel had been arrested and had admitted the theft of the ring.

Bundy, who makes his home here is a son of S. B. Bundy, who represents the International Harvester Company, with headquarters at Charlotte.

In Cleveland county recently Harrison Cook, at work in a mica mine, 30 to 35 feet underground, was caught by a cave-in, his body pressed against a pick-handle, which punctured his bowels. Life was extinct when the body was recovered. Mr. Cook was a Confederate soldier and was 70 years old.

Meal to North Dakota.

That the Lee-Land Mill, which is owned and operated by Mr. R. E. Lopp, makes a fine product is noted in the fact that a shipment of corn meal, which this mill is noted for making just a bit better than most others, has just been made to Orr, North Dakota.

Mr. Lee has a fine equipment at his country estate in milling facilities, and a party who was visiting in Laurinburg tasted a bit of bread made from the Lee-Land meal, and was so enamored with its fine qualities that he bought a quantity and had it shipped to his far away home.

Orphan Boys.

Do orphan boys "make good?" Read this and then answer for yourself. Among recent deaths is that of Henry Cassaway Davis of West Virginia, age 93. He was for 12 years, a U. S. Senator and was the democratic candidate for vice-president in 1904 on the ticket with Alton B. Parker. Mr. Davis began as a poor boy, fatherless, who in his early teens had to support not only himself but a family. He became a brakeman on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Realizing the great possibilities of the West Virginia mountain region through which his train passed every day, he saved his wages and bought land when it was cheap. He became one of the richest men in the United States.—Our Fatherless Ones.

New Business Concern.

The Exchange has been informed that Laurinburg is to have a new business enterprise, this to be opened by Mr. Sam Epstein, who comes here from Raeford. Mr. Epstein is a brother of our townsman, Mr. Joseph Epstein. He will carry a line of fancy dress goods, notions, shoes and ready-to-wear goods, and will be located in one of the new buildings just being completed by Rev. W. C. Barrett.

More Advice.
