Happenings All Over the World in Paragraphs.

Catholic authorities in Germany have received information stating that 1,000,000 Armenians have been killed by the Turks through massacres, starvation or ill treatment.

Mrs. Mary Rozanski is being detained in Chicago on charge of ill treating her children. She is said to have sold a two and a half year old daughter to buy food for her other two children.

Lord Montagu, who recently resigned from the British joint aviation committee, stated in a speech that "Germany has 60 Zeppelins which by May 30 will be available for use against England."

Before the war Germany's capacity in rifle manufacture was only about one-third of what it is today. Additions to both government and private plants have speeded the output up to 7,000 a day, or more than 2,500,000 a year.

The German admiralty has announced that during the month of March 80 trading vessels belonging to hostile countries, were sunk by German submarines or mines. The total tonnage will aggregate 207,000.

Police of Seattle, Wash., raided a scow anchored in Seattle bay and seized 12,000 quarts of beer. The contraband was dumped into the bay. The seizure was the largest made since prohibition went into effect on January 1.

Samuel Springer, of Chicago, has been directed by the Appellate court of Illinois to pay $150 to Sol Finkel, who loaned Springer the money to pay off losses in a poker game. Springer claimed that since the loan was a "poker debt" payment could not be enforced.

The official liquor control board of Great Britain is making tests on a non-alcoholic beer. If the beverage proves genuine it will be sold in officially-controlled houses and munitions plant. The first general test will be made in the house of parliament.

Despite war expenses amounting to $6,000,000,000 the savings of the Russian nation since the beginning of the war are reported to have increased $1,000,000,000. This is held to be due to the abolition of the sale of vodka and other intoxicating beverages.

What American troopers dubbed "Villa's drug store" was among the prizes captured after the Guerrero fight. The drug store was a pack mule loaded with quinine, morphine, antiseptics and bandages. In addition, the mule carried a quantity of coffee, which the Americans consider of equal importance with drugs in maintaining campaigning.

The suit of Mrs. J. W. Coleman of Atlanta, Ga., against the National Pencil company, in which she demanded $10,000 for the death of her daughter, Mary Phagan, for whose murder Leo M. Frank was convicted, has been settled out of court. Mary Phagan's body was found in the pencil factory, of which Frank was superintendent, and it was charged she was killed there.

Reports from Wisconsin state that localities in the state have voted $1,500,000 for road work this year, which, with equal amounts from county and state funds, will probably total $4,500,000. The figures indicate that 89.1 per cent of the 883 towns in the 50 counties have voted an average of $1,078. The greatest single appropriation is the bonding of Outagamie county for $700,000.

Ben Edwards, of Trinidad, Col., is mourning the loss of a friend and a $20 bill. The friend died a few days ago and the coroner who conducted the funeral could not find in the dead man's effects any trousers good enough for the occasion. Edwards thereupon gave an old pair that he owned. Some hours later Edwards called at the coroner's office and asked that the body of his friend be disinterred. "What for?" queried the coroner. "Well," said Edwards, "there was a $20 bill in those pants, and I need it."

Patronizing Our Neighbors.

Mr. "Roe" McLaughlin, of the Aberdeen neighborhood in Scotland county, was selling cotton on our streets last Friday. He is one of the best farmers in Scotland county, and when he gets ready to sell cotton he hunts the best market. That is why he came to Rockingham. He said he could not think of leaving town without calling on the Dispatch and renewing his friendship with the editor. He is one of those gentlemen that always makes a fellow feel better by his presence. Call again "Roe," we are always glad to see you.—Fledmont Dispatch.

A CHAT WITH OUR READERS.

By a Crossroads Philosopher.

No one ever lost money, temper, character or the esteem of others, by being truly polite at home, in public gatherings, in business, on the street, in school or church.

Perhaps no class of people meet with so much or so severe criticism as teachers. Much of this criticism is unjust and exists solely because parents and others listen to unverified reports, and do nothing to acquaint themselves with the real inner workings of the school room.

Put home first and foremost; for there will come a time when the home circle will be broken, when you long for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still; and when your greatest pleasure will be in remembering that you did all in your power to put a song under every burden to make each other happy.

If you have made up your mind to live in a town, then stand up for it, and if you know positively no good, then silence is golden. Do all you can to help along every man who is engaged in legitimate business. Do not send away for everything nice you want and still expect the home men to keep a stock to suit the whim of one or two customers. The success of your fellow townsmen will be your success.

There are two little words, simple enough in themselves, that introduce untold trouble in the world and responsible for more gossip, scandal and harm than any two words in the English language. These two words are nothing more than, "They say." They have done more to ruin the reputations than all other things. If you never quote what "they say" you may be quite certain you are not a gossip.

Home is a magic word, and we seldom try to analyze it. A little Polish girl in a public school was asked recently to write a definition of home. She wrote, "A home is where people live, and where a man or somebody comes home and finds people there, and then eats!" And then eats! To how many thousands of men that is the end and aim of coming home! To how many thousands of women the preparation of the food to be eaten is the chief business of home making.

How many of our school children's parents ever visit the schools or even know the teachers when they meet them on the street? How many know what their children are studying or how they are progressing? Is there any of you who have a building to make or a fence to build; a dress to make, a house to paint or whatever the job may be, that say to the one you have employed: "Here are the tools and materials, go ahead and do it to suit yourself and it will suit me" is that not what many of you are doing with your children. You say by your actions: "Here is my child with its books, papers and pencil, I've furnished materials and tools, educate him as you like."

Young man, there is one thing you cannot do. You cannot make a success in life unless you work. Older men than you have tried it and failed. You cannot loaf around the street corner, smoke, tell stories and sponge on someone else without making a failure of life. You must learn a trade or get into some honest business. If you don't you will become a chronic loafer, and there is no place in the world for loafers. The ripe fruit is at the top of the tree and you must climb if you get it or some smart man will pluck it from you. Do something no matter how small or how low the wages, it will be a starter. Help yourself and others will help you. There is no royal road to success; will, grit and endurance are the qualities that lead to it.

Rockingham Defeated.

A base ball team representing the Presbyterian Sunday School of Rockingham, came to Laurinburg Friday and engaged the local high school team in a game of the national sport. While the visitors played a fighting game and contended for every inch of ground, they lost. It was only by one score, but that in any game is sufficient.

The locals had the game on ice with plenty of margin to loaf on up until the last frame. At the beginning of this inning the score was 7 to 5 in favor of the locals, but before the third man could be put out the visitors, by timely hitting had run the score up to an uncomfortable quarter and the only thing that saved the game from going into extra innings, was just about an inch of space between the home plate and the descending foot of Reid McAuley, who had hit one that looked like a circuit swat and landed only the above mentioned inch of being such, he making the final out in his effort to touch the home station and tie up the game.
