

ARMY JOINS STATE IN LAW ENFORCEMENT.

No Effort Will be Spared to See That Every Case of Contagious Disease in the State is Reported Promptly.

In order to secure a more rigid enforcement of the North Carolina quarantine laws the State Board of Health has added Mr. R. C. Tatum, of Coolemans, N. C., to the Bureau of Epidemiology.

The enforcement of the quarantine laws of the State is presenting one of the biggest problems before the State health authorities. For a number of reasons both householders and physicians in the State are failing to report contagious diseases as required.

The action determined upon is for the protection of the people of North Carolina and also for the soldiers in the Army. Drafted men going from counties where contagious are prevailing are carrying contagions into the camps.

CAPTAIN FALLON'S BOOK.

Young Officer Who Speaks Here Issues a Book Entitled "In the Big Fight."

Captain David Fallon, who spoke here in the interest of the War Savings Stamps campaign two months ago, has written a book of his war experiences entitled "In the Big Fight."

In the Big Fight Captain David Fallon tells of his participation at Gallipoli and in the fighting on the fields of France and Flanders.

Blood will tell, and it was a pretty rich admixture that Captain Fallon offered to his country and spilled for humanity in the world war.

It was not until Germany had stalked in its giant size, a red-stained moral idiot, through Belgium, not until this enormity of degeneracy had passed into history, that Australia took fire.

Robeson County News.

From The Robesonian. Sheriff E. E. Lewis, Rural Police-man A. H. Prevatt and Mr. F. A. Wishart captured parts of a whiskey still, 2 gallons of monkey rum and around 50 gallons of beer Friday night.

THE FUNNY PART.

Fairbrother's Everything. In the Witham district Democratic papers have openly charged Congressman Webb with being at one time pro-German—against the war and not at all in accord with the President.

But he gets in touch with his democratic friends and they advise, so it is printed, that it wouldn't be well at this time to have a party fight, and Council withdraws from the race and leaves it all for the man who has been accused of not being at all in line.

On one of these days, when party managers boss the job and tell a well intentioned man in government based on a popular representative foundation that he can't run—well, that is when the people begin to dimly see through a ladder and commence to buckle on the armor of revolt.

That North Carolina needs now and then a little political purging is understood, and it may be that this fall there will be something doing; not enough doing to defeat democracy—that can't be done this year—but enough doing to teach democracy that bosses can't hog the game.

HERBERT HOOVER ISSUES STRONG APPEAL.

Herbert Hoover, United States Food Administrator, has issued a ringing, straight-from-the-shoulder statement and appeal to the people of America.

"Our work is not yet completed. In spite of the encouraging results of our efforts, in spite of the fact that our exports of foodstuffs are constantly increasing and are approaching the minimum requirements abroad, the need for renewed devotion and effort is pressing.

"In case of meat and meat products the necessities for shipment abroad are very great. Whereas the Allied consumption has been reduced to an average of about one and one-quarter pounds per person per week, we are today enjoying an average of about three and one-quarter pounds per person per week.

"But the situation with regard to wheat is the most serious in the food supply of the Allied world. If we are to satisfy the minimum wheat requirements of our armies and the Allies and the suffering millions in the Allied countries, our consumption of wheat in the United States until the next harvest must be reduced to approximately one-third of normal.
