PHYSICIANS FINED FOR VIOLA-TING LAW.

State Board of Health Will Prosecute in all Cases Discovered Where Contagious Diseases Are Not Reported.

Two physicians of Rockingham county were last week convicted of violating the State quarantine laws, in that they had not reported cases of contagious diseases treated by them.
The matter was investigated by Dr.
A. Melf. Crouch, State Epidemiologist of the State Board of Health, these convictions being the first fruits of an energetic campaign just begun by the State Board of Health to see that the State quarantine laws are rigidly enforced throughout the State.

Dr. James L. Dick, of Stoneville, allowed an epidemic of measles to develop in his community and run its course without reporting any of the cases. Dr. Crouch found five cases which had been attended by Dr. Dick, and there were probably several others.
The physician pleaded guilty, and paid a fine of $5 and the cost of the action.

Dr. M. E. McBride, of Reidsville, attended a case of diphtheria and one of cerebro-spinal meningitis which he failed to report to the county quarantine officer. His only reason was carelessness, pleading guilty to the charge and paying a fine of $1 and the costs.

In Graham Dr. Crouch found that Dr. J. W. Taylor had treated two young women suffering from whooping cough. The girls were working in a local mill, but became too sick for work and went to their home in the country. There they spread the disease among the younger children in their own family as well among the children of a neighbor. Dr. Taylor was called to treat one of the younger children, and still failed to make any report of the disease. To escape the criminal action about to be brought against him Dr. Taylor made an affidavit that he did not know that he was treating cases of whooping cough.

CASH WINS DALLAS GIRLS.

High School Girls Quick to Tell What Kind of Husband They Prefer, and None Wants a Poor Man.

Six girls in the High school in Dallas, Tex., were asked to write what kind of a husband they prefer. They were not slow in recording their desires. Here are their answers:
No. 1—He must have a chummy roadster and earn $5,000 a year, and be must be literally inclined.
No. 2—My man must earn $7,000 a year. He must have a chummy roadster and not belong to any clubs.
No. 3—My man must have refinement and good morals; the rest can take care of itself.
No. 4—He must be good looking and a fine dancer and earn at least $10,- 000 a year.
No. 5—I want an ambitious man.
His looks and earning capacity do not matter.
No. 6—I won't marry unless I can have a lieutenant or a captain.

FARMER A REAL PATRIOT.

Sold His 240-Acre Farm, Divided Money Between Red Cross and Liberty Bonds. The Soldier
the Army.

Linn F. Hanson, a young Nebraska farmer, who decided his country needed him and therefore sold his property, bought Liberty bonds, gave to the Red Cross and joined the army.
He has received a commendatory letter from President Wilson.
Hanson had 340 acres near Wayne, Neb. Selling that and all his goods, he contributed $3,500 to the Red Cross, bought $1,000 worth of Liberty bonds and gave $1,000 to his church.
He then joined the military service and now is a member of an infantry regiment stationed at Pensacola, Fla.
During the third Liberty loan campaign he took $4,500 worth of bonds.
President Wilson has written to Hanson as follows:
Indirectly through a friend I have learned of all the circumstances of your joining the military forces of the United States and I want to send you this brief line to express my admiration of the spirit which prompted your action and to express my hope that you will continue with loving your farm and throwing in your fortunes entirely and unreservedly with the great country we all love and seek to serve.

There Will Be Coal Shortage the Present Year.

Washington, May 27.—The fuel administration "does not make any commitment of the prospect that there will be a coal shortage during the present coal year," said a statement issued in which the public again was urged to order its coal for next winter during the summer.

"The requirements for the year for bituminous coal was ascertained by the administration experts," said the statement, "and indicates that the production will fall considerably short of the necessary amount. The fuel administration is devoting its efforts toward removing as far as possible the obstacles of coal for domestic purposes and essential war industries from the weight congestions on the railroads that are sure to come with the winter season."

THIS STATE LEADING IN TUBER-CULOSIS WORK.

Front of the Fight Against the Disease Which Annually Kills So Many People in United States.

At least 50,000 more tuberculosis hospital beds will be needed in the United States within the next two years to make possible the adequate control of the disease and check its tendency to increase its ravages under war conditions as it has done in Europe during the past three years. This is the latest estimate of the National Tuberculosis Association in a recent statement. There are 43,000 beds available in the country at present.

This estimate is based on a revised conception of the prevalence of the disease as the result largely of the examination of recruits and drafted men for the Army and Navy. Until recently it was estimated that for every death from tuberculosis in the country there were five active cases of the disease. It is now believed that the true ratio is two or three times as great. Instead of about 1,000,000 active cases in the country there are probably between two and three million.

This does not mean that there has been any alarming increase in the number of cases of tuberculosis. It means, however, that new and more accurate methods have been evolved of measuring it, with corresponding possibilities of more complete control.
In the military medical examinations so far an average of about two per cent of the men of draft age in the country at large have been found to be tuberculous.

North Carolina is taking a leading place in the Nation in the fight for the control of the disease. The State Sanatorium is treating a large number each year, and through its extension work is rendering invaluable aid to a still larger number of those affected. Supplementing it are a number of county and private sanatoria.
In addition the government is now building a sanatorium at Asalep, near Asheville, that will care for more than a thousand patients at the beginning, and which will in all probability be enlarged.

MRS. SALLIE VIRGINIA STUBBS

Fee Dee Advocate.
The cruel and relentless hand of death has been placed on another wife and affectionate mother, and she has been gathered to the joyous abode of preparation for the faith.
Miss Virginia Webster was the sister of Mr. Geo. M. Webster, of Ben-nettville, and was born and reared three miles north of the city. She was born February 9th, 1855, and died May 28th, 1918, she was at the time of her death sixty-five years two months and nine days old.

Miss Sallie Virginia Webster and Mr. Lawrence D. Stubbs were married December 21st, 1871. They lived in the northern portion of Marlboro county, near the North Carolina state line.

She leaves ten children, all of them grown and married, as follows: Lillian, she married Noah Richardson.

Ella, she married W. H. Bruce.
Linnie, she married J. F. Odum.
Percy, he married Lela Wright.
Alma, she married Gilbert Odum.
L. E., he married Annie B. Odum.
Annie, she married Cleveland Odum.
Boyd, he married Ada Pearson.
Oscar, he married Ruth Paul.
Reba, she married John Jones.

There are many grand children distributed in North and South Carolina.
Mrs. Stubbs was a good woman, a genuine Christian, and for many years was a member of Boykin Methodist church. For several months she was confined to her bed and suffered intensely. She was confident that she could not recover and regain her health, time and again she prayed and asked God, if it was His will, to let her die.

On May 9, 1918, her body was buried in the Stubbs cemetery, funeral services conducted by Rev. J. L. Tyler, her pastor. A very large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives were present at the funeral. I knew her before her marriage. She was a faithful handmaiden and served her Lord and Master.

Respectfully,
J. F. G.

The British meat shortage is being felt more severely than at any time since war was started. That the shortage is not confined to meats, is shown by the fact that effective control of the milk supply is already being considered, in order to meet a possible greater shortage later in the year, and that some sections of English labor are favoring extension of the compulsory rationing system to bread, cheese, and tea.

Plan Cured in 6 to 14 Days This disease will retard more than 100,000 the skin. It is a disease of the blood and

McADOO INCREASES R. R. WORK-ERS' PAY.

His Orders Effect 2,000,000 Men and Amount Will Total More Than $300,000,000.

Washington, May 27.—Orders raising the wages of 2,000,000 railway employees and giving them back pay from Jan. 1 at the new rates were prepared today by Director General Mc-Adoo and sent to the printer, to be issued within a few days.

Mr. McAdoo based his decision largely on recommendations of the railroad Wage Commission, which proposed increases aggregating about $300,000,- 000, but it is understood he made many modifications which will result in even higher increases for some classes. At Railroad Administration headquarters it was intimated that the total increasment would amount to more than $300,- 000,000.

In working out the new schedules, Mr. McAdoo and his advisors paid special attention to complaints of thousands of railroad men given raises in the last two years, that on the wage commission's basis, they would get not a cent of increase this year.
Clerks and office employees, most of whom are unorganized, probably will get substantial increases. Liberal treatment also is expected for track employees and other low paid laborers.

A SUBLIME SPECTACLE.

From Everything.
There has been called a convention to meet in Raleigh on the 29th of this month to consider the labor situation in North Carolina. The principal idea is to ascertain how non-producers can be made to work. The esteemed Raleigh Times in an editorial has this paragraph in support of the proposition:

We do not expect the convention to result in a back-to-farm movement on the part of idlers, either vicious or indifferent; but the convention can do something, and we trust will, to relieve the workers of the excess baggage represented by those who refuse to earn a living. We are far from convinced that the convention would be wrong to ask the Governor to call a special session of the general assembly.

The convention will no doubt be composed of horny-handed sons of toll; those who farm with their mouths and who like self-exploitation. The convention will tell about the shortage of help and then proceed to resolve, and the Times hopes a special session of the legislature will be called.
Many other people hope no such monumental folly will be presented.

The farm labor is scarce because the farmer has refused to pay labor what it can earn in other channels: Farm labor is scarce because many of the boys have gone to war, but the farmer who expects to keep a strong, able-bodied man on the farm at a dollar a day and his board can't hope long, because able-bodied men are worth two and a half and three dollars at work no harder than farming.

All the conventions in the world would not secure farm work. If the idlers were arrested and convicted and sentenced to work on a farm a farmer wouldn't want a felon in his family—so he couldn't feed him and he couldn't get any work out of him.

The only hope for labor on the farm is for the farmer who gets two dollars a bushel for his wheat to give up part of it to pay the labor that helps produce it. The farmer has been living high here of late. He has received prices never dreamed of by him, and instead of holding his labor he has allowed it to drift to munition plants and to towns and cities where it gets a decent wage. All the conventions in the world couldn't help this. All the special sessions of the legislature in the world couldn't force men to work on farms unless they wanted to work on farms. The government could draft men, as a war measure, make them soldiers and put them to farming as a part of the war programme, but a state can't do it.
So the convention means nothing.
The slacker should be pilloried before the world as a slacker, and shame will have more to do with putting the idler to work than anything else.
And, truth is, there are precious few idle men in North Carolina, population considered.

Federal agents stationed in the grandstand at the interstate fair grounds, in South Bend, Ind., swooped down on a roadhouse between South Ond and Mishawaka where they arrested Bruno Hartman, the proprietor, and confiscated $5,000 worth of whisky. In using the spyglasses the Federal agents saw men go behind the roadhouse, remove some earth and then use a pump. Later they would see them lying about in an intoxicated condition. This aroused the suspicion of the officers and they raided the place. At the base of the pump under five feet of earth they found two barrels of whisky, surrounded by legs of sherry, rum, gin, imported liquors, a barrel of beer and other booze. Government operators confiscated the entire consignment, which had been carried to the roadhouse from Niles, Mich., on motor trucks by night.
