MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDS A MID-SUMMER MEETING

Dr. W. G. Shaw Presides Over Session at Sanatorium

Sanatorium, Aug. 27.—The mid-summer meeting of the Fifth District Medical Society was held at the North Carolina Sanatorium this week. The Fifth District Medical Society is comprised of the physicians of Hoke, Moore, Cumberland, Harnett, Richmond, Scotland, Lee, Robeson, Montgomery and Randolph counties. The mid-summer meeting of the society at Sanatorium is an annual occasion.

There were about fifty physicians present. Dr. W. G. Shaw, of Graham, president of the society, presided. Dr. W. D. James, of Hamlet, secretary, was unable to attend and Dr. J. G. Pate acted as secretary. Dr. Hartman, of St. Louis children's clinic, new post-graduate instructor of pediatrics at the University of North Carolina for the physicians of the fifth district, spoke to the doctors about children's diseases. Dr. W. B. Kinlaw of the Sanatorium staff, read a paper on the importance of history and the danger of ignoring it before operating of tuberculous patients.

Dinner was served to the doctors in the patients' dining room at Sanatorium.

In the afternoon officers were elected for the coming year. Dr. William E. Evans, of Rowland, was elected president to succeed Dr. Shaw. Dr. W. D. James was re-elected secretary. Fayetteville was selected as the meeting place for the midwinter meeting.

SNAKE DANCE FOR RAIN AGAIN USED BY INDIANS

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 27.—Diminished lines of stalwart, iron-muscled Hopi Indian priests, the decimated remnant of a once powerful tribe, have again danced for rain and barely preserved the traditional invocation of their ancestors.

Only six antelope priests formed the diminished chant of the Tuzantosa at the ceremonial, and 15 dancers, garbed in the savage dress of the snake clan, delivered themselves to the rituals with the sacred rattlesnakes.

Time apparently threatens extinction of the heritage of the famous tribe. The dancers this year even used fewer snakes—as though this were a lean year on rattlers.

The dance is the finale of the rain invocation, a ceremony lasting nine days. None of the priests were bitten by the deadly rattler entwined about their bodies during the dance, according to the travelers' reports, although an antidote, known only to the tribesmen, would have counteracted the poison within a few hours.

EXPERTS SEEK LIGHT ON WAYS OF WOMEN TWO THOUSAND YEARS AGO

Christiana, Aug. 27.—What is believed by experts to have been a kind of vanity box used by the women of 2,000 years ago and a neckerchief of solid gold, were unearthed recently on a farm by a peasant who gave the articles to his children for playthings.

Collectors eventually heard of the discovery and induced the children to part with their ancient toys. The articles, in the judgment of the experts, date back to about 180 B. C. The ring, of artistic though barbaric design, has been placed in the museum of Christiania university, while the vanity box has been going the rounds among experts who are eager to determine if it contained a powder puff among its appointments or, if not, what might have been in use to take its place in those days.

ARMORED MAIL CAR ON NEW YORK CENTRAL IS "ATTACKED" BY "BANDITS"

Tilly Foster, N. Y., Aug. 27.—With riot guns belching blank ammunition in all directions while brilliant calcium flares illuminated the scene, six "bandits" were routed one night recently during their attempt to hold up a New York Central train containing one of the post office department's newly equipped bandit-proof mail cars. The attack of the "desperados" and the subsequent sham battle were staged in the presence of government officials, photographers and newspaper men to demonstrate the efficiency of the car's defensive devices.

As a result of the showing made by the defenders of the car, agents of the government said that 8,000 mail coaches will be equipped with similar attachments. These consist of riot guns, firing shields, battlefield flares and shot-spreaders, super-imposed on a car built of steel. The hold-up was repulsed without casualty to the train crew, but of the six make-believe bandits, three were "killed," two were "captured," and one "escaped."
