Scraps of Humor

KNOWLEDGE

He—What did you learn at cooking school?
 She—How to wave my own hair, the best cold creams and the nicest place to go for lunches.
 He—Heavens! Is that what they teach there?
 She—No, but it is what I learned there.

So Wags the World

"It's a queer world," declared the young broker. "Only a month ago I was asking that young lady stenographer for references."
 "Well?"
 "Now her dad has come to me to furnish references."
 "Hub?"
 "Yes, I asked her to marry me last week."

He Explains

"If you had no money, why did you order $100 worth of golf sticks sent to your hotel?"
 "To make an impression."
 "But you needed clothes. Why not order clothes?"
 "Clothes wouldn't make an impression like golf sticks."

WHY HE LOVED

"Do you love me for myself alone?"
 "Sure. Who else should I love you for?"

Feminine Triumphs

The girl who leads the college crowd We follow with admiring eyes, And yet she seldom seems as proud As one who wins a beauty prize.

Method

"Why do you read the society news so assiduously?" asked the handy interlocutor or player up.
 "To see who is in town that I have bills for," replied the other half of the sketch.

Optimistic

Parson Jeff—How's everything with your wife today, Andy?
 Andy—Thank'ee, parson, it's better today. The doctor don't think she'll die until day after tomorrow.

First Shall Be Last

Edwin—You're the first girl I ever kissed.
 Anzellina—Never mind about that. I intend to be the last girl you're going to kiss.

Fishing Not Fiddling

First Girl—What air was that you were playing last night?
 Second Girl—A millionaire, and I landed him.

Dressing for It

"How is the weather today, Fie?"
 "A trifle chilly, madame."
 "Then I'll have my heavy pearls."

BUT QUITE TRUE

"Curious, isn't it?"
 "What's that?"
 "When a man aims to marry a woman, if he makes a hit, he always Mrs. her."

Ever Notice?

The poodles of the idle rich To live in luxury contrive. They may not reach a lofty pitch, But do keep busy talk alive.

Tips

Mrs. Benham—Is that our waiter?
 Benham—No; we haven't any more than paid off the second mortgage on him so far.

Natural for Them

Hubby—Have you noticed that successful men are always laid?
 Wifey—Yes, they usually come out on top.

CREDIT UNION LAW AMENDED.

Raleigh, N. C. March 9th.—Credit unions will in the future be known as SAVING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS according to a recent amendment to the law, states George Ross, chief of the State Division of Markets. The amendment also increases the power of these local organizations to borrow money, reduces the reserve to be kept on deposit in banks provides for the guaranty of contract and makes provision for a strong central organization.

FILMS THE HEART BEAT

Among the most recent electro-medical discoveries is a means of diagnosing heart ills, which is called electric cardiography. By means of electrical connections to the patient the heart is forced to contract and, according to the North and South Carolina Public Utility Information Bureau, its various reactions are recorded on a very delicate film, which, when translated, shows the exact nature of the heart illness.

STANLY FARMER LIKES LESPEDOZA HAY BEST

Albemarle, N. C., March 10—Sam Love, a World War veteran of Stanly County, although somewhat disabled from an injury to his hip, is proving himself to be very active on his farm, and very enthusiastic over the methods he is using to bring his rough hilly land into economical production, states O. H. Phillips, County Agent for the State College Extension Service.

A visiting farmer was complaining to Sam about everything going wrong about the poor season last year, his empty corn crib, his empty barn, and several horses to feed, with an exhausted bank account.

The farmer discovered that Sam's barn was full of something that had a green tinge to it. "Where did you get all that good feed?" asked the visitor.

"That is lespedeza hay, the finest hay I have ever fed and I believe it is the best hay to be had anywhere," remarked Sam. "Come on out to the barn and let me show you something." He opened the stable door and in front of the visitor stood a nice fat horse, almost too fat for spring work. "You see that horse," said Sam, "he gets only five ears of corn per day and the rest of his feed is lespedeza hay. But this is nothing, let me show you in the next stable. Here is an old horse that has not had a thing to eat but lespedeza hay since November 1st. No, sir, no corn, no oat, just good lespedeza hay."

The visiting farmer remarked, "This horse looks to be fatter than the other one." "Well," said Sam, "if you make friends with lespedeza, sow lots of seed, make lots of hay, and save enough seed to sow on every acre a small grain, you will never need to worry about winter feed, and it will enable you to make lots of improvements around the farm and home that you otherwise couldn't."

"Do you really believe all you say about lespedeza?" asked the visitor. "I believe all that and more," replied Sam.

"How about selling me some seed?" remarked the visitor.
 "No, I have sold all I have to spare, and all the local seed have been sold, so you will have to get yours from a dealer."

TARBORO MAN HAS SUCCESS WITH POULTRY

Tarboro, N. C. March 9th.—An average profit of $25 per month was made by T. W. Armstrong, a local grover, from a farm flock of about 100 hens according to records which he kept last year and recently sent in to A. G. Oliver, poultry extension specialist for the State College of Agriculture.

Mr. Armstrong reported that he started the year 1924 with 85 old hens and pullets. On March 15, he took off 250 chicks from which he raised 120 pullets and culled these down to 85. They began to lay on August first. He also bought 100 chicks in June and saved 20 pullets from this lot. The old hens which he began the year were culled down to about fifty. The total layers remaining, averaging about 100 hens and pullets, produced for him 17,123 eggs during 1924 or an average of 1,427 per month.

His total income for the year from this poultry was $764.13 or a monthly income of $63. His total expense were $457.47 or a monthly expense of $38.12. The total net profit was $306.66 or $25.54 per month.

Mr. Armstrong says that the sale of chicks and broilers helped out in the above income but the eggs alone would have made a nice profit. He secured an average yield of 150 eggs per hen during the year.

Mr. Armstrong is manager of a

Dull, Sluggish Feeling

"BLACK-DRAUGHT is our household stand-by," says Mrs. Thomas H. Kell, who lives near Ellijay, Ga. "We have been using it years and years. My mother's family used it and we do here and my four sisters do, too. I could not run my house without Black-Draught. I give it to the children whenever they need a purgative, and both Mr. Kell and myself take it. As a medicine for sluggish liver and headache, and the ills that come with constipation, Black-Draught is fine. "Lots of times I have felt dull and sluggish, my head would ache and I had to make a great effort to do my work. A little dose of Black-Draught would correct this feeling. We always keep it on the medicine shelf." Be sure that you get Theford's, the old, reliable Black-Draught powdered herb liver medicine. At all dealers'.
