BILIOUS SPELLS

Kentucky Man Finds Relief from Dizzy Attacks.

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month," says Mr. J. P. Nevins, of Lawrenceburg, Ky.

"I would have dizziness and couldn't work."

"I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple or three times, then I would be very constipated."

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything."

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and made me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and have my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work."

Made from pure, medicinal roots and herbs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for such symptoms as the above, when due to a torpid liver.

Tree Dependent Upon Insect for Fertility

The noblest and most imposing tree in the Hawaiian islands is the banyan. These trees do not produce seeds. Propagation is dependent upon one of the tiniest of insects, the fig wasp. The trees introduced into Hawaii, from Australia, China and India, are not propagated in the territory of Hawaii in that manner, and the tiny insects necessary to the production of mature fruit and seeds are not present there. The fig wasp goes into the figs for selfish purposes only. She is hunting for a place to rear her babies, and the only places that suit her are the female flowers inside the fig. She puts an egg in each flower which she selects, and in doing so, crawling about, pollinates the other female flowers with grains of pollen which were adhering to her body from the older fig where she herself had grown to maturity. The figs do not mature without the agency of the fig-wasps, and the latter cannot develop or exist without the presence of the figs in the proper condition for them. Numerous kinds of figs and banyan trees are native in many tropical countries, each having its own kind of minute insects called fig wasps to assist in seed production.

Here's Another Idea of Ancestry of Man

Most men believe that mankind is descended from one "Adam" or a single pre-human stock. Dr. Francis Graham, writing in the Forum, as a result of his studies of a type of imbecility called Mongolism, concludes that mankind is of three-fold origin.

According to this scheme, three great branches once diverged from a common stem. From one branch sprang the oranges and Mongolian and Australo-Caucasian man. From another the gorillas and the negroes. From the third the chimpanzees, and probably the Mesopotamian races.

Now, although schemes of this sort have been bitterly attacked, they do at any rate "explain" not only the occurrence of the Mongol in our midst, but the characters and incidence of certain forms of imbecility other than that we call Mongolism. If this hypothesis becomes established we shall have to admit that the population of Europe is a blend, in different proportions, of the black, the white and the yellow, and we shall find no difficulty in understanding many facts in anatomy and in medicine that have hitherto baffled us.

Tom Tarheel says the thing he likes about club work is that it causes his boy to want to go to College. Recent studies show that the child crop of the Nation as well as the food crop comes from the farms.

Answer the Call

People often think that they would like to have a piece of ground that they can call their own. This is a natural impulse and one that ought to be gratified whenever possible. It is a fine thing to have a piece of land and a house on it that you can call your home. Young men especially, ought as soon as they can acquire some real estate. It gives them a standing in the community that is always valuable and besides it is a good way to save money.

A FINE CHANCE

To acquire a piece of good real estate is offered in the West Beaufort development. Moderate prices are asked for the lots there and the terms are so liberal that any one who is earning a regular income, no matter if small, can easily acquire one or more of these lots. Those who wish to pay all cash can do so of course but if not convenient liberal terms will be given. Mr. Moore our local manager or any of the company's salesmen will gladly explain the terms.

THESE BEAUTIFUL LOTS

Are going fast. Hundreds of them have been sold and no doubt by the end of the year practically all of them will have been sold. Some who bought early have resold and made a good profit. By this time next year prices doubtless will be much higher than now. Real estate in Carteret county is on the up grade. "The Land of Enchanting Sports" is coming to the front rapidly. Wise investigators are buying property in the county in large and small tracts. They see what is coming. Now is the time do not delay.

Important

If there be an epidemic of price cutting in the industry, Overland is not concerned with it. For never will Overland be a party to any policy that involves the cutting of prices to a figure necessitating a proportionate cut in quality. The reason—and the ONLY reason—Overland Six prices are now reduced is because we are selling twice the number of these fine cars we had planned. This means huge savings in our purchases, huge savings in manufacturing.

Therefore, to keep our sales-volume at this satisfactory level, these economies are now passed on to you. Before you buy any car in this price class, don't be stampeded. Shop carefully around. Investigate all moderate-priced Sixes. Then, check your findings against this big Overland Six. As an experienced owner you must then admit that never before, for as little as $895, have you been offered so much of quality and of value in any automobile.
