WATER SPORTS SAFER FOR RED CROSS WORK

Expert Life-Savers and Many Thousand Swimmers Reduce Annual Water Toll.

Water sports in the United States have never been so safe as they are today. A survey of the work done by Life-Saving experts of the American Red Cross in the past year indicates. Thousands of adults and young people were taught to swim proficiently by these experts during this period. In addition, 5,681 men, 4,187 women, and 13,024 juniors successfully passed the rigid tests of the Life Saving Service of the Red Cross. The total thus trained during the year—22,892—is 5,041 more than last year's results. The total membership of the Life Saving Corps of the Red Cross on June 30 was 72,810 persons.

Meeting the demand for qualified instructors and counselors in these camps, are the college men and women of the country, many devoting whole or part of their annual vacation periods to this field. Meeting the need of standardized instruction in Life-Saving, First-Aid, and kindred subjects, the American Red Cross conducted nine First-Aid and Life-Saving Camp Institutes this year with a total attendance of more than 600, in Maine, Massachusetts, New York, North Carolina, Indiana, Wisconsin, Oregon, and California. Representatives of Red Cross Chapters, summer camps, life guards at municipal pools and beaches, directors of physical education in schools, and others of this calibre made up the student body.

A number of city or regional institutions were conducted also during the winter at indoor pools to develop local experts. The aquatic school conducted by the New York Chapter was especially successful. It is stated. Inspired by this system, many camps, pools, bathing beaches, etc., have adopted in whole or in part, the Red Cross Life Saving and water-safety program. In the New England states alone, more than 150 camps employ counselors trained in these methods. A partial survey indicates more than 80 cities using the Red Cross senior test as a minimum requirement for their municipal life guards. Educational institutions have turned to it with enthusiasm.

This widespread instruction besides creating unprecedented numbers of expert life-savers, is developing a vast body of Americans who are at home in the water. All contributes to safety the year-round, for swimming is a recognized all-year sport today, records show.

The danger from water accidents is ever-present however where proper safeguards are not taken and to broaden this valuable Red Cross Service is one of the reasons why increased membership in the Red Cross is urged. The Annual Roll Call, during which the opportunity to assist all Red Cross work in many lines of endeavor is extended, will be held from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, November 11-26.

Large Volunteer Work of Red Cross

Volunteers under the Red Cross all over the United States are doing constantly for others, among their products being more than 90 per cent of the Braille reading matter for the blind, and a vast production of clothing and surgical dressings.

Called Gas "Wild Spirit"

John Baptist Van Helmont, a chemist of Brussels, born in 1577, is credited with the first recorded scientific observation of gas. He noted that his heated crucibles did "beich forth a wild spirit, or breath," which he called "geest" or "geist," the Dutch and German for ghost or spirit. That is how gas got its name.

Van Helmont was searching for a means to turn base metals to gold. Had he found a method and transmitted the formula to his successors it is doubtful if the world would have been greatly benefited.

On the other hand his "wild spirit," now named and at the command of the humblest household, is a daily and hourly necessity in hundreds of thousands of homes. It supplies all the heat required in huge factories, and is equally adaptable for a single jet.

BLOCK ON BROAD STREET MAY BE PAVED SOON

The members of the town Board of Commissioners and the Mayor were all present at the regular monthly meeting on last Monday. There was not much business and the meeting was rather short. Chief of Police Longest was instructed to ascertain the cost of getting a new motor for the city truck and report to the street committee which was given power to act. The matter of paving Broad street between and Turner streets was discussed. The Chief of Police was instructed to take the matter up with the Board of County Commissioners and see if the county would bear its part of the expense. They adjourned to meet again tonight (Thursday) at seven thirty o'clock.

FARM FOR SALE—25 ACRES

Another rather interesting paper found in the box by Mr. Davis was a bill of sale for one sixth interest in a negro boy named Enoch. This sale was made by Clayton C. Garner to John S. Garner and $100 was the amount paid. The date was June the first, 1849. The bill of sale gave a warranty title for the one sixth in the boy but as the slaves were emancipated not many years afterwards the warranty was not worth much.

ANCIENT LAND GRANT DISCOVERED BY ATTORNEY

While looking over some old papers for a client of his recently Attorney M. Leslie Davis ran across an original grant bearing the date of January the 23rd. 1713. This old grant, beautifully written on a piece of sheep's skin, was from the Lords Proprietors to Edmond Gale. It was for a tract of 300 acres on Bogue Sound, then known as Newport Sound, and Broad Creek. The signature of Thomas Pollock who was then Governor of the colony appears on the document. There are several other signatures on the grant but most of them are too faint to be read with the naked eye. It is stated in the document that one half of all gold and silver found on the land must go to the Lord Proprietors. The privilege of hunting, hawking and fishing was given to Mr. Gale and he was to pay an annual "fee rent for the property.

Davis N. C.

Davis is a community of about four hundred inhabitants, situated eighteen miles east of Beaufort and soon to be connected with Beaufort by hard surfaced road.

Its people are mainly engaged in farming and seafaring, sweet potatoes, oysters and crabs being some of their specialties.

Davis has two good churches with resident pastors. A good High School and grammar school is located in the town.

Some of the best hunting grounds of Eastern N. C. are within thirty minutes by boat. Because of this fact many sportsmen visit the community in the hunting season. Carteret Gun & Rod Club and Core Sound Lodge are located near Davis.

The citizenship is composed wholly of white people who are among the leaders of Carteret County. The visitor is given the glad hand of welcome and treated royally.

As Carteret County grows in population and development, Davis, With its wonderful view of Core Sound and long water frontage is destined to continue one of the leading centers of the County.

Mr. I. W. Davis, one of the leading educators of the County, lives here and is a member of the Advisory Board of Directors of this bank. Nearly all of the Davis people who do banking business come to this bank. This business is greatly appreciated by us.
