DEMONSTRATION WORK EXPLAINED

Miss Edith Powell Gives Public Into Her Plans And Purposes Insight

Dear Folks: I call you "dear folks" because that is what you shall be to me. I have come to Carteret county as your home demonstration agent, and I am using The Beaufort News as a means of saying How Do You Do to each of you. I have the home-making spirit within me. I want, in some way, to help every person in Carteret county to have a better home.

Perhaps, I can best help you now with food preservation. If we can our fruits and vegetables now, we shall have a greater variety for the winter months; we can have a perpetual summer so far as the looks of our table is concerned. Let's do it. I am ready to help you. I am going this week to White Oak, Atlantic and Harker's Island to organize clubs, and I shall get around to the other places just as soon as I can. In the meantime, I shall be glad to have messages or visits from individuals. If you will come to see me, I shall be better able to know your needs and those of your community and to render assistance more promptly.

You would like to know, I am sure what the home demonstration agent is supposed to do. I have asked that question several times, since I came to Carteret county; so I shall attempt to tell you now. We may divide the work into four big classes: Food, Clothing, Shelter, and Development. In foods, we shall study how to can, preserve, pickle and make jelly from the various fruits and vegetables. We shall study meal-planning and menu making, that is how to prepare a balanced meal from the standpoint of nutrition. We shall have table-setting and service. Then, we shall have lessons in cooking the various dishes from soups to desserts.

In the clothing work, we shall have drafting patterns and garment construction. There will be lessons on set-in pockets and bound button-holes and the hundred and one other ways of finishing and decorating our clothing with fancy stitches. Children's clothing will also be studied.

By the general term Shelter I mean not only the roof that protects us from the weather, but I mean more than that. I mean the homey feeling one has when he enters a house. Is that house merely a shelter, or is it a home? The humblest house may be a home if there is that person in it who knows how to manage the expenditure of that part of the family income which is set aside for shelter. Now, what gives us the homey feeling when we enter a house? Is it clean; is it well-kept; is the furniture well-arranged; are the floors and walls of a pleasing and harmonious color; do you have a lot of meaningless bric-a-brac or do you have a few well selected articles which serve a purpose in the room; are your pictures selected carefully and are they hung properly? Although we may not stop to analyze all of these things when we go into a home, yet these are some of the factors which give us a comfortable feeling. Let us not forget to add that the cherry spirit of the home-maker must be added to these material factors. All of these things the home demonstration agent will present to you in the guise of Home Management, Better Homes or some such name as that.

In Development, I want to include everything about the home which cannot be classed under the other three heads above mentioned. Some of these things shall be the selection of books and magazines for the young people and for the older people; the planting of lawns and shrubbery about the house for the general improvement of the premises. Perhaps I can establish a flower exchange by which the people in one part of the county may exchange flower seed of one kind with another person who has a different kind. I think that trips to Raleigh to the Farm Women's Short Course and to the Club Girl's Short Course might also come under this head. It shall be my duty to help arrange for these trips. There are dozens of other things which I might mention here, but I shall let you bring individual questions concerning anything about the home to me and I shall help you with them as individuals.

The Home Demonstration Agents are also advocating for every farm home a year-round garden, a cow, and at least fifty hens. These things, you see, will give you better food and better nutrition. Now, the State Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Jane S. McKinnon (Continued on page four.)

The twelfth annual meeting of Group Three of the North Carolina Bankers Association will be held here on July 14th, afternoon and evening. The members will convene at the Inlet Inn hotel at three o'clock in the afternoon where some of the business of the association will be disposed of. After this session the bankers will be given a sail to Ocean Beach by the Chamber of Commerce co-operating with the local banks. After a dip in the surf a banquet will be served in the dining hall of the Inlet Inn Hotel and the concluding session will be held.

The address of Welcome will be made by Mr. U. E. Swann and the response by Mr. A. Hosea of Pikeville. Short talks on various phases of banking will be made by E. A. Council, Morehead City, W. C. Chadwick, New Bern, D. F. Wooten, Kinston, and others. An address will be delivered also in the evening but the name of the one to deliver it was not definitely decided when the News got these notes.

STATE GROWING VERY RAPIDLY GOVERNOR SAYS

Says Wealth Production For 1925 Was More Than Billion Dollars

TREASURY SHOWS SURPLUS

(By M. L. SHIPMAN)

Raleigh, July 5.—In the opinion of Governor McLean, who knows what he is talking about, North Carolina is a "growing concern." The Governor tells a New York banking publication that this state's wealth production for 1925 was one billion dollars and more. This stupendous sum includes the value of textile, tobacco, furniture and miscellaneous manufactures, forest and mineral products, crops and live stock. In addition to production figures it is pointed out that approximately $125,000,000 worth of new buildings were erected in the State during the last twelve month period. The value of manufactured products alone is placed at $953,000,000.

The Budget Bureau advanced to the center of the stage during the week and exhibited a "credit balance" of the State, as of June 30th, showing a surplus of $1,126,398 for the fiscal year ending at midnight on Wednesday. Governor McLean, who is highly elated over the showing made, explains that this balance is accounted for by the horizontal five per cent cut in appropriations amounting to $370,439 for the fiscal year and that the remainder of $755,959, "arose from the unexpected balance of appropriations provided for interest on short time borrowings and debt service, and from savings made by the various departments, institutions and other services of the state government, by reducing their actual expenditures under the appropriations allotted."

It is pointed out by the Governor that the last General Assembly estimated that the total receipts would be $12,983,678, which exceeds collections have been $12,951,974, or $32,704 above the estimate. The legislative appropriations amounted to $12,983,678, which exceeds collections by only $32,704, a remarkably fine showing for the brief period Governor McLean has directed the affairs of the State. But His Excellency suggests that the time unit of the State's finances is the Biennium and June 30, 1927, will show conditions about which he may "pat himself on the back," or admit that his methods of financing have not brought expected results. However, the Governor feels reasonably safe in predicting even more favorable conditions at the end of the new fiscal year beginning July 1, 1926.

The State Department of Revenue also talks in "large numbers." It has collected considerably more than eleven million dollars the past year and that is "not a thing to cry about" especially when it is remembered that a year ago showed the collections of only $6,246,816, with a deficit in the general fund. This record-breaking collection of taxes is made possible, it is said, by increases in tax rates and the general prosperity of the State which has increased the tax paying power. Income and insurance taxes have greatly augmented the receipts the past year. The Highway balance is also active, showing an increase of $2,251,362 from gasoline and automobile license taxes over the last fiscal year, total collections for this year being approximately $24,889,822. Of the total amount collected, according to Commissioner Doughton gasoline and automobile license taxes contributed $12,381,848.88; income, inheritance, license, franchise, marriage, bus and insurance taxes, contributed $11,207,973.97, and taxes derived from fees collected by the executive and State departments reached the million mark and more. Receivers of the TriState Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association announce that stocks of the Association will not be thrown on the market indiscriminately, but is to be handled according to modern business methods. During the week federal Judge Meekins signed an order releasing members of the organization from the requirement to deliver their crops to the Association this year. It is said that receiverships will be asked for a number of subsidiaries of the present organization of the "Co-ops" which have been operating in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

At the June meeting the Salary and Wage Commission authorized 266 raises to State employees, the total increase over year being $10,110, and allowed the employment of six.

FRONT STREET EXTENSION AUTHORIZED BY CITY BOARD

Resolution Adopted Providing For Expenditure of $100,000 For This Purpose. Three Members of Board Favor Proposition. City Affairs to be Audited

At a meeting of the city board of commissioners held Wednesday night June 30th. action was taken which is designed to extend Front street east for a considerable distance along Taylor's Creek. A resolution was passed authorizing the expenditure of $100,000 for this purpose. Those present at the meeting were Mayor Thomas, Commissioners Maxwell, Noe, Smith and Whitehurst. Commissioner Noe did not vote on the resolution.

At the regular meeting of the board held Monday the Front street extension matter was brought up and discussed again by members of the board and Mr. A. T. Gardner who was present and who argued against the proposition. Commissioner Noe offered a motion that the minutes be amended so as to show that he was against the plan and this motion was carried. Mr. Gardner contended that the property is not in the city limits, that it is private real estate development and that the town had no right to use money for any such purpose. The resolution states that one fourth of the paving expense shall be paid by abutting property. This leaves the balance and the intersections to be paid for by the town. Nothing is said in the resolution about water or sewer lines or any other expense that might be incurred. The width of the proposed street, its length and the sort of paving to be put down is not mentioned. A copy of the resolution is on file in the clerk's office where it may be seen by any one who is interested. A representative of the News was present and asked for a copy of the resolution but did not get it. As stated in the News some weeks ago a committee composed of Mayor Thomas and Commissioner Smith was appointed to look into the proposed extension. They did so and offered a report which approved the plan. The understanding is that the work is to start as soon as the necessary financial and other arrangements can be made. It is rumored that when the General Assembly meets next Winter a bill will be passed to include the new territory in the town limits, or to call an election on the matter.

At the Wednesday night meeting a report of the Water and Light Commission to the effect that the new machinery and equipment has been installed and is satisfactory was received. On motion of Commissioner Smith, seconded by Commissioner Whitehurst and unanimously passed the report was accepted and the Mayor and Clerk were instructed to notify the Fairbanks-Morse Company to that effect.

At the meeting Monday Mr. A. T. Gardner asked the board to have an audit made of the electric light and power company and also other town business. A motion was passed appointing a committee composed of W. P. Smith, A. T. Gardner and J. F. Duncan to secure an auditor to do the work. A motion offered by Commissioner Maxwell was passed which provides that if petitions are filed within ten days that paving will be done on Broad street from Turner to its west end and on Fulford street between Front and Ann. A number of bills were read and approved and the board then adjourned.

On another page in this newspaper there appears a call for bids, signed by the Mayor, Clerk and City Engineer, for water mains, sewers, fire plugs, drain pipes and paving. The bids are to be opened August the 2nd.

During the evening games and music were enjoyed after which punch and a delicious ice course was served.

CLARK WINNER IN SECOND PRIMARY LAST SATURDAY

Jesse Davis Carries The County So Does Charles S. Wallace And R. W. Wallace

MANY REPUBLICANS VOTED

Much interest was manifested throughout the county in the primary which was held last Saturday. Although it was held for the purpose of selecting Democratic nominees for the three offices at stake many Republicans openly participated in it. This despite the warning of Chairman Neal of the State Board of Elections and Chairman D. E. Langdale of the county board. Several leading Republicans worked hard to get out votes for their favorites. The total vote polled was about 3000.

As result of the primary, Register of Deeds John W. Hamilton was defeated for re-nomination by R. W. Wallace of Morehead City by a majority of 554 votes. Running for the State Senate Charles S. Wallace of Morehead City carried the county over his opponent J. S. Hargett by a majority of 1898 votes. Mr. Wallace failed to carry the district however. The News cannot say what the official vote was as it has not been able to get it as yet. Solicitor Jesse H. Davis carried the county having defeated his opponent D. M. Clark of Pitt county by a majority of 792. He lost the district though by a majority of several thousand. One of the remarkable incidents of the primary was the vote of Salter Path. In the first primary D. M. Clark got 45 votes, all that were cast. In the second primary Davis got all that were cast, 77 votes, and Clark not a single one. Register of Deeds John W. Hamilton registered a protest with the Board of Elections Tuesday as to the Atlantic vote. He claims that persons were allowed to vote who were not on the registration book. He was told that the board has no power to go behind the returns. A table showing how the various districts voted is given elsewhere in this newspaper.

SOLDIERS IN CAMP NOW AT CAMP GLENN

The annual encampment of the North Carolina National Guard is now in progress at Camp Glenn. The regiment arrived last Sunday and is under the command of Colonel Don Scott. The camp will continue all through next week. Physical examination showed that the young men were in good shape. The usual program of drills and target practice is now in progress. It is probable that Governor McLean will review the regiment the latter part of next week.

ST. PAUL'S PICNIC.

The St. Paul's Episcopal Sunday School had its annual picnic Wednesday at the beach. A large crowd attended and were well served with a delicious picnic dinner. Some of the picnickers went to the Hoffman estate which added interest to the occasion.
