REVEREND L. L. SMITH PRAISES EVANGELIST

The Reverend Carey Barker will preach in Ann Street Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at five o'clock to which service the public is invited. Our regular evening service will be called off in interest of the tent meeting and I am taking this opportunity to urge our people and the public generally to attend the services at the tent each evening so long as they may continue. Brother Barker is a fine Christian gentleman, a fine spirit, thoroughly sincere, deeply consecrated to the Lord and the Lord's work. He is conservative and simple in his methods and his messages are of a high order. He does not resort to the high pressure plans that many evangelists use but on the other hand he magnifies the Lord and the Lord's church. A great many of his meetings are held in Methodist and Presbyterian churches as well as in churches of his own denomination. I loved him as soon as I met him and our association through this week has only deepened my respect for him. I want the men of Beaufort to hear him and I want the Christian people of our community to help him and I believe he will do a constructive work for us, a work that will abide when he is gone. The pastor of the First Methodist Church of Lynchburg, his home town, says of him "All of Lynchburg respects him and believes in him for what he is and for what he is doing. He is one of the most effective evangelists I know regardless of church of denomination and does a work that appeals to the leaders of the church everywhere." Insofar as possible we want all of our services at Ann Street Methodist church planed so as not to conflict with his services at the tent. Shall we all not work together for the advancement of the kingdom and the uplift of man kind.

L. L. SMITH.

FREE WILL BAPTISTS WILL HOLD REVIVAL

Morehead City, Oct. 2—Doubtless many of the people of Morehead City recall that Reverend J. L. Welch of Nashville, Tenn., has held a meeting here before. We are very fortunate in securing his services at this time. Mr. Welch is a very strong preacher and the Pastor wishes that the people of Morehead City will take the advantage of the opportunity of at tending these services and particularly those who do not have any church affiliation. The church people of course will be present when it does not conflict with any duty they may owe to the church to which they are members.

Professor R. F. Pittman and wife will have charge of the music and song service. Prof. Pittman is in every way fitted as a choir leader, he having had special vocal instructions from many of the leading schools throughout the country. It is to be hoped that the people will take the advantage of hearing this great gospel singer.

Other announcements of the meeting will appear through the paper from time to time. Remember the time and the place, FREE WILL BAPTIST CHURCH, MOREHEAD CITY, from October 2 to November 10. Begin to make your plans now so as to be present at this meeting and what ever comes to us we shall be glad to share it with the other religious forces of the town.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE ELECT

The outstanding social event given in honor of Miss Nell Jones, whose wedding took place this week, was the miscellaneous shower given by Miss Laura Thomas at her home on Front Street last Thursday evening. Rook was played and enjoyed by a large number of Miss Thomas' guests. After a number of games, a delicious ice course was served. While guests were engaged in a lively chat, Miss Thomas brought in a bride's chair, trimmed in white ribbon, and decorated with brides in long veils. Miss Jones was seated in this and was then presented with a miscellaneous shower, of most attractive and numerous gifts.

Miss Thomas' guests were: Mesdames W. G. Mebane, H. C. Jones, Sr., H. C. Jones, Jr., B. L. Jones, Dave DeNoyer, W. A. Mace, S. A. Thomas, B. A. Cooke, R. L. Tillet, Willie Wale, J. A. Hornaday, W. V. BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to six Mrs. W. G. Mebane, entertained at bridge and rook, having as her honor guest Miss Nell Jones, whose wedding was one of the social events of the week. Covers were laid for six tables of bridge and rook, on the porch and living room of her home. Japanese sunflowers were predominant in the flowers used on the porch, and in the house. After several progressions, the bride elect was presented with a piece of lingerie, and the top score prize for bridge deck of cards went to Mrs. Otis Moore. At the rook table, Mrs. H. C. Jones,

MR. LESTER A. KOBE AND MISS ERMA TAYLOR WED

Morehead City, Oct. 2—A wedding of much interest, took place in this city Sunday morning at 10 o'clock when Miss Erma Taylor of Bogus became the bride of Mr. Lester A. Kobe of Powell, Wyoming. The ceremony took place at the Methodist parsonage in the presence of a few intimate friends with Rev. B. I. Slaughter, officiating. The marriage was the culmination of a courtship which began when Mr. Kobe was employed by the government, was a patient in the Morehead City Hospital during the stay here of the U. S. Geodetic Survey boat here two years ago.

The bride is a graduate of the Morehead City hospital. She was attractive attired in a brown traveling costume with hat and shoes to match.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left of Wilmington where

POPULAR COUPLE WED

Morehead City, Oct. 2—Miss Josephine Willis of Swains, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willis and Clinton Vance Willis, son of W. C. Willis, were united in matrimony Saturday evening at eight o'clock at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Damons.

A few invited guests were present. The bride was attractive in a costume of independent blue georgette with accessories to match.

The young couple returned to the city Sunday to make their future home.

The bride for the past several months has been a student nurse in the Morehead City Hospital and has many friends in the city. Mr. Willis is employed by Mr. Holton, interior decorator and is popular among his many friends in the city.

Men like these are testing your car

It used to be the custom for a man who wanted to buy a car to take a mechanic with him.

Today, General Motors itself employs skilled automotive engineers to make it easy for you to select your new car. These men are working for you at its Proving Ground—the 1268-acre outdoor laboratory in Michigan where every kind of car is tested.

Before any General Motors car goes into production, a fleet of advance models is constructed and sent to the Proving Ground. There these advance cars must meet every test—tests far harder than you would make. Sometimes they are rebuilt, redesigned, retested many times until they are pronounced right, and ready to be put into production.

The tests involve speed, power, endurance, braking, riding comfort, handling ease; fuel and oil economy; body strength and safety—every phase of car construction and performance.

Buying a car is easy today—because these men at the Proving Ground are working for you to assure you of value when you select a General Motors car.
