LIVE-AT-HOME WEEK

Our school motto for this week is Live-at-Home. All classes are considering the different phases of this topic each day. This live-at-home program has for its main purpose the encouraging of all of us engaged in farming to grow for ourselves and to supply ourselves with all the food and feedstuffs and livestock products necessary for family and farm consumption the year round. Each pupil has grasped the idea and seems to have also realized its importance. On Tuesday morning our chapel services were converted into a Live-at-Home Celebration Assemblage. A very interesting program was given of which the following were participants:

- School—Star Spangled Banner.
 - Prayer—School.
 - Meaning of Live-at-Home Week—Thelma Williams.
 - Carolina Moon sung by—School Trio.
 - Talk—"Importance of the Cow"—Mr. C. C. Reed.
 - Reading—Barefoot Boy—Jaunita Vann.
 - Song—"Ho! for Carolina"—School.
- The program was enjoyed by all. Among the visiting patrons present were: Mesdames Nancy Pickett, Emma Chadwick, Hettie Ward and Julia Windley.

SECOND GRADE

We are taking very much interest in our spelling class. We are learning to use all our words in sentences. The first part of our class period is used for writing or spelling oral. When a word is misspelled, we add it to our study list and learn it correctly before the period is over. The following persons have made perfect marks: Naomi Fulford, Evelyn Nolan, Jennie Jones, Ethel Sutton, Guy Copes, Samuel Windsor and Mary Rosemond Anderson.

GRADE III—READING

There seems to be an increasing interest shown in our Reading classes. There are certain definite worth while things which we have achieved this year. Among them are, the ability to appreciate good literature, prose and poetry and the habit of reading them. We have acquainted ourselves with a variety of stories and poems. Our lessons are so assigned that in studying we must look for some definite thing, therefore acquiring the habit of reading for information. Not only do we read for information, but we also read for pleasure.

Those making the highest average in Reading last week were: Randolph Johnson, George Dennis, James Fulford, Muriel Oden, Lucy Fulford and Odessa Winley.

FOURTH GRADE—SPELLING

We are still learning many interesting new words in spelling. Besides this we are striving every day to earn a gold star which means excellent. Some days each row earns a gold star and then on other days we succeed in earning the next highest which is a blue star. The record for the past two or three weeks has been almost perfect. Rows one, two and five have been in the lead. The members who compose those rows are as follows: Row one, Elinora Debrix, Pearl Chadwick and James Anderson. Row two, Joseph Parker, Emple Jones, Mary Chadwick, Edward Jones and Alexander Simmons. Row five: Samuel Chadwick, Albertus Williams, Edith Matthewson, Elizabeth Chadwick and Johnny Ward.

GRADE XI—GEOMETRY

We are now studying the geometry of finding the area of triangles, parallelograms and trapezoids. It is interesting to note how the areas of these figures are based on the well known fact that the area of a rectangle equals a base times its altitude or in ordinary language the length times the width. First the area of a right triangle is found by showing that it is one half of a rectangle, therefore the area is equal to one half the base times its altitude. The area of any triangle may be found by dividing it into two right triangles, the area of a parallelogram and trapezoid may be found by showing that they are equal to the sum of two triangles. These principles are very useful in the field of surveying and engineering. Bessie Stanley, Jaunita Wesley, Thelma Williams and Icelena Bazemore are doing excellent class work.

NINTH GRADE ENGLISH CLASS

We have been studying that form of literature which deals with the supernatural and many wonderful adventures, the Romance. One specific example of this form is "Quentin Durwood" by Sir Walter Scott. At this time we are concerned with the novel, in which we discover real people who find themselves confronted with real situations which they enjoy as we do.

We have learned the name and author of the first novel. The first Novel of note was "Pamela" by Samuel Richardson. Another claims our attention that of Henry Fielding entitled "Tom Jones." The very interesting and thrilling novel which we are reading is "Silas Marner" by Marion Evans, more commonly known in the literary world as "George Eliott." She doesn't concern herself with the deeds of her character but she is interested in the "Why" of the deed. The inner life is emphasized rather than the external. We find "Silas" very interesting. Some seem to feel the things which he felt. These are Gertie Ellison, Ella Sparrow, Mildred Fulford, Sallie Fulford, William Stanley, Charles (Fulford) and Mattie Mason.

Says Food Forms Character

Characters are formed by the things people eat, according to a man who is trying to start a "good" food movement in Europe. Those who eat oysters become lazy, he says, while crab gourmets develop crawling natures and winkle addicts grow frivolous. And eaters of turkey are hopeless in his estimation.
