Municipal Water Tank Being Re-painted Now

Workmen have begun the annual cleaning of the municipal water tank and in a short while they will begin painting it. This job is a rather precarious and difficult one. Every year or so the city has the rust removed and it is given a fresh coat of paint. At the same time, if any repairs are necessary these are made. Men working on it look dwarfed and at this season it gives the appearance of a metropolitan skyscraper under construction. When the workmen hit the tank in the process of removing the rust, the stroke is echoed and re-echoed to all parts of the community.

WADE'S THEATRE INSTALLS NOVEL "OCEAN BREEZES"

Wade's Theatre of Morehead City has just installed a new cooling system by which the auditorium is kept pleasant by a constant circulation of air. Manager Duffy Wade calls it the "Ocean Breezes;" and it is very rightfully named, for it is literally like the breezes straight from the broad Atlantic. So strong is the circulation of air that the curtain which divides the entrance from the main hall has to be fastened down to keep it from fliriting in the wind. This is the latest innovation in any of the picture houses in this section.

HOWARD GASKILL MARRIED IN KENLY LAST THURSDAY

Kenly, June 27—In a ceremony characterized by beauty and charming simplicity, Miss Mary Lee Hooks and Mr. Howard Vernon Gaskill were married Thursday evening at seven o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Kenly. Rev. J. H. Frizzelle, pastor of the bride, officiated, using the ring ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate family and close friends.

The wedding took place in the living room of the home which was decorated throughout with summer flowers, carrying out a color scheme of green and white. Lighted tapers added to the effectiveness of the setting.

Just prior to the ceremony Miss Selma Grey Hooks, sister of the bride, played Traumerel, by Schumann. To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the couple entered and took their places before an improvised altar of fern and Shasta daisies where the vows were spoken. The bride was attired in an ensemble of Independence blue georgette with accessories to match. She wore a shoulder corsage of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Fewer Fires During Last Twelve Months

The Beaufort Fire Department has exceeded all prior records during the past fiscal year which ended Monday and the firemen think that they have established a record throughout the state—at least in towns of this size. With superlative fire-fighting equipment, which includes the American La France and Graham Brothers trucks, the firemen are able to successfully combat almost all the blazes that would endanger this community.

During the last half of 1929 and the first half of 1930 the local fire department answered two-dozen alarms. Of this number three were false; four were assists—three at Morehead City and one at Atlantic Beach; and five were unnecessary—such as explosions of stoves and lamps that were extinguished before the firemen arrived on the scene. No water was used on any of these fires; one hundred and twenty-five gallons of chemicals were used in putting out a dozen fires. In that twelve-month period, fires endangered property totaling $43,650, while there was a loss of only $250. A representative of the Southeastern Underwriter's Association came here some two months ago to investigate the fire fighting equipment and the insurance rates which were said to be somewhat higher than they should be. He confirmed the conjecture and informed the city officials that this community has the best fire record of any town he has been in of late. Beaufort has a right to be proud of its local volunteer fire-

Former Beaufort Girl Marries In New York

(Greensboro News)

A marriage of cordial interest to Greensboro and other parts of the state took place in New York city at noon yesterday when Miss Mary Elizabeth Norcom, of Greensboro, became the bride of Newman Montross Horton, of New York. The formal announcements which were issued Saturday read as follows:

The ceremony was solemnized at the Little Church Around the Corner with only a limited group of immediate relatives attending. Mrs. Charles Norcom of Greensboro, mother of the bride, was among the wedding guests.

The bride wore an ensemble of navy blue crepe with accessories of navy. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of Sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

After the nuptials Mr. and Mrs. Horton left for an extended trip through the northern states and Canada. They have taken an apartment in Forest Hills, L. I., where they will be at home after September 1.

Mrs. Horton is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norcom, of 217 South Eugene street. The family came to Greensboro six years ago from Beaufort. The bride attended Greensboro college and took special work in music at North Carolina college. Mr. Horton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Horton, of Peekskill, N. Y., and is connected with a Wall street bonding company. He is a graduate of Dartmouth college, Dartmouth, N. M., where he was captain of the 1927 football team. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

"QUALITY"

Some persons buy for price—some for fashion—and wise persons for quality! Because bound up with quality are the best aspects of the all three.

And the less you have to spend, the more vital it is to buy wisely. Whenever you buy on the basis of quality and not price, you save from the first to last.

We have always maintained that quality is the foundation of a successful business. We like to think that this is reflected in everything about our business.

When you buy building material, you expect to use it a life time. You are not satisfied unless it stands the demands you put upon it, and still looks well. If you choose a house of good material, well built, of good design it will give satisfactory service.

When you build it is important to you—that you don't spend a dollar needlessly. That you get just what is needed to make a suitable building. That the grade of material be proper. And that the cost is right.
