

PROF. EDGAR S. WEAVER

Prof. Edgar S. Weaver, who is performing some of the most miraculous things in the way of restoring the lost health of sufferers and bringing happiness to the perplexed in this and other sections was a visitor to this office.

In speaking of the mind's influence over the body, Prof. Weaver, stated that this knowledge is the first step toward obtaining bodily efficiency through the mental control of bodily functions. A careful study and analysis of the bodily mechanism is of practical importance which the mind acts in its relation with the world at large. All human achievement comes about through bodily activity. All bodily activity is caused, controlled and directed by the mind. Nature is everywhere working out problems for your welfare through thirty different kinds of cells, each having its special function. We have muscle cells, with long, thin bodies like peapods, who devote their lives to the business of contraction; their hair-like connective tissue cells; whose office is to form a tough tissue for binding the parts of the body together; bone cells, whose life work it is to select and assimilate salts of lime for the upkeep of the joints and framework; hair, skin and nail cells in various shapes and sizes, all devoting themselves to the protection and ornamentation of the body; gland cells which give their lives, a force of trined chemists to the abstraction from the blood of those substances that are needed for digestion; blood cells, liver cells, lung cells and various other cells.

It can be clearly seen that every human body is an exceedingly complex association of units one and inseparable. The whole body is composed of cells, each cell is an intelligent entity endowed with mental powers commensurate with its needs. The fact that every cell in the body is a mixed cell shows that the body, by the very nature of its component parts is peculiarly susceptible to mental influence and control. An examination of the body reveals a central mental organism, the brain, composed of highly differentiated cells whose intelligence, as in the case of other cells is commensurate with their functions. It reveals also a physical mechanism the nervous system, peculiarly adapted to communication of intelligence between the central governing intelligence and subordinate cells. The existence of the mind organism and this mechanism of inter-communicative is additional evidence of control and direction of bodily activities by mental energy. The brain constitutes the organ of control governing intelligence and the nerves are the physical means in bodily intercommunication.

Brain and nerves are in other words the physical mechanism employed by the mind to dominate the body. Single nerve fibres are fine, thread-like cells. They are so small as to be invisible to the naked eye. Some of them are so little that it would take twenty thousand laid side by side to measure an inch. Every nerve fibre in the human body forms one of a series of connecting links between some central nerve cell in the brain or spinal cord on the one hand and some bodily tissue on the other.

All nerves originating in the brain may be divided into two classes as they carry currents to or from the brain. Those carrying currents to the brain are called sensory nerves, or nerves of sensation. Those carrying currents from the brain are called motor nerves or nerves of motion. Another broad division of nerves is into two great systems. There are the cerebro-spinal system this system, includes all the nerves of consciousness and of voluntary action. All nerves running between the brain and the spinal cord, on the one hand and the voluntary muscles on the other. The second is the sympathetic nerve system consists of all the nerves of the unconsciousness or functional life. In conclusion Prof. Weaver said think now of the opportunity offered sufferers of learning the exact truth. You will have no doubts, you will be greatly inspired with the faith that is born of knowledge.

present administration have been neither faithfully nor efficiently conducted and managed; that there has not been any evidence of an honest and sincere effort to fully and properly safeguard the public interest, in that: the present governing authorities of the county have wilfully and deliberately failed and refused to undertake to transfer to the State Highway Commission the road burdens and problems of the county and by such failure and refusal have permitted to remain upon the tax payers of the county a tax burden that through such transfer would materially have been relieved; that it is the opinion of this convention that such transfer of the public roads to the State Highway system could and would have been affected had the said governing authorities exerted any effort or energy to that end. It is also the sentiment of this convention that such transfer of roads was not made or attempted to be made for the sole and only reason that the said governing authorities of the county now are and during all the time of their incumbency have been seeking to build and have been building around its road force and employees a political machine not for the purpose of improving the roads and highways of the county, but for the purpose of smothering out political entanglements and crushing political opposition; and that the citizens and tax payers of the county as a whole have been caused to suffer and do still suffer through such political maneuvering, and which this convention does now wholly and fully condemn and does call upon all public spirited citizens and all citizens interested in safeguarding the economic life of the county to condemn as well.

3. (a) The efforts of the present Board of Commissioners to slander and abuse former officials and employees of the former Democratic administration, through indictments procured and criminal prosecutions instituted, this convention denounces and condemns as efforts not towards the avenging of any alleged wrongs, but for the purpose of reflecting upon the professional, social and political standing of the persons so accused and to the end that they themselves might be lifted up by the pulling down of their political antagonists. It is the sense of this convention that the criminal actions referred to were not brought in good faith, were without basis or justification in fact, and were not instituted for the purpose of serving any useful public ends.

(b) This convention does not countenance nor condone any extravagance or irregularities of any kind in the conduct of public affairs whether done or committed by this or any other administration. If there has been such on the part of the preceding Democratic administration, and there is or can be produced evidence justifying any civil actions or redress, then it is the sense of this convention that such actions, whether presently instituted or in contemplation, should be proceeded with to the end that the public interest might be fully protected, this convention taking the position that the public good is entitled to first consideration over that of any political party or parties. This convention, however, does not approve, but does strongly condemn, the act of the present governing authorities in the expenditure of enormous sums of money from the public treasury and paying, rather indiscriminately, lawyers, engineers, chemists, public accountants, and others, without first having ascertained from information either at hand or readily available, that such contemplated legal actions could be justified. It is the sense of this convention that the public schools of the county, and other county departments, have been caused to suffer for lack of financial assistance which readily could and would have been provided had not those in control of the affairs of the county been more ambitious to cast aspersions on their predecessors in office than to render necessary relief to public institutions.

Be it further resolved that this convention do memorialize the incoming Legislature to exert its best influence to the end that the tax burden, now laying so heavily upon the lands of the State, be lifted, and that new sources of revenue be found to lighten the present disproportionately heavy local tax.

5. Be it further resolved by this convention, that as good democrats, we lay aside our pre-primary partialities and regardless of whether or not our preferences have been the party preferences, that we wholeheartedly and with all of our strength support the party nominee in the November election.

Finally, be it resolved: that in the name of the suffering public of Carteret County, and in the name of all good citizens of whatever rank or station or political creed, this convention does here and now indict before the bar of public opinion of Carteret County the present Republican regime of the said county, holding it accountable and responsible to the people for its betrayal of public confidence reposed and its violation of public trust committed, and do call upon all of the electorate of Carteret County on the 4th day of November, next, to sit as jurors in judgment upon this present Republican regime and say by their ballots that it has been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Respectfully submitted,
BEN F. ROYAL,
W. H. BELL,

ANOTHER STEP IN SCHOOL DISPUTE

WHEREAS, The County Board has failed to work out a satisfactory plan of financing the ninth month for the children of said outside districts, and WHEREAS, Our Board has from year to year, since that time, faithfully and consistently made every reasonable effort to take care of the ninth month by means of a tuition charge to partially cover the cost, and WHEREAS, This plan has become more and more difficult each year until it is working an unusual hardship on our Board and causing unjust and unreasonable criticism of our Board when we have made unusual sacrifices financially and otherwise to continue the plan, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That it is the purpose and desire of our Board to cooperate in any reasonable way with the County Board of Education in providing educational facilities and opportunities for the children from said outside districts. We feel, however, that every reasonable thing has been done by our Board to continue successfully the plan that has been in operation for the past few years, but that the limit of endurance has been reached. We believe that, since the extra month is necessary for the completion of grade work in our school, the financing should be provided or arranged for by the County Board of Education if they desire said children to continue in our school after the expiration of the eighth month term.

RESOLVED SECOND, That our chairman be authorized and instructed to notify the County Board of Education that we shall be glad to continue the admittance into our school of the children from said outside districts provided the County Board will enter into a contract with our Board to assume all responsibilities of providing the financial arrangements for said extra month, said contract to be in writing and agreed to by both boards.

RESOLVED THIRD, That in case the County Board does not contract to guarantee satisfactory financial provision for the extra month, it is for the best interest of both boards and the children concerned, that our present arrangement be discontinued and that our Board must decline to admit the children from outside districts.

RESOLVED FOURTH, That the County Board be requested to advise our Board at once if arrangements can be made to continue said children in our school.

Read and passed by the Board of Trustees of Beaufort Graded Schools in regular meeting held this 19th day of June, 1930.

U. E. SWANN,
Chairman—Secretary.
