

A Newsy Trip Around The World

By Elizabeth Saunders

At Olmutz, Czechoslovakia, as Leopold Grund stood at the altar waiting to be married, he went mad with hydrophobia from a dog bite weeks before.

Forty-five years ago, three couples were married at a triple wedding at St. George, Utah. The other day this same sextet—Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Lowry and Mr. and Mrs. N. Crawford—all alive and well, celebrated their wedding anniversaries.

Down between Murphy, N. C. and Gainesville, Ga., is Neel Gap, Ga., one of the most beautiful and scenic spots of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Attached to a tree at the gap is the following notice: This is God's County. Don't let Forest Fires Make it Look Like Hell.

At Cleveland, George Stevens, 35, in jail for killing his wife, was refused a parole when he appealed on the grounds that it was his first murder.

Women are not allowed to swim in St. George's swimming pool in London, England, unless they wear a swimming cap.

At Salem, N. J. William McCausland, paymaster of Salem Glass Works, saved the company's $5,000 payroll when three thugs shot him, at tempted to wrest the money-pouch away, he fell, rolled upon it. Workmen found him dead.

They never get too old for love! In Yorkshire, England, the Rev. Thos. Francis Hammond has married for the fourth time at the age of 85.

They tell this one on the woman in New York City who became angry with a traffic cop while she was driving her Austin, so she stuck out her tongue and wiped off her windshield at the same time.

In Chicago, police stopped a suspicious looking automobile after a long chase found that what they thought was a woman being abducted was only a department store window dummy.

In Canton, Ill. Lonnie Foote, 2, liked to play with little pigs, crawled thru a fence into a field where twelve sows and their litters were kept. His body was found, arms severed, partially devoured.

A year of church attendance or a term in jail were the alternatives presented to Frank Sipes, youth of New Hope, Va., convicted of petty larceny. Sipes took the church sentence.

A memorial service at the Milan, Tennessee High School in memory of Mrs. John Loving and three others listed as the "honored dead of the class of 1899" was spoiled when Mrs. Loving learned of the service and attended in person.

At Dover, N. H. Maurice Tuttle returned empty-handed from hunting partridge, found his wife had killed and cooked a wounded one which she had found on the roof.

The first $5 note issued by the United States Treasury is owned by A. D. Millhouse of Murphysboro, Ill. whose father obtained it in 1852. The much stained and frayed bill bears the date of March 10, 1862.

For a month Lee Washington's horse lived at the bottom of a 16-foot cistern on a ranch near Stevensville, Mont., and appeared little the worse for his experience when discovered and freed.

Believe it or not, but Don White Jr., of Yuma, Ariz., cut four teeth and was in need of a hair cut when only one week old. The baby is growing rapidly.

Farmer George Bryant of Shelbyville, Ky., saw his hunting dog run under a culvert, heard it bark loudly. Following he found five steel safe deposit boxes containing $3,200 in bonds, stolen last month from a bank at Leipsic, Ind.

A crock containing gold coins was dug up by a farm laborer at Aguas, Portugal, Experts indentified the "crook" as an urn dating from the Roman occupation. Some of the coins bear the effigy of Augustus Caesar.

Beset by 100 townsmen in Tepic, Mexico, when he ordered them to surrender their arms, Commandant Nicholas Bernal staged a one-man battle lasting 29 hours last week, wounded 30 of his assailants was killed by a bomb.

When John Martin and Daniel Snider, aged men of Warkworth, Canada, were found missing for several days it was thought they were lost. They were found in a room of a vacant house playing checkers. A series of chalk marks on the wall recorded the number of games they had played.

A hairpin driven through the skull into her brain when she fell from a chair while hanging curtains, caused the death of Mrs. John Kunz, 46 of Mellen, Wis.

In Newark, N. J. John E. Gallagher, 62, veteran steeplejack, fell

Rainy Day Helps

WHEN a rainy day descends upon us and there are so all children in the house who cannot go to school and who still cry, "Mother, what shall we do now?" what would we not give for some fascinating "treasure chests" to which we could turn in these helpless moments. Well, we may have them and they may be very helpful to the children at the same time. The treasure chests need cost us nothing and they may be inexhaustible.

Save a wooden grocery box or any other one of substantial qualities. Drop into it from time to time things like clean milk bottle tops, long dull nails, empty spoons, bits of bright-colored cloth, pieces of string, tin foil, easily handled card-board boxes, smooth blocks of wood, pieces of wire or, in a word, any kind of harmless material that comes our way. Enlist the children's efforts in saving these things for the treasure chest and then when a rainy day comes around open the cover and give the children the privilege of using the material inside in any way they want to. They will find enough to do with it to last them many hours.

Another sort of treasure box for very little children may be kept, containing odd bits of paper of different colors and sizes, pieces of string of different lengths, buttons too large to be swallowed and of varying sizes. These things may be sorted according to their colors and characteristics and the sorting process will go on over and over again with perfect fascination.

Perhaps the greatest of all treasure chests for children is the one formed from mother nature's own lap which is filled with all kinds of usable and fascinating material. To mention a few only: horse chestnuts, reeds, seeds of the larger variety, pods, shells, (heavy ones for matching and building, thin ones for piercing and stringing) acorns and their cups, burdock burrs for older children, potatoes with toothpicks, pine cones, and countless more which the children will delight to collect for the chest. Paints, paper, scissors, paste and crayons for supplementary material with any of our chests and a firm resolve to let the children alone in executing the play to result, and we have built up for ourselves a never-ending source of creative, constructive play that will not only give the children aid in their development but ourselves many hours of saved energy and distress in finding them occupation.

The Philippines

The Philippines, farthest away possession of the United States, contain 7,083 islands, over two thousand of which have names. Their total area is about the size of Arizona and the total population exceeds ten million. Civilization and sanitation which followed American acquisition have been paying increasingly large dividends in recent years through commercial enterprises and interchange of trade.

"My 10-year-old daughter had no appetite. Then we gave her Vinol, and now she eats so much we are amazed."—Mrs. W. Joosten.

Vinol supplies the body important mineral elements of iron, calcium with cod liver peptone. This is just what thin, nervous children or adults need, and the QUICK results are surprising. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Vinol tastes delicious.

Bank Examiners

This bank is operated under authority of the State of North Carolina. State bank examiners are sent at least once each year without notice to us to check over our business.

On November 12th and 13th two expert examiners made a thorough examination of our bank and seemingly were satisfied as no changes in management were suggested to us.

Keep your money with us and help us to help the community by lending to those who need help and who have good sound security.

Your Life Insurance Program

Your policy in this Company testifies to your belief in life insurance. May we suggest that you consider whether your life insurance Program has kept pace with your insurance needs and your savings plans.

You may desire to add to your Program for one, or more, of the following purposes.

- To accumulate for your own independence.
- To provide continuance of your salary for a definite period.
- To guarantee funds for education of your children.
- To protect your mother or father.
- To assure a life income to wife or child.
- To cancel the mortgage on your home.
- To provide annuities for self or others.
- To enable you to acquire the interests of a deceased partner.
- To leave a bequest to deserving employees of your favorite charity.

Life insurance is the only plan that will guarantee funds for you if you live, and if you die will pay to your dependents what you would have accumulated had you lived.

In November each year special attention is given old policyholders. Our field men are requested to call to give any policy information or advice needed and further enlist their cooperation for the general good of the Company.

FROM BETT'S INSURANCE REPORTS, 1930

This Company is mutual, and is controlled by its policyholders. From the inception of the Company its methods of management have at all times merited commendation. The Company has had a moderate, steady growth. Policyholders' surplus is sufficient for all contingencies, and the reserve basis is very strong. Expenses are low. The mortality rate is very favorable. Its investments are of good quality, consist mainly of mortgage loans, and yield a most excellent return. The policy contracts are on standard forms. The Company pays claims promptly. The dividends paid policyholders render the net cost of insurance very low. Our general policyholders' rating of this Company is excellent.
