A Newsy Trip Around The World

By Elizabeth Saunders

Faced by heavy debts and curtailed earnings, Cramer Sexton, 70, furniture dealer of Memphis, Tenn., shot himself to death in order that his wife might collect his insurance as her only hope of income.

In Fall River Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cavalho who recently celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary, are the parents of 24 children. The couple were married when each was 15. Page Margaret Sanger!

Twice in one day the phone rang in the Grand Crossing station in Chicago, and twice a lady's shouts rang in Desk Sergeant Thomas Ryan's ear. Then the phone rang again. "Sorry," said the lady; "it was a mouse, but I got it."

Summer sport should be good around Reno, Nevada. Washoe Lake, was almost depleted of fish by the drought last year. It is being stocked with 10,000 catfish, and prospects for a lot of water, due to heavy snows, are good.

When two masked bandits walked into his grocery store in San Francisco, snatched 10 hams from a display case, Dante Gigili only laughed. The hams were wooden counter displays.

In Tacoma, Wash., Dr. David Cowan's patients couldn't pay him, but they sent him 300 sacks of potatoes, 50 boxes of apples and 12 bushels of wheat.

Ohio Wesleyan University athletes are taught tap dancing to develop rhythm and coordination. The course is compulsory for those who intend to become coaches.

In Seattle, Wash., Michael Miller, night watchman, saw a dark hull in a department store. It seemed to sway, Michael Miller shot, then advanced. His bullet had pierced the head of a stuffed bear, mounted on rollers.

In Duluth, Andrew Maki, 64, laborer was taken to the County Hospital when he told police he did not have money for medical treatment. Attendants found over $1,200 in Maki's clothing.

Dick Stevens, farmer living near Dayton, Ore., has three patriotic kids—one white, one red and one blue. They were born during a snow storm. The nanny has her hands full with the triplets.

The Lehigh Valley railroad of Pennsylvania, has established a one-cent a mile rate on its Auburn division in an effort to increase passenger traffic.

In the stone walls of Wisconsin capitol are formations believed to be fossils of a shellfish, starfish and some snails.

In Topeka, Kan., cracksmen blew the vault in a grocery. The blast opened the safe—and also blew into bits the currency contained therein. Net gain: In silver, $30. In experience, $600.

In Herbin, Ill., firemen who answered an alarm at the home of Jake Jacobs recently found a 50-gallon still.

A note addressed to Washington, D. C. was picked off the west coast of Vancouver Island recently. It had been thrown from the President Taft. February 14, 1929. It had traveled 500 miles.

The stork freed Vincent Simons from jail in Norwalk, Conn., where he was serving 30 days for assault, drunkenness and breach of peace. Learning Simons had become a father the judge set him free to pass around the cigars.

In Gatlin, Ky John Haney was shot and killed by George Williams. The trouble was said to have been over Haney's divorced wife.

Pete, a canary owned by Mrs. Effie Bishop, of Quincy, Mass., survived by burying his bill in his feathers when a fire filled the Bishop house with smoke.

The body of John Pelican of Two Rivers, Wis., was found in a refrigerator car loaded with butter at Buffalo. Officials believe the man was "hitching" a ride and froze to death.

At the Ben Burns home in Estherville, Iowa, the family was talking about bombs at Shanghai during dinner hour, when an explosion shook the house and smoke poured from the hot-air registers. The explosion was caused by a can of spinach that had been thrown into the furnace.

While Patrolman Arthur Brown, of Hattsville, Md., slept in the police station robbers entered the place and escaped with 25 cases of confiscated liquor.

Fourteen year old Robert Wadlow, of Alton, Ill., is seven feet, five inches in height and weight 302 pounds. The big boy is a freshman in high school, does well in his studies, plays basket ball, and reads an average of 300 books a year.

Ripley, believe it or not, has found the birthplace of the Bed Bug! In Strassburg, France for the first time in history appeared the bed bug and it spread to the rest of the world in the bedding of the Huguenots, who were driven from France in the 17th century.

Testifying that his wife hit on the head with the family Bible, knocking him out of a chair, Olaf T. Nelson, of South Acton, Mass., has asked a divorce.

While a watchdog bought for her protection gleefully wagged his tail and played about the intruders, Mrs. Rosamond Iglehart, 61, of Rock Island, Ill., was robbed of $31 by two burglars.

While preparing for the funeral of Hugh Trinkle, Charles O. Summers, 63, undertaker at Marengo, Ind., fell dead.

When she defriended James Carney, 70 Eliza J. Norcross, lodging house operator in Boston, thought she was helping a penniless old man. Carney died recently and left $42,000 to her. A sister in New York was cut off without a penny because she "had shown no love."

Our Ideal Of Service

WHAT a relief it is, in the sudden confusion of bereavement, to be able to call upon someone who knows what has to be done and how to do it! What a sense of comfort it gives to shift the burden of practical details onto the shoulders of an experienced, thoughtful friend!

That is the ideal which has inspired the evolution of modern funeral director. He is more than a mere merchant or master of ceremonies. Combining executive ability with the personal responsibility of the professional man, he offers true counsel and invites full confidence.

And that is the ideal which this organization, in its humble way, seeks to realize. We shall not consider our service a success unless we have lightened the burden of those in sorrow.
