ROTARY GOVERNOR JOHN PARK GUEST OF BEAUFORT CLUB

Made Interesting Talk On Aims And Ideals Of Rotary

The ideals and aims of Rotary were outlined by John District Governor at the weekly meeting of the local club on Tuesday night at the Inlet Inn. His brief talk was intensely interesting not only to the small group of local Rotas but the invited guests and the visitors from the Morehead City Club who were present.

During the past several months the Beaufort club has been more or less inactive, and it was for the purpose of regaining interest that President Graham Duncan of the local club invited District Governor Park down to make the speech.

Governor Park told many interesting stories, stories which hinged around Rotary and the aims of this organization which was established about 30 years ago in Chicago and today has a total of 4,400 clubs throughout the world. In the world today there are approximately 185,000 Rotarians.

Governor Park brought out—that he was a charter member in the Raleigh Club, the 124th club to be established in America. That was back in 1914. He also told about his trip to the Rotary International conventions in Switzerland and France during the past summer, where representatives of the organization from all parts of the world were present.

Fishing And ALL OUTDOORS

By AYCOCK BROWN

THE BIG GAME season has started in Carteret county and this year the 'big game' is more numerous than ever before. Having something to do with this might be the fact that during the past summer or early autumn there have been no serious forest fires to bake young fawn or roost young bear cubs. Anyway, the 'big game' hunting in Carteret this season is very good, and as this is written, our nearest contemporary comes by to ask the lino-type operator whom we have borrowed for a day or two to hurry home tonight for a bear steak supper. Personally—I prefer venison, and unless some of my good friends, or acquaintances at any rate, down Atlantic way, or out in the Open Grounds bring some venison along pretty soon, I will begin to think that I am an unpopular soul.

BIGGEST GAME of the week was slain by Beaufort's City Clerk Mur-

WHAT IS TAKING PLACE BY

Robert R. Reynolds

UNITED STATES SENATOR

By Senator Robert R. Reynolds
 Some time ago several of my colleagues, including a veteran of many years service in the Senate, were discussing the new responsibilities imposed upon Senators, in face of the fact that the constitutional duties have remained unchanged. One reason, of course, is the great expansion of Federal activities and the spread of these activities in the states. Another is the direct election of Senators which has served to bring them closer to their constituents than was the case in earlier days when members of the Senate were elected by Legislatures.

Not only is A. B. advertising 'smiling service,' but he gives smiling service at all time to his patrons. No one has ever bought a gallon of gasoline from Hooper that was not greeted with a smile. His station sells Standard Oil products and it features grease jobs, car washings and polishing, and he also sells tires, tubes and accessories. ### LARGEST CERO

Mrs. George Nissen of Winston-Salem, trolling near Beaufort Inlet sea buoy aboard Capt. Tony Seamon's charter boat "Monnie M" late Wednesday afternoon landed a 44-pound Cero. While it was not the first Cero taken since the October run of big ones started, it is the largest landed this season and probably the largest landed by a woman in nearby waters in many seasons. That the October run of big Cero has started will be good news to anglers far and wide who come to Carteret waters each autumn for this type of fishing. In the party with Mrs. Nissen was her husband, Mr. Nissen; Mr. and Mrs. William Nissen also of Winston-Salem and Mrs. C. S. Nissen of California.

No stranger in Beaufort and Carteret county is Jack Lyles. ### Red Heart Day Here On Tues.

Next Tuesday, (October 12) will be Red Heart Day in Beaufort, the first day of its kind ever observed in this community. On that day school children will display and offer for sale little miniature red hearts on which the following words will be printed: "Buy a Heart—Help Save a Child." A special price of only 5 cents each will be paid by the school children for the hearts, but the general public will pay a minimum of 10 cents or more. Proceeds of the sale will go towards a lunch room fund at the Beaufort school, and will mean that undernourished youngsters will be given free lunches for an indefinite period. Red Heart sales is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association. Mayor George W. Huntley has officially proclaimed that Tuesday October 12, will be "Red Heart Day in Beaufort." Every citizen should buy a heart on that day and help a worthy, a very worthy cause.

Fireworks

A special added attraction at the Carteret County Fair here during the week of October 11-16 will be a display of fireworks each night, it was announced this week by T. E. Kelly, fair treasurer who has played an important role in making preparations for the American Legion sponsored event. The exact time that the fireworks will be presented each night might vary, depending on when the largest crowd is thronging the midway where the O. C. Buck Expositions will be in full swing. An excellent series of fire work displays have been obtained for the occasion, and this is one free attraction which will attract much attention.

"Parnell" Coming To Sea Breeze Oct. 11-12

Your Fair Week will not be complete unless you see "Parnell" featuring Clarke Gable and Myrna Loy at the Sea Breeze theatre on Monday and Tuesday, October 11 and 12, according to Raymond Paul, manager of the theatre. ### CUDACATCHER

The deep sea fishing yacht Cudacatcher, recently launched at City Island, N. Y., and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Rowe Metcalf who are well known in Beaufort and own considerable property in this section is expected to arrive here next Sunday. It is likely that the vessel, one of the best equipped vessels for deep sea fishing which has been launched in the New York area during recent years, will base in Beaufort for several days while her owners and their friends fish in central coast waters.

Capt. Homer Austin New Keeper Of Cape Lookout Lighthouse

Capt. Homer Austin, for the past 15 years keeper of Whaleshead lighthouse on Currituck Beach is now in charge of Cape Lookout light. He succeeds Capt. Benjamin Harris, former keeper who at his own request was transferred on August 20, to the commanding berth of Riamond Shoals Lightship, anchored at the edge of the Gulf Stream about 14 miles off Cape Hatteras. Capt. Austin's family lives in Manteo.

Capt. Austin's new duties gives him the distinction of being the keeper of the tallest brick light tower along the coast of North Carolina and probably the entire Atlantic. Cape Lookout is 158 feet high. In the management of the tower he will be assisted by two men.

Whaleshead Light, an unpainted brick structure, (which shows up red from a distance) is 156 feet high. It is located about 20 miles up the beach from the state highway bridge leading to Kitty Hawk on the Manteo road. The light there has been made automatic, and no longer are three men given employment in operating same. It was so named in honor of Whaleshead Point nearby which in the old days was a sort of graveyard for whales, or for one monster at least, which washed ashore in that area.

Cape Lookout light is distinguished by its black and white diamonds, which reminds a person seeing it for the first time of an ace, deuce or trey of diamonds playing card. Near its base is the 'Drain' between the Light of Lookout and Back Bay in Core sound, which will soon be dredged to a depth of eight feet permitting all weather navigation for boats when completed.

Covering The WATER FRONT

By AYCOCK BROWN

CAPTAIN BEN Harris who referred from Capt Lookout light-ship, at his own request, was transferred to Diamond Shoals lightship probably the last man living today who spoke to the crew of the Carroll A. Deering, 5-masted schooner which foundered on Diamond Shoals in 1920 with all sails flying, but without a living soul aboard. The foundering of the Deering and what became of her crew is still an unsolved mystery of the seas. Along the Outer Banks she is still called the 'ghost ship.'

ONE AFTERNOON during the winter of 1920 when Capt. Harris was officer in charge of Cape Lookout lightship, a five masted schooner came sailing out of the Gulf Stream from the southward to within hailing distance of the lightship. She proved to be the Carroll A. Deering (Continued on page ten)

Paul's Marine Railways

Five Boats At One Time On Marine Railway

One of the recent successful enterprises started in Beaufort is the Marine Railways pictured above. The photo shows at a glance that the railways, which Graydon M. Paul constructed as an addition to his already flourishing machine shop is doing business. At the time Roy Eubanks made the above photo there were five boats on the railways at one time. "During the month of September," said Mr. Paul today, "we hauled out 25 boats and that kept us pretty busy." The railways are located on Front street adjacent to Paul's Machine shop. (Eubanks-News Photo)
