The State Hospital Commission and its Failure.

Charlotte Observer.

The people of the State should be well acquainted with the facts which were set forth in an article from The Statesville Landmark, which was reproduced in yesterday's Observer with regard to the operation of the State Hospital Commission authorized by act of the last Legislature and to which an appropriation of a half million dollars was made by the same General Assembly. The idea was to take care of the epileptic and insane persons of the State, and the unpleasant truth ought to be made known that though that appropriation was made more than a year and a half ago not a single insane or epileptic person has benefited by that act. This Hospital Commission, owing to difference among its own members with regard to the establishment of a colony for epileptics—some of its members wishing it to be established on grounds adjacent to the State Hospital at Raleigh, and at least one of its members desiring it to be located in Cumberland county—has done nothing with reference to this particular class of unfortunates, and has done nothing to relieve the insane in general except to have appropriated approximately $80,000 for a building for one hundred men at Raleigh, while refusing an appropriation of $30,000 for buildings which would accommodate a hundred men at Morganton. Meantime let it be understood that this commission has given $33,000 of its fund to the negro insane asylum at Goldsboro.

To build at Morganton is cheaper than to build at Raleigh; patients are supported at less cost at Morganton than they are at Raleigh; the State line establishing to which institution shall go gives the great preponderance of the State population to the Morganton Hospital, and yet he exclaimed that he is the Democratic boss of North Carolina. He strongly favored local self government and his argument along this line was forceful and seemed to please the crowd.

While Mr. Settle only spoke an hour his entire speech was well received, and he fully maintained his reputation as one of the ablest political speakers in the State.

We want the people of the western part of the State whose insane subject are confined in jails, in their homes, or are roaming at large, to know that the two western members of the Hospital Commission, Mr. C. A. Webb, of Asheville, and Mr. J. H. Wendington, of Charlotte, protest against this condition, but are the minority of a body composed of five members, the other members being Mr. W. A. Erwin, of Durham; Mr. E. F. Aydtlet, of Pasquotank; and Dr. J. W. McNeill, of Cumberland. We reprobate and despise any sentiment of rivalry between the eastern and western sections of North Carolina. What is here said is not said in the slightest spirit of hostility toward the State Hospital at Raleigh—an admirably conducted institution—but in the interest of a good understanding and for the cause of common justice.

Brother Caldwell what do you mean by this editorial? Do you mean to say the great Democratic party of North Carolina has been negligent in the care, protection and maintenance of the unfortunates of the State? Is it possible that such saints of God as Gov. Glenn would permit these conditions among his own dear people of the West?

Brother Caldwell is it a fact that the last Legislature played "Old Miss Nancy" in everything they attempted? Be honest with us, yourself and the great State of North Carolina. In fact what is there that they done that has blessed the people of North Carolina. Any one may speak who knows.

University Life.
Baltimore American.

President Alderman's notice to students that the University of Virginia was not a country club, but a place for hard mental labor was undoubtedly timely and should have a good effect. The young man of to-day needs to be taught that to be successful he must not waste the best years of his youth and that too much sport is the bane of American college life.

There are some people who are not complaining that the campaign is not hot enough.

PROMINENT REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS IN SURRY.

They Speak on the Leading National Issues of the Campaign to the Citizens of Mount Airy.

Mount Airy Leader.

On last Monday night about seven hundred people waited at the Opera house in this city for a beated train to arrive that would bring the Hon. Thos. Settle, Republican candidate for Elector at Large, and Hon. John M. Morehead, Republican candidate for Congress, in this District, for these well known gentlemen were advertised to speak that night. Several local Republicans met the speakers at the train and all were immediately driven to the opera house, where the crowd was in waiting. After being introduced by Jack Abright, Mr. Morehead first addressed the audience. He only spoke for a short time, defining his position as a business man and predicted that the time was ripe for business men to take more interest in political affairs. This was Mr. Morehead's first visit to Surry, and while he did not attempt to discuss the issues he made a good impression upon his hearers, and those he met afterwards.

After an introduction by R. T. Joyce, Thos. Settle, so well known and popular with Republicans in this section, proceeded to a discussion of the issues, both national and state. In national affairs he dwelt upon the broken promises of Democracy and ridiculed that party for a change of base in every campaign. He paid his respects to Josephus Daniels, who he said was yelling negro in the News and Observer, and hobnobbing with the colored gentleman in the North and West. He told how Daniels was a prohibitionist in North Carolina and was the head of the bureau that was sending out literature to the whiskey men in the doubtful states, and yet he exclaimed that he is the Democratic boss of North Carolina. He strongly favored local self government and his argument along this line was forceful and seemed to please the crowd.

While Mr. Settle only spoke an hour his entire speech was well received, and he fully maintained his reputation as one of the ablest political speakers in the State.

"Statesmen" and "Politicians."

New York World.

A New York society leader, seeking to explain the absence in America of the "political hostess"—who is one of the pest of English politics—declares that the ideal of such a hostess could not be realized here because we have only politicians, while England has statesmen.

No doubt most of Fifth avenue fondly believes this. A certain class of Americans who, to save their lives, could not tell which wing of the capitol the Senate chamber is in, will discourse almost eloquently about the general inferiority of American public men to their English contemporaries.

Yet there is no English "statesmen" today who commands the international reputation and personal influence of either Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Bryan. There is no member of the English cabinet who is the intellectual superior of Mr. Taft, Secretary Root or Senator Knox. There is more actual governmental ability in the United States Senate than in the House of Commons, which has seven times as many members.

North Carolina Day.

The North Carolina Historical Commission is preparing the North Carolina Day pamphlet for State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner. Dr. Joyner has not as yet designated the day, but December 18th will very probably be appointed.

The subject for North Carolina Day this year will be the German Settlements of North Carolina. These settlements embrace those made by the Lutheran, Moravian and German Reformed churches, the principal settlements being in counties of Orange, Rowan, Guilford, Burke, Lincoln, Randolph, Iredell, Stokes, Cabarrus, Davidson, Davie, Stanly, Catawba, Gaston, Alamance and Forsyth.

North Carolina Day will be observed by all the public schools of the State, and the pamphlet will suggest a program for the exercises.

Brief News Items.

Six lives were lost at Cleveland Ohio last Thursday when a Toledo and Ohio Central passenger train carrying an excursion crowd from Blowing Rock fell into Toledo, was run into from the rear at Sugar Ridge by a freight train.

At Berlin Germany recently 20 persons were killed and nineteen hurt as a result of two trains traveling in the same direction on different branches leading to the main road came together at the switch. They were running at a high rate of speed, which caused the shock to be a tremendous one.

At Hanover Pa. last week some of the baseball players put William White, who acted as the target in a "hit the coon" show out of business. The ball players substituted heavier balls than the ones bought, and after about half dozen throws the coon was sent to New York to the hospital. His injuries may prove fatal.

To the Voters of North Carolina.

For the benefit of those who expect to take part in the coming election and who wish to post themselves as to the legal requirements the following information is printed. This matter should be studied carefully and thoroughly understood because no one can vote unless these conditions are complied with. Don't wait until it is too late but equip yourselves for the contest while you have time to read and study for yourselves:

1. No new registration is required. All persons who were registered in the last election can vote now without registering again. However, minors coming of age must register, and persons who have moved their residence must register if they moved from the precinct in which they were registered more than four months before the election, otherwise they vote in the precinct in which they are registered.

2. No persons liable to poll tax can vote in this election, unless he paid his poll tax by May 1 of this year, and he must exhibit his receipt or take the oath required of him before voting. In order to vote he must be twenty-one years old, must have been a resident of the state two years, of the county six months, and precinct four months. If any persons moves into a new precinct within four months from the time of the election, he must go back to the precinct he moved from in order to vote.

3. The residence of a married man is where his family resides, of a single man, where he sleeps. No person convicted of crime and sentenced to state's prison can vote, unless his disability has been removed.

4. A voter must be able to read and write any section of the constitution in the English language to the satisfaction of the registrar. A lineal descendant of any person who could vote on January 1, 1867, or prior thereto, can register, even though he cannot read and write. He must, however, register under the grandfather clause. This is the last election in which those who cannot read and write can register under the grandfather clause, as the constitution of this state limits the time to December 1, 1908.

5. The clerk of the Superior court has in his keeping the permanent roll of all persons who are registered under the grandfather clause, and it is highly important that every man in the county who cannot read and write ascertain if his name appears upon the permanent roll in the clerk's office. It is also very important that the voter under the grandfather clause obtain a certificate of permanent registration. This is given by the registrar and it ought to be certified to by the clerk of the Superior court.

6. The registration books will be open October 1, and will close at sunset October 24. No registration will be allowed on the day of election unless a person shall become twenty-one years old after the closing of the registration books.

7. Registrars will keep the registration books open at the voting place at the several precincts on each Saturday during this period until the evening of October 24.

8. On any other day except Saturday all persons desiring to register must go to the registrar at his home or his place of business. On Saturday, as before stated, he will be at the voting precinct from 9 o'clock in the morning until sunset.
