Mail Boxes on Wheel.

Raleigh Caucasian.

Mr. Y. E. Young, a prosperous farmer of Panther Branch Township, Wake County, has a unique arrangement for rural mail boxes. He is a great believer in the rural free delivery service and wants to do anything that he can to advance the cause or that will aid the rural carrier in his work. Several neighbors get their mail on the road near Mr. Young's home, and he has erected a structure so that the rural carrier can sit in her buggy and put mail in five boxes without having to drive to the separate boxes. He placed a buggy axle in a perpendicular position, then putting a buggy wheel on top part of axle he fastened his mail box, and those belonging to his neighbor, on the wheel. Now the carrier by simply turning the wheel can put the mail in each farmers' box in less time and with less trouble than when he had to drive to each man's box to deposit his mail. Mr. Young's idea is a novel one, and will, doubtless, be adopted in other communities.
