Whole Town Blown Up.

With a roar that was heard for 50 miles, a glare that was seen fully as far and with a concussion that broke windows more than 100 miles away, three carloads of dynamite exploded at the DuPont De Nemours company shortly after 8 o'clock Thursday night in the village of Pleasant Prairie, six miles west of Kenosha, Wis. It will be impossible to tell accurately the number of dead. Nearly every house in the village, which contains 700 residents, has been badly damaged and some of them utterly demolished.

Reports from the country ten miles distant are to the effect that houses even that far from the explosion were thrown down.

It is believed inevitable that many people have been killed or injured throughout the surrounding country. So far as is known at present however, but one man, E. S. Thompson, foreman of the glaze mill, was killed outright, but Charles Brady, superintendent, and Joseph Flint, the engineer, are badly injured and may die.

The cause of the explosion is not known at the present time. The plant, which covered 190 acres of ground, has been completely wrecked, only one building remaining. This is one of the magazines and it is also filled with dynamite.

The first explosion took one of the magazine buildings and in quick succession four others followed, the explosions following so quickly, however, that it seemed to be but one.

The force of the concussion was terrific. Houses, barns and outbuildings in the immediate neighborhood were swept from their foundations as though struck by a tornado. It had been reported that hundreds of cattle and horses had been killed, a telephone report from there stating that some of them were hurled entirely through barns and residences.

It is reported that the town of Bristol, Wis., ten miles distant, was badly wrecked, but details were not obtainable from there at midnight.

Special trains were hastily dispatched from Kenosha carrying every available nurse and physician. Several of the injured have been received in this city. But none of them have sustained more than minor injuries.

"Yes, sir, I was," the witness admitted.

"H'm," the lawyer pursued, "that is interesting. And did you take cognizance of the barkeeper at the time?"

"I don't know what he called it, sir," came the reply, with perfect ease, "but I took what the rest did."—Philadelphia Times.
