Wednesday, Nov. 22, 1911.

Experience is a dear school. Low cotton will drive farmers to hog and hominy, says one of our exchanges, and our opinion is, a democratic Congress to the soup house.

For Woodrow Wilson.

Mr. Frank Sloan, Jr., of Erwin, Tenn., passed through the city yesterday enroute for New Bern, N. C. He reports everybody in east Tennessee optimistic for Woodrow Wilson and Democratic victory in 1912.—News and Observer.

It seems that Mr. Sloan has not heard of the Wilson optimistic defeat in Maryland my Maryland or he would have advised everybody in Tennessee that Harmon was the man and Mr. Doc was buried. Wonder when Harmon will die.
