WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27. — President Taft has notified President Gomez of Cuba that, unless a reign of militarism can be averted there, the American Government will take charge of the island.

The National Board of Trade representing organizations in all parts of the country has been in session here. The Association encourages business men to interest themselves in primaries and in public questions. It endorsed one-cent letter postage.

A convention has been in session in the interest of Federal aid to good roads.

In an address to the meat packers, Senator Reed of Missouri condemned the Judge Gary plan of Federal supervision of corporations as "Plutocratic Socialism."

Representative Henry of Texas has proposed a Constitutional amendment making the last Thursday of April, instead of March 4, the date for inaugurating presidents and vice-presidents.

The charge that persons connected with the Steel Trust are endeavoring to advance his nomination for the presidency has been called by Col. Roosevelt "Tom-foolery."

The recommendation of Postmaster-General Hitchcock that the Government appraise, take over and operate the telegraph companies has produced much discussion. The New York World has suggested ironically that, for efficiency, it might be better for the telegraph companies to operate the Postal department.

Charles S. Hernly, President of the New Castle, Ind., Industrial Association, has just given the Senate Postoffice Committee an interesting recital of industrial development. He said that New Castle was a sleepy country village with a population of 2,406 in 1900. It is now a thriving city having about twenty-five important, diversified industries and a population of something more than 10,000. Though houses have been rapidly built, last year an automobile company, employing two thousand hands in their plant, found it necessary to invest $150,000 to provide homes for their employes. The success of New Castle caused many other towns to follow its example. Mr. Hernly's services have been asked by commercial clubs in nearly every state. Under his direction, Brazil, Evansville and other Indiana cities have succeeded in locating important industries.

Mr. Hernley said that one of the first things they did not do was to send for a lot of mail-order catalogs. Lack of public spirit, he said, would deaden any town. Local merchants had always been active in such development. Any system which disables them from helping in such movements, supporting their local newspapers and extending credits necessary in growing towns, will result in decreased home markets for farm products, labor, etc. Lands near a live town are worth much more than lands near a dead town. Any rate which would enable the government to operate Parcels Post otherwise than at great loss would be so high as to make it impracticable for transporting farm products. Merchants and farmers prefer to sell goods and products through personal intimation. Where the farmer might save a few cents upon carriage of goods bought from some mail-order house, he would lose much more through deadening of the town and sending its resources to large mail-order centers.

The proposed carriage of parcels by the Government for concerns a thousand miles distance at the same price as that charged for a few miles would weaken home ties and loyalty to community interests. It would build up large mail-order concerns to the depreciation of local values. Nearness to a good live town adds to contentment on the farm. Increase of great cities and consequent misery of many unemployed are largely due to idleness of many small towns. Great cities furnish gravest dangers. Carriage of first and second-class mail at a cost regardless of distance might be justified by their diffusion of intelligence necessary for stability of a republic.

The present carriage of merchandise up to four pounds regardless of distance was only incidental; for samples, for information purposes, etc. This has been so abused that it might be more just to transport even merchandise under this limit at rates proportionate to distance.

The chief argument used to locate industries in the Central West has been that thereby such concerns would be nearer the centers of population and markets. "If the Government should haul much merchandise at rates regardless of distance, there would be little inducement for a factory to locate or establish a branch in the West or South. Factories would congregate where labor and power are cheapest. The proposed system," he believed, was "protection to home industries" reversed to destruction of home industries. "Parcels Post," he said, "is the entering wedge of Government ownership and Socialism." It will necessitate large increase of force and equipment. Its chief advocates have introduced bills providing for Government operation of transportation lines, including public highways, "at lowest possible rates regardless of distance." If the limit be increased to eleven pounds, why not 1100 pounds? It has been said that eleven pounds is the weight of a gallon of whiskey, jug and container.

Advocacy of Government entrance into express-carrying business is naturally followed, he said, by socialistic demand for its ownership and operation of telegraph lines, telephones, railroads, coal mines, etc. Individualism, initiative and self-reliance would disappear under such paternalism and bureaucracy. Government conduct of business is more costly and wasteful than private operation. Regulation, not operation, should be had.

Many factories are moving out of the large cities to towns and smaller cities where living conditions produce improve types of citizenship, he urged, and Parcel Post would stop this movement of decentralization. It would blight the efforts of live industrial organizations for town development. For the Government to place the products of factories well-established in old-settled communities into the markets of the Central West at the same price as charged to local industries, many of which are new and struggling for a foothold, would rebuke the pioneer spirit and punish local enterprise.

Caught in a Rain.

Douglasville, Tex. — "Five years ago I was caught in the rain at the wrong time," writes Edna Rutherford, of Douglasville, "and from that time, was taken with dumb chills and fevers, and suffered more than I can tell. I tried everything that I thought would help, and had four doctors, but got no relief. I took Cardui, the woman's tonic. Now, I feel better than in many months." Cardui does one thing and does it well. That's the secret of its 50 years of success. Try Cardui.

Paint Lick Sick Lady

Paint Lick, Ky. — Mrs. Mary Freeman, of this place, says: "Before I commenced to take Cardui, I suffered so much from womanly trouble, I was so weak that I was down on my back nearly all the time. Cardui has done me more good than any medicine I ever took in my life." You need not be afraid to take Cardui. It is no new experiment. Composed of gentle-acting, herb ingredients, it has been found to safely relieve headache, backache and similar female troubles. Try it for your troubles.
