WHY A WILL?

An Educational Advertisement by the Alamance Loan & Trust Company.

People often ask the question:

'Why should I make a will? "Do not the courts give ample protection in the distribution of one's property at his death?

Here is an answer which covers just one small portion of the provisions made by the laws of North Carolina in in such matters:

When one dies without leaving a will the laws of North Carolina give a husband no interest whatever in the real estate of his wile unless a child was born to them; on the other hand, in such cases, the wife gets only one-third for her life time of the real estate of the husband and only one-half of his personal property.

This is the law and unless a will has been executed the distribution made in such cases will be as above stated. We will be glad to make clear any other point on the sub-

When this company is appointed as Executor, we alllow you to select any lawyer you wish and we pay all the expenses and also allow you to store the will under seal in our vaults for safe keeping, free of charge.
