Mrs. Addison Smith, Mill St., Graham, N. C., says: "At the time I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, my kidneys were badly disordered. The Real Third Party.

In the national Prohibition party in session at Atlantic City the country has the real third party. This party has undeviatingly held aloft the banner of the prohibition of the liquor traffic in all its branches for many years and its results have been seen in hard-fought state campaigns. Therefore, this party is not disposed to see another party come into the field with different objects and usurp the title of third party and a party of progress.

The national Prohibition party is composed of men whose sincerity and whose devotion to the ends of humanity as they see them may not be controverted. The definite and clear-cut stand of the Prohibitionists makes it possible to see exactly where they line up. They make no compromise and resort to no round-about methods. They simply say they want the abolition of the liquor traffic and mean to get it. Nor will it do to discourage them because of their failure to achieve much in the national field. The growth of sentiment for the cause may be credited quite largely to its continued advocacy by this party.

Therefore, as the third party that has long held that claim, the Prohibitionists in their convention will receive the respectful attention of all whose view of the national field is hospitable to all factors that enter into the good of society.

A Convention that runs over into the second week fails to elicit as much interest these days as an extra-inning baseball game.

ALPHONSO BOON IS DEAD

Whitsett, July 10.—Alphonso Boon died yesterday, and was buried today at Frieden's church, funeral services being conducted by Rev. Jas. D. Andrew. He was the son of the late Martin and Elizabeth Boon, and survived by Q. Q. and T. G. Boon, of Whitsett; John Boon, of Greensboro, and Howard Boon, of Brown Summit. He was 56 years old, and had spent all his life in this community upon the old homestead.

From early manhood he was a cripple, and always travelled upon a special conveyance. Until his recent illness he was a familiar figure upon all occasions because of his unusual way of getting about.

It is understood that he left a will by which ten acres of land goes to T. G. Boon, and the remainder of his property to Q. Q. Boon, who has had the care of him throughout his life.

Mrs. Lindsey Entertains.

The evening was delightfully spent. Refreshments consisting of cream and cake served and a good time to all present.

In the Olympic games should included a fly swatting contest.
