BEGINNING TUESDAY, AUGUST 20th, 1912.

A Little of Everything for a Little of Nothing.

Come into the Rummage. Most all the goods we had left of the half-price sale go into the Rummage with half off again. Everything we have marked in plain figures—you will need no one to wait upon you—just come in, help yourself, and pay the marked price.

WE URGE MOTHERS WITH GIRLS of SCHOOL AGE to BUY NOW and TRIM THEM up SOME PRETTY HATS.

You can put the girls to work, mothers—let them work up these inexpensive materials into hats for school purposes. It is pleasant work and profitable work—if they spoil something it makes no difference for rummage goods will cost very little.
