THE INSURGENT

By Howard L. Rann

The insurgent is a piece of human dynamite who is always breaking into the conversation with impious remarks regarding the southern delegates. He is the nearest approach to perpetual motion this side of T. Roosevelt.

Up until the last year or two the insurgent was not allowed to appear in public without a high check and kicking straps. Times have changed, however, and now he can go around and assault defenseless standpatters with impunity and a rich, saw-tooth vocabulary.

As commonly understood, the insurgent of the present A. D. is a person who would be willing to trade the administration for anything from a milch cow to what have you. No reasonable offer refused.

There are several kinds of insurgents. The lodge insurgent is one who blackballs every candidate whose name gets past the outer guard, and thus prevents the lodge from growing too fast. He is usually about as popular as a Unitarian preacher in a Methodist church.

The business insurgent is one who trades western land for a bankrupt stock of clothing and unloads it at 30 cents on the dollar during fair week.

The social insurgent is generally a fearless female who pulls off a series of card parties during a revival meeting, thereby securing considerable free and undiluted advertising from the visiting brethren.

The church insurgent always manages to get on the official board where he is prepared to show that the minister ought to support a wife and nine children on $600 a year and lay up money. This kind of an insurgent can usually generate the longest prayer in the parish.

The newspaper insurgent is one who has a sliding scale of advertising rates ranging from zero to all the traffic will bear. He also conducts his job department on the eleemosynary system.

One of the best things insurgency has done is to clean up the United States senate so that people can frequent it without carrying smelling salts.

Letter from Pennsylvania.

We are in receipt of a letter from a friend in Pennsylvania and we quote the following:

I enclose you my check for one dollar in and 05 cents ($1.05) for two subscriptions to 'The State Dispatch' for six months, provided jobholder Waller remains outside the breastworks of the paper. If T. R. wins out, your P. M. will get the grand bounce, and then everyone in Burlington can sing:

What have we done?
What have we done?
We've put old Zeb Waller on the bum.

That's what we've done.

Names of Subscribers:
Fred D. Reber,
3rd St.,
Pittston, Pa.

Reber used to be a good electrician until he one day bumped up against some live wire which put him out of business and left him paralyzed and perfectly helpless. He is a member of the P. O. S. of A., and other orders. His little store is well patronized by the members of these bodies, whom poor Fred delights to read to.

Frank C. Mosier,
216 Wyoming Ave.,
Pittston, Pa.

I wish you would send me a book, giving an account of Burlington, N. C., which I never heard of until after you received my card. Tell us about its climate, manufacturing enterprises, water power, business places and natural resources, etc., etc., etc. Have the editor of the State Dispatch get busy and write the old town up.

Very truly yours,
Frank C. Mosier.

Prices Prevailing at Elon College this week at my store.
Eggs 25 cents per doz.
Butter 25 cents per lb.
Country Hams 20 cents.
Country Shoulders 15 cents.
Country Midlings 15 cents.
Chickens weighing from one to one and half lbs 15 cents lb.
Hens 10 cents. All these items and other good things to eat are in great demand. Yours for service, C. A. Hughes.

Two Steamers.

Washington, September 23.—President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, speaking today of the contract recently let by the Chesapeake Steamship Company for the construction of two steamers for service between Baltimore, Md., and West Point, Va., by way of Chesapeake Bay and the York River, said:

"The completion of these steamers will stimulate freight and passenger traffic in the territory traversed by the Southern Railway in Eastern Virginia. It is expected that this service will be an important factor in the material development of that territory.

"The larger part of the passenger traffic will be handled by the new service which will be that between Baltimore and Richmond. Rail and steamer schedules will be so arranged that passengers leaving Baltimore in the early evening will be in Richmond early the following morning, and those leaving Richmond in the early evening will reach Baltimore early in the morning. The line will participate in the present large movement of freight, between Richmond and Baltimore and it is expected that the additional and improved facilities afforded will lead to an increase in the volume of traffic through the larger industrial development of the territory affected.

"One of the important results of the new service is expected to be the larger development of fruit and vegetable production as a result of providing quick and more frequent service to the markets of Baltimore and points beyond. A large part of the region served is admirably suited for the growing of truck."

Read the Book.

We take pleasure in announcing that any of our readers can secure the above vest pocket book free of charge by sending 2c. for postage to D. Swift and Co., Patent Lawyers, Washington, D. C. This book contains tables showing which states each presidential candidate carried in 1908, the number of Democrats and Republicans elected by each state to Congress in 1908 and 1910, the leading events of the life of each President, from Washington to Taft. It also gives the population of each state according to the census reports of 1890, 1900 and 1910, the population of about 20 of the largest cities in each state, a calendar for 1912 and 1913 and much other useful information.

Puts End To Bad Habit.

Things never look bright to one with "the blues." Ten to one the trouble is a sluggish liver, filling the system with bilious poison, that Dr. King's New Life Pills would expel. Try them. Let the joy of better feelings end "the blues." Best for stomach, liver and kidneys. 25c. Freeman Drug Co.

THE ONLY HONEST

PLANK ON TRUSTS

"The new party is the only one that has a single intelligent and honest word to say upon the trust problem. Mr. Taft's party is still infatuated with the law under which trusts multiplied and flourished as never before. In supreme court decisions, which amount merely to rubbing out the old name on the trust's sign-board and writing up three new ones—while prices are smartly increased to the consumer and the trust's shares advance by leaps—it sees an adequate remedy. So long as the attorney general wins brilliant victories on paper it is quite satisfied. The plank that Mr. Bryan wrote goes back to even the Sherman law and rests upon a naive faith that the only way out of the difficulty lies in 'busting' everything of size.

"Both these platforms rely upon compelling competition; and no policy which relies upon that will bring us one step nearer to an actual grapple with the trust problem. We believe, as ex-Senator Beveridge said at Chicago, 'the people are tired of this mock battle. What good does it do any man to read in his morning newspaper that the trust has been dissolved and then read in his evening newspaper that the price of oil has been advanced?' The Progressive Party begins with a sane brief—backed by the whole world for a full generation—that competition may be harmful and combination salutary. It is only from this point of view that any solution of the trust problem will ever be found."

ROOSEVELT ON FLINN

Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 17.—In his speech at a big meeting here this afternoon Roosevelt paid emphatic tribute to the service rendered by the State Senator Flinn to the Progressive cause. While Roosevelt was speaking one in the crowd asked: "How about Bill Flinn?"

"I'll tell you about Flinn," Roosevelt promptly rejoined. "He is as stout a champion of liberty as exists. I want you your full armor. He came to me last April or May and had never known him. He told me he was going to support me, for he believed the country would not be a place for his children to grow up in unless such social and economic justice was done to make good place for other children to live in."

"He told me that it was experience, and he said he had learned it, and that he had learned it—had been taught the safety of our government in making the people responsible not merely nominal rulers but their own governmental agents. He fought his fight squarely, and he carried it off. Pennsylvania adopted a progressive platform declaring most unequivocal terms of direct primaries, initiative referendum, for every point national Progressive platform. A boss whose action is to the hands of the people supreme power over him and other boss is not much boss."

Agricultural Exhibit

State Test Farm Exhibit to visit City, Burlington. The Chamber of Commerce has arranged with Mr. Puckett, of Raleigh, N. C., Director of the State Test Farm to bring the State Test Farm Exhibit to Burlington Oct. 13. The Exhibit is installed in passenger car and will arrive in Burlington, N. C., on Oct. 13. The exhibit will be on sidetrack near waiting room open to the public Oct. 13.

The Exhibit is complete in every detail, consisting of leading varieties of corn, showing the height and shape of the ears, and sections of ears showing the different varieties of grain and size of corn. Museum jars graphically presenting the differences in the different varieties of corn. Representative ears of each variety of corn have been carefully selected to show variety, not at its best, but as it grows under conditions.

The different leading varieties of wheat, oats, and corn shown in a similar way. Fertilizer experiments have been carried on with these crops and the results are shown in the museum jars.

Other interesting features of the Exhibit will be representative soil types of the State shown in their natural state to a depth of six inches, with maps showing the location of these different soil types and the results of fertilizers that have been made on these soils.

The leading varieties of peaches, and Irish potatoes also will be shown in an attractive way. A complete tobacco case also with the car, showing different grades of tobacco, the distinct tobacco belt of the State.

A portion of the Exhibit will be of special interest to women is the canned fruit and vegetable exhibit, canned goods, etc.

Instructive charts, photographs and legible plants will be on exhibit. The Exhibit is instructive, educational, and interesting something worth coming to see.

Split, Quilt, Fit.

Hines, Ala.—In a letter this place, Mrs. Eula May says: "I used to split and quilt. I was tired and split the time. My head ached and I could hardly drag around taking Cardui, this has quit, and now I feel quitted. Mrs. Bradley suffered from nervous indigestion. Cardui strengthened the womanly system. That's why Cardui helped Mrs. Bradley and helped you. Try it."
