American Cotton Manufacturers' Association Meeting.

Washington, D. C., April 12.— Before leaving Washington for their homes today cotton manufacturers who have been here attending the American Cotton Manufacturers' association meeting were practically unanimous in the adverse criticism of the Underwood tariff bill, which makes a radical reduction in cotton tariffs. Furthermore, such men as S. B. Tanner, of Charlotte, N. C. and Studart Cramer, the newly elected president of the association, made no secret of their determination to try to defeat the Democratic candidates for Congress next year if they allow the Underwood bill to become law.

Some "Leading" Threats.

"Southern manufactures were much surprised when they found that the Democratic tariff measure proposes to reduce the cotton schedule 50 per cent," said S. B. Tanner, of Charlotte, N. C. "President Wilson in his campaign speeches said that there would be a GRADUAL reduction of the tariff. Our cotton people agreed to this and submitted schedules showing what we could stand. If Underwood bill becomes law we will have to close down our mill. We can't compete with cheap foreign labor. "I as well other cotton men, have told our representatives in Congress. You will put us out of business this year; we will put you out of Congress next year," concluded Mr. Tanner."

May Not Pass, Says Erwin.

Said W. A. Erwin, of Durham, "Fifty per cent, in my opinion, is more than the cotton mill can stand. The Underwood bill has not passed Congress yet, and may not pass."
Mr. Erwin, who has just retired from the presidency of the association, said in addressing that body:

Oppose Reduction of Cotton Bill.

"A downward revision of the tariff, which the party now in power and having a majority in both houses of Congress is committed to, is fraught with hazard not only to the success, but very existence of some of our industrial and commercial enterprises. This revision is contemplated with the gravest apprehensions on the part of some of the members of our association. However, in our opinion, the matter should be considered by the American people from a fair and broad viewpoint, and a great measure of hope be indulged in that the new administration shall deal with this most important matter on progressive and yet wise and conservative lines. This hope, we think, is fully warranted by the confidence expressed in the November election in the present administration by a great majority of the voters of our nation. Especially is general confidence centered in the wisdom and justice of that great statesman, the present head of our republic, whose wisdom would prompt him and whose courage would not fail him in vetoing any measure which would threaten the industries that we have here assembled in annual convention to perpetuate and rejoice in."
L. O. Barnhart, of Concord, said: "The cotton schedules were already as low as we could stand. If this proposed bill goes into effect I will not be responsible for the result either financially or politically."

Talks to President.

Several members of the American Cotton Manufacturer's association called upon President Wilson to talk about the proposed bill before leaving Washington. They were told at the White House that they could not expect any help from that source. Col. LeRoy Springs, one of the wealthiest cotton manufacturers in South Carolina, told friends, after he talked with Mr. Wilson, that he received absolutely no encouragement from the President.

Simmons Cannot Help.

A North Carolina manufacturer said that Senator Simmons had told him that he could not help the situation. He said even if Senator Simmons was so disposed, his committee would prevent his aiding the cotton mill men.
"The fastest and most furious lobby fight seen in Washington within a quarter of a century ended today when the cotton manufacturers, who had arrived in Washington about the time the tariff bill appeared from the keeping of the ways and means committee, began leaving for their homes. The effects of the mill men to influence the ways and means committee and other members of Congress and to coax the White House has certainly failed.

To Keep Lobbying.

Robert Miller, chairman of the committee on tariff legislation, urged the members of the association to keep "jabbing" on the senators and representatives from their respective states to use their influence to change the proposed rates.

J Pierpont Morgan's Propert Will Yield Large Inheritance.

Chicago, April 3.—J. Pierpont Morgan's property in Cook County is expected to yield an inheritance tax of $10,000, according to estimates made today in the office of the tax collector. County Judge Owens has appointed William Preston Harrison appraiser of the Morgan holdings in Illinois.
Morgan is said to have large holdings in the Pulman Company International Harvester Company, and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad in addition to $17,000,000 worth of stock in the Chicago City Railway.

An Old Bible.

Spencer, April 4.—A Bible purporting to have been published in English in 1321 is in possession of W. H. Walker of Spencer. The book has been in the Walker family for nearly 600 years and was brought to America more than 100 years ago by Mr. John Walker grandfather of W. H. Walker. The book is well preserved and clearly legible. It is prized very highly. So far as is known that is the oldest Bible in North Carolina.

Expecting Assistance.

Tall Blonde—Why do you wear a tight skirt to skate? You will never be able to get up if you fall down?
Short Brunette—Of course not, you goose; not by myself.
—Judge.

City Clerk of Raleigh Short $16.00.

The City Clerk of Raleigh is short $16.00 and has been dispensed awaiting investigation. The claim is that the money has been stolen at the different times, but no notice was given the board of the thief until investigation had been made. Mr. Gleen the clerk asks that he may be permitted to replace the amount.

McAdoo Is Not To Wed.

New York, April 10.—A Washington dispatch to the New York Sun says:
When asked tonight concerning a rumor that he was engaged to marry Mrs. Seth Barton French Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo said:
"The report is entirely incorrect. I feel obliged to make this statement in order that Mrs. French may be spared the annoyance which such rumors must cause her."

Why He Couldn't Go In.

A small but very black negro was standing very erect at one side of the door of a house where a colored man had just died. The services were about to begin, when the negro clergyman appeared at the door and said to the little fellow:
"The services are about to begin. Aren't you coming inside?"
"I would if I could," said the little boy, "but you see I's de-craped!"—Ladies' Home Journal.

"Tink" Horn Badly Burned

S. Allen Horne proprietor of the Sanitary Pressing Club was badly burned Monday at the club while heating an electric iron preparing to press a silk skirt. The iron exploded and burned Mr. Horne's face and hands badly. It was first feared that he might lose his sight but this fear has been banished.

Mrs. William Cumming Story was last Friday re-elected on the third ballot, president of the Daughter of the Revolution. Mrs. Story's election was the culmination of a five year battle in election.
