Elon's Catalogue. Two Important Changes. An Interesting Publication Containing Valuable Information And Facts

Elon College, N. C.
May 8, 1913.
The catalogue number of the College Bulletin, the 24th annual number, is just from the press of the Christian Publishing Association. It is larger in extent than previous issue, containing 178 pages and showing among other changes, two of singular import.

The first of these changes and the one that will be most welcome in this age clamors after the practical in education is that which provides for the Bachelor of Science degree, for which no Latin or Greek is required, either for entrance to college or during the College course. Instead of these ancient and honored tongues, German, French, or Spanish with English will make up the required language work. This change is expected to be far-reaching in its influence and to result in the preparation of a great many scientific men, who feel that the classical languages are not directly connected with their life-work. Taken in connection with the two excellent laboratories in Physics and Chemistry now nearly completed this hope would appear to be well-founded.

The second of these changes has to do with the inauguration of the custom of teaching for six days in the week, rather than five days. The recitation work will begin at 7:50 in the morning and close at 1:00 in the afternoon. This arrangement will give a much larger time to the gymnasium and laboratory work than has previously been possible.

The catalogue shows that three hundred and fifty eight students have matriculated during the College year, from thirteen states and more than a hundred counties. There had been talk current on the hill of raising the entrance requirements of fifteen units, or one more than the standard College requires, but the catalogue does not show the change, the requirement of fourteen units as practised for many years being adhered to, in company with the other colleges. The usual sixty-nine hours of college work, with the graduating thesis exhibiting original research, are required of all candidates for the bachelor's degree.

Nothing better for the stomach, liver, or kidneys. Thousands say they owe the lives to this wonderful home remedy. Mrs. Rhineault of Vestal Center, N. Turtle Serum Patient Dies.

Stamford, Conn., May 4.—Adolphus A. Ford, and oysterman, died at his home on Great Hill yesterday of tuberculosis and heart failure.

Dr. H. P. Geib said Ford had been receiving the Friedmann treatment and had responded well. There was a general improvement in his condition, the death being due primarily to heart failure.

Dr. Geib obtained the serum through a friend in New York who associated with Dr. Friedman, he said. He gave several injections beginning on April 18.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed By Burlington Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement.

Read Burlington endorsement. Read the statements of Burlington citizens.

And decide for yourself.

Here is one case of it:

Mrs. T. A. Amick, of Means St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I like Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am glad to tell about the good they did me. My back ached and my sides pained me. I was nervous and my kidneys were weak. When someone told me about Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them. They relieved me in every way."

"When Your Back Is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask DISTINCTLY for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS; the same that Mrs. Amick had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c at all stores. FOSTER MILBURN Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MERIT SYSTEM IN POSTMASTERSHIPS OF FOURTH CLASS

Washington, May 7.—All fourth-class postmasterships, except those paying less than $180 a year, were thrown open to competitive examinations by an order issued today by President Wilson.

These positions are retained in the classified service but about 50,000 incumbents who were covered by executive orders of previous administrations will have to meet all comers in competitive examination to hold their positions with civil service protection.

In a statement making this order public, Postmaster-General Burleson announced that it was the purpose of President Wilson and himself to extend the classified service to include presidential postmasters of the second and third class, probably within a year. This may require legislation by Congress, he said. His plan, which will be laid before the President, would provide for a qualification test for incumbents and applicants, "in keeping with the importance of the offices."

Under President Taft's order of October 15, 1912, fourth-class postmasters were divided into two classes "A," those drawing more than $500, and class "B," those drawing less than $500. Competitive examinations were prescribed for future appointments for class "A" appointments, while the class "B" petitions were to be filed upon recommendations of postoffice inspectors.

Today's order leaves only the office paying $180 or less to be filled upon inspectors' recommendation.

Rules and regulations to govern administration of the new order will be worked out and announced by the Civil Service Commission as soon as possible.

The post master general issued a statement explaining the purpose of the new executive order, declaring that President Taft's action in putting fourth class postmasters in the classified service was not sufficient, and that the mere placing of "great hordes of persons" in the classified service was not in conformity with the spirit of the civil service, there were no tests to determine the merits of applicants.

The new order specifically requires a competitive examination and selection by postoffice inspectors from among the first three eligible applicants. The order places the age limit for appointees at 65 years.

Mr. Burleson in his discussion of the situation indicates that the Wilson administration wishes to take the fourth class postmasters out of politics, but points out that Democrats as well as Republicans will have an opportunity under competitive examinations to show their fitness.

Now How Did He Know.

The talk had drifted to the weight of persons when young Mr. Sappeigh observed:

"Appearances are often deceptive. Now Miss May here is heavier than you would think." "In the moment" of silence which followed this remark the young lady's brother asked, "How do you know, Mr. Sappeigh?"
