Intermingled with the scene of the forest was the flower of the class the Daisy.

The class motto "Excelsior" from its elevated position at the head of the auditorium was interwoven by the flower of the class the "Daisy."

The evening was spent in a very social way making a lot of new acquaintances and enjoying numerous games. Refreshments consisting of cream, cake and mints was served in the class colors gold and white. To make the occasion complete a punch bowl filled with fruit punch flowed freely. Thus the class of 1913 and its annual senior reception will linger in the minds of all present as one of the greatest events of its kind during the history of the school.

Admittances was hard to secure at the Burlington Graded School Thursday night this being the night the graduation class presented their class exercises which was rendered in the form of a play and entitled "Schoolin'." The following characters took part: Agnes Faucette, A Gypsy Class Prophet; Carrie Willis Statistician; Poetess, Joillette Isley; Historian, Pauline Coble; Testation, Paul Davis; Giftorian, Mary Teague; Valetorian, Clara Stewart; The dignified one, Ruth Browning; Grumbling Julia Cates; Sympathetic, Elizabeth Garvin; Scary, Mamie Guthrie; Sarcastic, Emily Huffman; Dreamy, Ruth Lee Holt; Innocent, Evie Lamb; Informing, Margie Loy; Pacifying, Hallie Rea; Mebane; Hungry Erwin Montgomery; Jolly, Lala Patterson; Reproving, Grace Patterson; Original, Imogen McCuller Scott; Inquisitive, Bessie Lee Sellers; Baby, Lena Walton; Modest, Lois Workman; This cast of characters included Mr. Grundy proprietor of back way farm and father of Jean, this character was played by Clyde Andrews.

The play represented the senior class of the Burlington Graded School of 1913 on a picnic on the day before graduation. The farm of Mr. Grundy was secured by the picnicers for their days outing. Mr. Grundy was very much prejudiced against school and education because his daughter had once been separated from him whom he supposed was drowned while he and his daughter were attempting to cross a swollen stream in returning to a school at which she was attending.

After much persuasion by the school the farmer consented to allow the prophet to tell his fortune who told him his daughter was not dead, which came true as it was learned that Jean the prophet was the daughter of the old farmer. The meeting of father and daughter caused much excitement and great rejoicing. Thus the prophecy of the class was given by Agnes Faucette, Carrie Willis who introduced each member of the class to the prophet proved herself well fitted for this place. Joillette Isley the poetess was very classy in her rendering poetry. The class historian Pauline Coble gave the trials and troubles of four years of study as well as the pleasure and happiness of mingling with each other as school mates.

Mary Teague the Giftorian presented each member with a prize which appeared suitable after a careful study of the needs of each member of the class. The last will of the class was presented by Paul Davis. The valetorian of the class was through that who had made an average of more than 30 during the four years of school work. Hallie Rea and Mary Teague being second and third. After the picnic was finished the class song and play was given.

Those who received free scholarships to colleges were, Catawba college, Emily Hoffman, Trinity College Joillette Isley, and University Chapel Hill, Erwin Montgomery. Friday night the commencement came to a close with the literary address delivered by Clarence H. Poe Editor of the Progressive Farmer, Raleigh N. C. After a musical duet by Lucile Page and Grace Moore and the invocation by Rev. T. A. Sikes. The speaker was introduced by Prof. Singletary who in his introductory remarks told the audience that Mr. Poe was not only an Editor but an Author also having written several books one of which is about the work of the immortal Charles E. Aycock, and that he was at the head of a system of papers with a circulation of one hundred and forty thousand. Mr.

gave several witty and humorous jokes after which he assured the people of Alamance that he was glad to be in their midst, as he was coming in contact with the people who were near ancestors of his he having been born in Chatham county. The address was a strong appeal to the people for education. In the address he told the people that we have one resource in Alamance County and if we cultivate this resource we must educate the children. He compared the worth of the same soil in North Carolina, Africa and Massachusetts, showing that in Africa the value was decreased and in Massachusetts increased because of educational surroundings, hence the wealth of the country depends on its educational advancements and the country that is loyal to its educational opportunity raises men as was once said by a native Scotlander who was asked the question what his native people raised he quickly responded. "We raise men."

We must educate all people in order to secure and keep our great men with us. He illustrated that educated people can do more and better work than an illiterate people by showing what invention and skill has done.

The speed limit of the old Washington hand press was one hundred and fifty papers a hour against twenty six thousand in our present age. He urged that domestic science should be taught in all schools that the boys instead of being drilled year after year on French and Latin roots should be drilled on corn and cotton roots. After the speaker had concluded Prof. Singletary delivered diplomas to forty five Grammar School graduates and twenty four seniors. Medals and prizes were delivered by Rev. J. D. Andrew to those having won same during contest.

A beautiful gold prize was presented Prof. Walker by the senior class. Prof. Singletary receiving a gold prize from the seniors and another from the School Board and a beautiful leather couch from the citizens of the town.

The gold prizes were presented by Rev. T. A. Sikes and the couch by Hon. E. S. W. Dameron.

Much pathetic feeling was expressed by the different speakers at the leaving of Prof. Singletary. Rev. D. McIver stating that we were especially indebted to the Prof. for three things: First the spirit of athletics on the base ball ground, Second: the spirit of debating and Third: the moulding of the Christian character. Thus closed a week of commencement.

As Many a Burlington Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it. The Urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney pills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Burlington people testify to their worth.

J. A. Harder, Davis St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I was troubled a great deal by backache and dull pains through my loins and sides. I often noticed that the kidney secretions were unnatural and passed entirely too frequently. Upon the advice of a friend, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at the Freeman Drug Co. I had used them but a short time before my kidneys were normal." For sale by all dealers. Secretary Daniels To Annapolis Today.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—Secretary and Mrs. Josephus Daniels returned to Washington today, only to prepare for a trip tomorrow to Annapolis, where Mr. Daniels will spend the day and a part of Thursday inspecting the Naval Academy.

The Secretary plunged head-on into a mass of work as soon as he arrived today, and was a target of a cross fire from a score of newspaper men in the afternoon. Mr. Daniels has been compelled to decline several invitations recently on account of conflicting engagements. One disappointment in particular is his inability to attend the annual commencement exercises at the State Normal and Industrial College in Greensboro next week. He will speak to the Sunday schools of Baltimore Sunday on their annual festival day, which prevents his being able to go to North Carolina. He cannot attend memorial services in honor of the late Senator John B. Henderson for the same reason. He has declined an invitation to the dinner to be given the newspaper men of the South on May 31, as he is to inspect the New Rochell, N. Y., (Of "Minutes from Broadway" fame), on June 23 at the celebration of the 225th anniversary of the settling of that town. He will be there on the gain day of the week's festivities.

In the absence of both Secretary Daniels and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt Monday. Victor Blue, a North Carolina was Secretary of the Navy. When the Secretary is here, Victor Blue is head of the bureau of navigation. He was from Richmond county. "Surgeon General Rupert Blue is his brother.

Police Raid 11 "No-Tax" Stands.

Durham, May 23.—The police officers raided eleven "no tax" stands this morning and took almost all of the brew in the various places to the police station. All of the joints had been well stocked for Saturday and also for the coming week, when a large trade will be in the city to attend the circus.

No arrest have been made, and the proprietors of the places are wondering just what the officers intend to do. It is generally understood that they have samples of all the beer analyzed, and if the stuff is found to contain more than the amount of alcohol allowed by the law, warrants will be issued in which the eleven proprietors of the places will be charged with a violation of the prohibition law.

It is estimated that about fifty barrels of the stuff is now in the hands of the officers, possibly $500 worth of "no-tax and beer combined.

Oakdale Items.

We are glad to learn that Miss Grace Fogleman who has been very sick is improving slowly. Also Mr. Bud May who went to Baltimore a few weeks ago, is some better and hopes to be home soon. We wish them both a speedy recovery. The R. F. D. carrier on Harts-horn has equipped himself for making his rounds quickly. He has bought him a Ford auto. The patrons are very well pleased with the change as it enables them to get their male two or more hours sooner.

Our Oakdale man "Liberty No. 3" still drives his old "Hoss." The Oakdale nursery man Mr. Alfred Spoon has been shipping very nice strawberries what is nicer and better than to go to your own patch and get nice ripe strawberries and smother them in cream and sugar free of charge.

Messrs Tom Spoon Harly and Kemp Foster have returned home from the Baltimore Dental College. We are glad to see them. Miss Nettie Spoon is on a visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Spoon. O Little Mother of Mine.

Sometimes in the hush of the evening hour When the shadows creep from the west,

I think of the twilight song you sang and the boy you lulled to rest; The wee little boy with the tousled head, that long, long ago was thine; I wonder if sometimes you long for that boy,

O little mother of mine! And now he has come to a man's estate, Grown stalwart in body and strong, And you'd hardly know that he was the lad whom you lulled with your slumber song.

The years have altered the form and the life, But his heart is unchanged by time. And still he is only the boy as of old.
