Charged With Crime He Often Punished.

Durham, June 10.—The trail of the case against A. W. Moye, former United States commissioner, charged with retaining, was continued this morning for another week, the State requesting that the continuance be made on account of the absence of one of the witnesses. The case has been one of the most interesting that has been called for trial before the recorder in that the defendant is a prominent citizen of the city and held the Federal position before the appointment of B. S. Skinner and has probably tried more retailing cases than any other man in the city, expecting the recorder.
Mr. Moye is charged with soliciting orders for a whiskey and beer supply house in Richmond and the warrant also brings in the charge of retailing in that Mr. Moye delivered the bill of lading and made the collections for the whiskey. The evidence in that case came out during the recent trial of one of the keepers of the beer-beer saloons.

Deputy Collectors.

Asheville, June 12.—Reuben McBrayer, of Asheville and Briscoe R. Boulden and George P. Crutchfield, of Greensboro have been appointed deputy collectors in the internal revenue department and have been assigned to work under the direct of Internal Revenue Agent R. B. Sams, the supervisor of the two Carolinas.

Eugene Maggi and his wife believed to be the wealthiest persons in Switzerland committed suicide, their act being actuated by sheer lack of interest in life. The joint estate of the man and woman were estimated some time ago at $10,000,000. They retired to their villa here turned on the gas and were found dead in the morning.

Armless Girl Does Things.

(From Popular Mechanics.)
A remarkable demonstration of the control the mind has over the body is provided by Miss Kittie M. Smith, an armless Chicago girl, who uses her feet to do the things the average person accomplishes with the hands. So adept has Miss Smith become that she makes cabinets, book-cases, desks, and like furniture, using with skill all the necessary tools, such as saws, chisels, planes, &c. In nailing, however she uses a hatchet instead of hammer, as the shape of the handle is better adapted for a tight clutch between the toes. Miss Smith also sketches with pen and pencil, does excellent needlework and uses a typewriter for her correspondence. The daily task of making a toilet, including brushing her teeth and washing her face, is done with comparative ease. She is also an adept gardener, using all ordinary implements with her toes, in the garden of the home for disabled children, which she has founded at Maywood, a Chicago suburb.

VALUABLE ADVICE

Burlington Citizens Should Profit By the Following Statement.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used by this Burlington resident. Their merit was shown—the story told.
Now comes further evidence. The testimony is confirmed. The remedy was tested—the results lasted.
Could Burlington residents demand stronger proof?
It's Burlington testimony. It can be investigated.
Mrs. Bertha Stanfield, 1015 Dixie St., Burlington, N. C. says: "The endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills before, was correct. I am glad to confirm it now. I was in bad shape with backache and had trouble in straightening after stooping. I was also bothered by nervous spells. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and got some. They helped me in every way. The pains left and my kidneys became normal."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. FOSTER-MILBURN Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Cures Bad Sores. Other Remedies Won't Cure The worst cases, no matter of how long standing, are cured by the wonderful E. J. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil. It relieves Pain and Sores at the same time. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Burned Money is A Real Sign of Frost.

Blaine, W. V., June 12. Despite the growing confidence of the public in the stability of banks, thousands of people of the United States, still incredulous, bury their savings in the ground or hide them in the oven of cookstoves for safe keeping according to United States Treasurer John Burke in an address before the convention of the West Virginia Bankers' association.
"Every fall," said Mr. Burke, "the treasurer's office receives many fragments of burned paper money which had been stored in stoves during the warm weather and the hiding places forgotten until the awful discovery of the charred bits raked out after the fires have been built with the approach of frost. About 2,000 such cases are received yearly. This is the treasurer's means of tracing the frost line from Canada to the gulf."

TROUBLES OF BUSTER

Mailing Clerk Tells Why his Dander is Up.

Paul H. Brown, better known in Charlotte as "Buster Brown" who is connected with the circulation department of The Observer, is in trouble. When the bunch hit the male pen last night they found the Pilot Mountain giant occupying three chairs and slinging proof sheets in every direction.

"What's wrong, Buster?" asked Groome, the latest addition in the city room.

"I'm mad—fighting mad" answered Buster, as he bit a cigar half in twain.

"Wherefore?"

"Well, it's this way," answered the modern Goliath. "You know we have two or three subscribers on our mailing list and during the run of a week a few people will want their address changed from some place to another town, and here tonight I get two letters signed by the same identical name of Brown—just like my name—same initials one wanting his paper to go to Montreal and the other wanting his at Hendersonville. I have looked over our entire Brown list and we have over a hundred and there are seven initials but where the trouble comes in is that they don't say where they want their paper changed from. They just say:

"Please change my paper to" and leave the rest for me to guess.

"I know they just forget" and don't intend to cause trouble but I have to write each person a letter asking him where he came from. Sometimes we get 20 to 30 a week just like the one we got tonight and it is some job looking them up."

After unburdening his mind in the above fashion, Buster waded up his proof sheets, pulled his hat down over his eyes, kicked over the chairs and waded out into the dark.

Keep Still

Keep still. When trouble is brewing, keep still. When slander is getting on its legs, keep still. When your feelings are hurt, keep still, till you recover from your excitement at any rate. Things look different through an agitated eye. In a commotion once I wrote a letter and sent it, and wished I had not. In my later years I had another commotion, and wrote a long letter; but life rubbed a little sense into me, and I kept that letter in my pocket against the day when I could look it over without agitation and without tears. I was glad I did. Less and less it seemed necessary to send it. I was not sure it would do any hurt, but in my doubtfulness I leaned to reticence, and eventually it was destroyed.

Time works wonders. Wait till you speak calmly, and then you will not need to speak, it may be. Silence is the most massive thing conceivable sometimes. It is strength in very grandeur. It is like a regiment ordered to stand still in the mad fury of battle. To plunge in were twice as easy.
