Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.

CRAIG TALKS ON RATE FIGHT

Asheville, N. C., July 23.—In his first public utterance since the cashing of an extraordinary session of the legislature, Governor Locke Craig, speaking at Black Mountain at the big rally day celebration yesterday, declared that while he is governor his energies will be directed towards securing justice from the railroads for the people of North Carolina. Governor Craig declared that unjust freight rate discrimination against the people of this section has prevented them from getting the best results from their energies and resources.

"While I am governor," said Governor Craig, "all the energy of my being shall be directed toward requiring the railroads to do justice to my people. I will not lay the weight of my hand on the railroads or any other corporation unjustly any more than I would upon the farmer, the merchant or the boarding-house keeper but they must and shall be required to treat the people whom I represent with justice and give unto them equal rights to make an honest living which the people of other States have."

Following the speech of Governor Craig, R. O. Alexander introduced a resolution commending the governor for the stand which he has taken and pledging approval of what he has already done. The resolution asks the legislature to enact such laws as will maintain and enforce the sovereign powers of this commonwealth, compensating the people for the wrongs and discriminations which have been imposed upon them and forever preventing the justices from which North Carolinians have long suffered.

The resolution declares that the railroads of this State have taken millions of dollars unjustly and have deprived the residents of the State of the right to get legitimate returns for their energies and resources. The resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote.

STRAY SHOTS

What She Wanted.

A teacher asked her pupils to draw a picture of what they wished to be when they grew up. The pupils went to work, some drawing pictures of soldiers, sailors, policemen, fine ladies, etc.

They all handed in the result of their work, except one little girl, who sat quietly, her pen in front of her and her pencil in her hand.

"Well, Sarah, don't you know what you want to be when you grow up?" asked the teacher.

"Yes, I know," answered Sarah, with a worried look, "but I don't know how to draw it."

"What is it you want that you can't draw?"

"I want to be married."

Wanted His Share.

Eli Perkins used to relate this anecdote of President Lincoln: One day an old negro, clad in rags and carrying a burden on his head, ambled into the executive mansion and dropped his load on the floor. Stepping toward President Lincoln, he said: "Am you de president sah?"

"I am," said Mr. Lincoln. "If dat am a fac' I'se glad to meet yer. Yer see, I'se away up dar in de back o' V'iafinia and I'se a poor man, sah. I hear de is some pervisions in de constitution for de culled man, and I'm here to get some of 'em, sah."

Its Use.

A teacher in a lower grade was instructing her pupils in the use of a hyphen. Among the examples given by the children was the word "bird cage."

"That's right," encouragingly remarked the teacher. Now, Paul tell one why we put the hyphen in bird cage."

"It is for the bird to sit," was the starting rejoinder.

Color Easily Changed.

He—I visited that fashionable palmist this afternoon and he told me I'd marry a blonde.

Miss Brunette—Did he say when the marriage would take place?

He—Yes, in three months. Miss Brunette—Well I can easily be blonde by that time, dear.

Poor People.

Two amateur burglars were reconnoitering a neighborhood. One pointed out a prosperous-looking house as a likely subject for their efforts.

"Nope," said the other, "Tain't worth while crackin' that house. I looked through the winder and they're so durn poor that two ladies actually had to play at one piano."—New York Globe.

Did He Get it?

"Won't you tell a nice little story for the lady?" asked a fond mother of her four-year old boy whom she was showing off to her guest, according to The Chicago Record-Herald.

"I don't know a 'tory," lisped the youngster, bashfully.

"Oh, yes, you do," pleaded his mother. "Just a little story."

"Will you div' me a kiss?" The boy's eyes brightened.

"Yes, a nice kiss for a nice little story."

"All right. Once upon a time there was a nawful nice big vase in the parlor an' I just broke it. Do I get the kiss mamma?"
