Adding and Subtracting

Typewriter

(Wahl Adding Mechanism)

This machine does something that only the brain, directing the hand, has hitherto been able to do—that is, write and add (or subtract) on the same page.

But this is not all. It does such work more easily, more rapidly, and more accurately than the human brain has ever performed similar labor.

Thus the machine is human in what it does and super-human in the way it does it.

ANNUAL MEETING OF PRESS AT ASHEVILLE ENDS WITH A DINNER

Asheville, N. C., The business sessions of the convention of the North Carolina Press association came to a close this morning with the election of officers, Clarence Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer, being chosen president, succeeding James H. Caine, of the Asheville Citizen. No meeting place for next year was decided on.

The other officers are: W. C. Hammer, Asheville Courier, first vice president; J. H. Cowan, Wilmington Dispatch, second vice president; D. L. St. Clair, Sanford Express, third vice president; J. B. Sherrill, Concord Times and Tribune, secretary treasurer; B. H. Depriest, Shelby Highlander, historian; W. Lawrie Hill, Our Fatherless Ones, poet; R. F. Bleasley, Monroe Journal, orator. The executive committee remains intact with the exception of one place James H. Caine, of the Asheville Citizen, succeeding R. M. Phillips, deceased.

The principal speaker at this morning's session was President W. W. Finley, of the Southern railway. Mr. Finley spoke from manuscript on "Relations of the Press and the Railways." His address was most interesting and he declared it is his belief that the press and the railroads, working in harmony and cooperation, can be among the most effective factors in community development. Among other speakers were W. C. Dowd, Charlotte News, on "The Newspaper, Its Mission"; Rev. J. O. Atkinson, D. D. Christian Sun, on "Accuracy in Newspapers"; O. G. Dunn, New Bern Sun, on "Subscription Contests and Premiums—Do They pay?" Clarence Poe, Progressive Farmer, on "What Are We Here For?" and D. J. Whichard, Greenville Reflector, on "The Newspaper's Part in Civic Developments."

The papers presented by each of these speakers proved most interesting, suggesting many important points to the editor for improvement of methods and for raising of standards in newspaper work. Two memories were read during the morning, one of Robert M. Phillips, by Wade H. Harris, Charlotte Observer and one of James Gaston Boylan, by W. C. Bivins, Albemarle Enterprise. The history of the association during the past year was presented by the historian, B. H. DePriest, of the Shelby Highlander.

This evening the visitors formed a party at the Majestic theatre following which there was a dinner at the Grove Park in which was one of the most brilliant affairs of the season. Tomorrow the newspaper men will be given a trip to Waynesville.

In the course of his annual address before the convention Jas. H. Caine of the Asheville Citizen, the retiring president, paid a beautiful tribute to the late Robert M. Phillips of the Greensboro News. Mr. Caine said:

"And yet there is a note of sorrow, as we recall with grief of spirit that death has laid a heavy hand upon our association in the last year. Of those noble spirits who have said their last farewell to us, lips more eloquent than mine will speak in well-deserved eulogy. But I cannot forebear the mention of that loyal and devoted soul, Robert M. Phillips, for he was my close, personal friend. For the first meeting in ten years I miss and we will all miss the warm hand-clasp of fraternal feeling, the light of friendly greeting that kindled in our brother's eye. Bob Phillips never said a mean thing nor ever did a dirty one and in his passing our association indeed lost a pearl of great price. He was a gentle, he was good; in his heart there was no guile. May he rest in peace."

Mr. Cardeno F. King brother of our townsman Jno. F. King died Monday afternoon at Boston Mass.

Minister to China.

Washington, July 16.—Another of the foreign posts which President Wilson has had so much trouble in filling was disposed of today when the president decided to appoint Prof. Paul Reinisch, of Wisconsin university to be minister to China.

Prof. Reinisch, a personal friend of the president called at the white house today in company with Secretary Bryan presumably to discuss currency. It was learned after his departure, however, that the post at Pekin was offered him and he will probably accept.

Professor Reinisch is professor of political economy at Wisconsin university and has writtenseveral works on that subject and also books dealing with world politics.

They Have Agreed.

New York, July 16.—The managers committee representing the eastern railroads and the union leaders who demanded an increase in the pay of conductors and trainmen have come to an understanding which in all probability will end all talk of a strike for several weeks to come.

After a conference between the railroad officials and the union leaders the following message was forwarded to President Wilson:

"The conductors and trainmen and the conference managers of the eastern roads are jointly desirous of the immediate services of the board of mediation and conciliation as called for in the Erdman act. We should be glad if the commissioner of mediation and conciliation would immediately advise us on his confirmation in order that we may get into communication with him."

No further statement was made by either side to the controversy and all seemed satisfied with the outcome.

Street Improved.

Credit should always be given where credit is due. In accordance with this, we give the automobile committee who met before the Board of Aldermen and petitioned that the street at Holt-Cates corner be fixed. The street has been much improved and can now be easily passed over by an automobile. We therefore give credit to this committee and trust they will urge other necessary improvements.

WORRY OF MILLIONAIRE

New York, July 24.—Anthony N. Brady who died in London, England Tuesday night left an estate estimated at $25,000,000. He was a director in 60 corporations and controlled some of the largest public utilities in New York state. He was 72 years old. He sailed from New York a week ago apparently in good health, but broken spirited over the death of his daughter and other relatives in a recent train wreck in Connecticut. His body will be shipped to America Thursday.
