MR. LEWIS A. RIFFLE tells his experience with coughs and colds that lead to nervousness and debility.

Colds are often aggravated during the Summer because inactive bowels and a stomach out of order are prime causes in keeping a cold from getting well. Pe-ru-na has very beneficial laxative qualities that neutralize such conditions. Its tonic ingredients tone up the system, and thus invigorate the stomach's functions to normal activity. Mr. Riffle's experience is especially interesting at this time of the year because it shows the close relationship there is between a nervous breakdown and a neglected cold. Pe-ru-na should be kept in the home at all times, that a cold upon its first appearance may be treated promptly and successfully. This often saves money and time, and what is more important, a great deal of vitality. Mr. Riffle, of 758 Gautenbein Ave., Portland, Ore., writes: "I have found Pe-ru-na a most remarkable medicine for building up the system and for curing coughs and colds. I took it for four weeks a few months ago when I was all run down, nervous and debilitated, and it quickly restored my health. I always keep it on hand, as a few doses will cure a cold if taken in time." People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Pe-ru-na Tablets.

Attainments of Safety in The Air.
Jueisy, France, Sept. 1—The daring French aviator Pegond, who on August 20, made a parachute drop from an aeroplane from a height of 900 feet, accomplished a much more remarkable feat today which at first sight appeared to be an extraordinary piece of aerial acrobatics, but which experts declare was an epoch making experiment towards the attainment of safety in the air. Briefly, Pegond caused his monoplane to describe a gigantic letter S in the sky during which he was flying upside down for about a quarter of a mile. The strictest secrecy was maintained prior to the test and only a few persons were out when Pegond took the air. He mounted rapidly to a height of more than 3,000 feet, describing a curve; then the forward part of the machine was observed to incline toward the earth. Through glasses the spectators saw the propeller and the monoplane further incline until it was perpendicular with the earth. It seemed as if nothing could stop the headlong plunge. As the machine dropped swiftly the tail dipped again toward the earth and the pilot appeared head downward. Seconds which seemed hours, passed. With an almost imperceptible curve the machine shifted its course to a straight line, the pilot in the same position. How long he remained upside down the anxious watchers could not determine, but it was long enough to cause them to believe that he would never right himself. Presently the monoplane dipped again, and with a graceful curve assumed an erect position. Pegond flew for a few minutes to and fro and descended by a series of beautiful spirals. On landing the aviator said: "Everything went splendidly. The levers answered the slightest touch. I remained for a long time head downward, because I wanted to, not because I couldn't put it up. Sensation is strange but not unpleasant, and the machine did not pinch at all. I went very slowly so as to avoid subjecting the machine to too violent strain, but had I wanted to I could have righted myself much more quickly." Pegond's experiment was prompted by the theory recently expressed by Louis Bleriot that in the paramount problem of attaining safety in the air, automatic self righting devices and parachutes are beside the question; that they are just as much at the mercy of a sudden violent gust as the ordinary air craft. Bleriot pointed out that even birds are known to have been capsized by squalls; yet they were able by folding their wings to withdraw most of their surface from the action of the air. It was urged that an endeavor should be made to so construct aeroplanes that they could not be capsized. Pegond undertook to demonstrate that the ordinary aeroplane, not fitted with any special device, was possessed of much greater stability than was of the opinion that he succeeded brilliantly.

Conceited.
The Detroit Free Press tells of this conversation of two girls. "So you broke your engagement with him?" "Yes." "What for?" "He's a conceited thing. I simply couldn't stand him." "I never heard him brag. What makes you think him conceited?" "All the time we were engaged he never once told me that he was unworthy of my life."

"Clean Up the Bowels and Keep Them Clean"

There are many remedies to be had for constipation, but the difficulty is to procure one that acts without violence. A remedy that does not perform by force what should be accomplished by persuasion is Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets. After using them, Mr. N. A. Waddell, 315 Washington St., Waco, Tex., says: "Almost all my life I have been troubled with constipation, and have tried many remedies, all of which seemed to cause pain without giving much relief. I finally tried Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and found them excellent. Their action is pleasant and mild, and their chocolate taste makes them easy to take. I am more than glad to recommend them."

"Clean up the bowels and keep them clean," is the advice of all physicians, because they realize the danger resulting from habitual constipation. Do not delay too long, but begin proper curative measures. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are a new remedy for this old complaint, and a great improvement over the cathartics you have been using in the past. They taste like candy and work like a charm. A trial will convince you. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory after trial, return the box to your druggist and he will return your money. 12 MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Fall Painting Economy

- The wood is thoroughly dry.
Summer's sun has removed all moisture.
 - Paint penetrates deeper into dry wood.
The deeper it goes the better it holds.
 - Fall weather is warm, dry and dependable.
Little danger of cold, damp, rainy days, which endanger the durability of the paint.
 - Wet weather decays and destroys unprotected surfaces.
Lack of paint means unsightly and less valuable property.
 - Fall painting keeps out winter moisture.
The greatest enemy to the life and beauty of all structures.
- If it's a surface to be painted, enameled, stained, varnished or finished in any way, there's an Acme Quality Kind to fit the purpose.
