STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theodor's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it. I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it. I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me." Theodor's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest. Get a package today. Only a quarter.

REPLIES TO PRESIDENT'S CRITICS.

Mr. Pou Declared If What They Say Was So, The President Should be Impeached.

Washington, April 29.—Representative Pou, of North Carolina, delivered a stirring address in the House today. He said in part:

"Mr. Chairman, at this moment the republic is praying for peace. This is the twentieth century and the people of this nation abhor war. The man who thinks the American people will tolerate war save as a last resort is woefully mistaken.

"The other day at Vera Cruz we were suddenly reminded of the real meaning of war. Oh, how thankful all good men are that today the sky is a little brighter, that the hope for peace is a little stronger.

"Perhaps it is better that these dead soldiers of the Republic yielded up their lives in line of duty away from home and friends. The tragedy of it all is not so heartrending. Mr. Chairman, I repeat it not to distressing that these brave boys died away from home. Let us hope that this first skirmish at Vera Cruz will so arouse the people of this nation and of Mexico to a true realization of what real war between the two nations means, that both shall strive even harder not for war, but for honorable peace. (Applause.)

"Mr. Chairman, just here I cannot help reminding you how unfair have been some of the attacks made upon the President upon this floor. With infinite patience the President has been using every ounce of influence wielded by his great office, nor for war, but for peace; and because he did not rush headlong into a bloody war they said his policy was weak and vacillating and un-American. When the breaking point came and he could stand the insults and affronts to our national honor by a surger no longer, I was actually charged on this floor that President Wilson was about to engage in war with Mexico because he does not like Huerta. Mr. Chairman, no more serious charge could have been brought against any President. If that charge were true, he should be impeached. If the gentleman who brought the charge believes it is true, he should take the initial step in instituting proceedings of impeachment. If the charge is not true, I appeal of the judgment of my colleagues to decide what course should be pursued by those responsible for the course followed by the President.

"The route from the capital to Vera Cruz, April 29.—Anxiety in Vera Cruz as to friends and relatives in the interior has been greatly relieved by the events of yesterday, which show that the Mexican authorities are permitting Americans to come down to the coast. The American colony here settled down today to await news from Puerto, Mex., of the arrival of three train loads of refugees from Mexico City, which the Huerta officials promised Commander Tweedie, of the British cruiser, Essex, would be dispatched from the capital last night.

"The route from the capital to Puerto, Mex., is long and roundabout, and it is not expected that the trains will reach the coast before next Friday. Rear Admiral Badger plans to have a vessel at Puerto, Mex., to meet the refugees. He probably will not send a warship as this might arouse anti-American feeling in a town which up to the present time has been entirely quiet.

"If the refugee trains are filled to capacity it is estimated that 800 persons will be conveyed to Puerto, Mex. It is not known here how many Americans this would leave in the capital.

"Germans Eager to Enlist for America.

Berlin, April 29.—The decisive action of the American Government in regard to Mexico, which put an end to President Wilson's waiting policy, has brought out almost friendly comments by the German press as a whole. The news from Mexico during the week crowded out all European topics.

A semi-official note printed in the Cologne Gazette, cautioning the newspapers to be conservative and reserved, and stating that harsh criticism would result only in marring the extremely friendly relations between Germany and the United States, had a good effect.

The sarcastic comments of last week have been replaced by special articles by military experts on the American and Mexican military resources. Some of these writers declare the task of subduing Mexico will occupy the United States for years, while others say the Americans will make quick, short work of the job.

Many Germans, including officers and non-commissioned officers, would like to enter the American army. Major Langhorne, the military attaché of the American embassy, is deluged with applications from men who want to fight on the American side, and he says that several regiments could be raised here without any trouble.

Mrs. Malone is only one of many Burlington people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. The Last Clipper.

William Brown Meloney has a story in The Philadelphia Press of May 3, entitled "The Last Clipper." This story, in the judgment of the editors, is the very best story that has appeared in the "Pericles O'Brien" series. Some thing that it is the best story that has appeared anywhere for a long time. It is one of the big, manly, full-blooded tales of the sea, that stirs one's manhood and stimulates him to great things.

Second story in this series is one by William A. Dyer, entitled "Ishmael," a wonderful dog story. These are only two of the many features of next Sunday's Press.
