Atkinson Leaves Elon to Join the Chicago Americans.

Elon College, June 9.—There is genuine regret here that Callahan, of the Chicago Americans has signed Atkinson, Elon's famous twirler, because it means his retirement from College baseball. Atkinson may not accept however and it is devoutly hoped that he will not.

"Big Boy," as he is usually styled, has shown himself to be a pitcher of rare nerve. He holds the record for striking men out. Fifteen in a game is his average record, and it matters not what team faces him. He has speed, splendid control, and a head that it would be hard to duplicate. Callahan observed these qualities and sent a scout all the way down from Chicago in May to secure him if possible. The contract offered was so attractive that it is hard for an ambitious sportsman to refuse. Elon is happy and depressed at the same time—happy to have discovered such a man, but depressed at the thought of losing him at the end of his sophomore class. Bob Doak smiles in his good-natured way and hopes all will turn out well.

Bunn Hearne, of the New York Giants is another big pitcher that Elon lost to the big league at the end of his second year. Evans, who last year as a freshman, showed such superb qualities, will be back at his post and two or three other men showed talent, among them Poythress, Poe, and Cooper. The team therefore expects to be in good, aggressive working form for next season. Atkinson left for Chicago today, going from his home in Wake County.

Eight Examinations for Good Positions.

Greensboro, June 9.—Eight open competitive examinations in which men only will be allowed to compete have been announced by the United States civil service commission to take place here in July. These examinations will be held in the federal building and from the list of eligibles certain vacancies will be filled in the departments at Washington and vacancies as they may occur in offices requiring similar qualifications.

The following examinations with the relative annual salaries will be held on July 8:

First class steam engineer, $1,200.
Assistant physicist (qualified in metallography), $1,400 to $1,800;
Assistant Market Milk Inspector, $1,500 to $1,740.
Assistant dairy husbandman, $1,500 to $1,750.
Bacteriologist, $1,200 to $2,000.
Landscape architectural draftsman, $900.

Competitors in these examination will be examined on certain subjects with relative weights. Any eligibles from these examinations who is used in filling an office will be subject to promotion, transfer, or reinstatement as the officials see fit.

July 13 an examination will be held for cartographer in agricultural geography. From the register of eligibles resulting from this examination certification will be made to fill a vacancy in the bureau of plant industry, department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. at a salary of $1,800 a year.

The civil service commission has also announced an open competitive examination for fiber inspectors to be held on July 6. Certifications will be made from the register of eligibles to fill vacancies in the Philippine service with an annual salary of $1,800 to $2,000.

Persons desiring to stand these examinations should apply to the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C.

Our Trade With South America. Washington, May 31.—The United States Department of Commerce has just issued a comprehensive report on "South America as an Export Field," which is of special interest at this time in connection with the work being done by the Southern Railway Company and the companies associated with it in developing trade with South America by way of the Southern ports served by their lines.

This report contains some interesting information as to the methods pursued by the United Kingdom and

Germany which are the two great competitors of the United States in supplying South American markets, and President Harrison of the Southern Railway Company today called attention to the following extract from it as containing valuable suggestions for southern manufacturers and merchants who are interested in the trade opportunities of South America:

"The Germans owe a great deal to their banks, which lend active assistance to schemes of trade promotion; the facility with which shipments are financed and credits handled through them has been noted as one of the greatest German assets in building up their South American trade. The most important influence for effecting this result, however, has been the thorough manner in which the Germans have investigated the special features of each particular market and the pains they have taken to see that their goods fitted in with what the people desired. It is the established custom for young men from Germany who intend to engage in the export trade to spend some years in South America as a part of their commercial education, learning the language and studying the habits of the people. Through them a first-hand and detailed knowledge of the trade is acquired, and the information gained is closely followed. There are also in Germany many private and semi-official associations devoted especially to the furtherance of the German export trade, and these not only disseminate information as to the kind of particular articles required by the trade but often subsidize agents to South America and other foreign fields who make a study of market conditions. The co-operation of all German influences in South America toward the one object of furthering trade has often been remarked, and it has resulted in the present high commercial position of the country in all parts of the continent. The promotion of United States trade in South America does not necessarily depend on following either English or German methods, but, as in the case of these countries, both the investment of American capital and the closer attention to details on the part of American exporters have been important factors in the trade increase of the last few years."

Normal College this Year. We desire to call attention to the advertisement of the State Normal and Industrial College which appears in this issue. Every year shows a steady growth in this institution devoted to the higher education of the women of North Carolina.

Including the Training School and the Summer Session, the college last year had a total enrollment of 1233 students. Ninety of the one hundred counties of the State had representatives in the student body. Nineteen-tenths of all the graduates of this institution have taught or are now teaching in the schools of North Carolina.

The dormitories are furnished by the State and board is provided at actual cost. Two hundred appointments with free tuition, apportioned among the several counties according to the school population, will be awarded to applicants about the middle of July. Students who wish to attend this institution next year should make application as early as possible, as the capacity of the dormitories is limited.

Brandeis' Arithmetic. An acquaintance of Mr. Brandeis some time ago had this conversation with the man who had been more responsible than anybody else for the plight of the railroads at present both in and out of New England.

"Brandeis, you have some mighty god deans on the railroads, but when you say they can, by economical operation, save $1,000,000 a day, you are talking nonsense. . . . ."

Mr. Brandeis replied: "Of course they can't save $1,000,000 a day. But you must remember that when we lawyers ask for damages we always set the amount much higher than we expect to get. Its then up to the defendant to prove how much less than that we may be entitled to recover."

"The Greatest Kidney Remedy on Earth," Says a Grateful Woman.

I want to tell you how much good you Swamp-Root did me. About four years ago, I suffered from what the doctors called "catarrh" and for two years of that time, I endured what no tongue can tell. I also had inflammation of the bladder and I tried doctors medicines without receiving any help. Someone told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

After giving it a thorough trial, I received relief, so kept on using it and today I am a strong and well woman. If I ever feel badly or out of sorts, I take Swamp-Root and it always straightens me out. I honestly believe that this medicine would cure all troubles you recommend it for and it is a pleasure for me to send my testimony and photograph to you. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is one of the greatest medicines on earth.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of July, 1909.
