NEW YORK LETTER.

FROCKS AND THEIR TRIMMING

Braid on Chiffon—Chiffon on Serge

CAPE COLLARS AND CHOKERS.

Winter fashions have been fully settled upon and it is gratifying to say that for many a season, if ever, they have not been as attractive as they are this year. There is a charming variety. Fabrics are rich both in quality and coloring, trimming are artistic, and designs are simplicity itself.

Trimming Notes.

The simple serge and gabardine frocks, so much favored for all daytime occasions, are trimmed effectively with braid, designs in soutache, Hercules and novelty braidings; but the touches that render them distinctive are the curious color notes that are being introduced for contrast on many of the smart new French models.

Pink silk embroidery is often seen on frocks of dark blue serge and a dull reseda wool embroidery is usually smart on dark blue; this wool embroidery is one of the new notions of the winter; it appears on collars, cuffs, girdles, and trimming bands of frocks, coats and blouses. Heavy wool worked out in a rib effect to imitate wide Hercules braid, is a detail of many of the imported serge and gabardine dresses. The various conventionalized soutache patterns on a foundation of net or chiffon, often edged with a band of a flat silk braid or an edge of fur, is much in vogue ling about the throat like a mouse-queue glove, are worn with gowns of serge or velvet. The neckline of the dress is usually rounded in an old fashion curve and finished with a straight band of the material.

At one of the fall openings in Paris a chiffon afternoon frock was trimmed with wide, heavy Hercules braid; following this idea comes a frock of serge trimmed with soutache chiffon.

Interesting Buttons.

Among the button novelties, both for service and for trimming purposes, there is a large gold button, patterned after the plain, four-holed porcelain underwear button; another is an acorn button of brilliants.

White House Reception Results in Rush of Old Soldiers and Their Wives.

Washington, Sept. 30.—What had been planned today as a brief reception at the White House for members of organizations affiliated with the Grand Army of the Republic, in annual reunion here, developed into a rush during which nearly 5,000 old soldiers and their wives shook hands with President Wilson, for two hours they filed through the historic East Room of the White House, each receiving a smile and handicap from the President.

A SOFT ANSWER.

A tramp approached a certain Downs, Kan., home the other morning, rapped on the back door and when the lady of the house appeared he began to clear his throat, preparatory to telling his hard-luck story according to The Downs Times.

"Get away from here," said the woman, "I never feed professional bums."

"But, madam, I am not a professional bum," said the tramp. "I am a psychologist traveling in the interest of science. I read character at a glance. In looking into the soulful depths of your beautiful eyes, I read there that you are by nature a kind-hearted, gentle, generous woman. It is these noble impulses and the contemplation of charitable deeds that keep you looking so young and handsome."

"You poor, tired, hungry man," said the woman. "Come inside and I will give you some breakfast."

GOOD HUNTING.

It was at St. Andrews in Scotland, the home of golf, where the links stretch away over the moors by the sea, and dear, quiet Aunt Mary had gone up from London to visit a golfing family of nephews and nieces. At tea the first afternoon some one managed to stop talking golf long enough to ask, "Well, Aunt Mary, how did you spend the morning?"

"Oh, I enjoyed myself immensely, my dear. I went for a walk on the moor. "A good many people seemed to be about and some of them called out to me in a most eccentric manner. But I didn't take any notice of them. And, oh, my dear, I found such a number of curious little round things! I brought them home to ask you what they are."

Hereupon Aunt Mary opened her work bag and produced 24 golf balls.—Youth's Companion.

GALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out" if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour use take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

for trimming the more dressy frocks; the wide braids, in numberless attractive designs, are popular as well. The standing soutache designs are favored for yokes and chemisettes and for the half belts so much a feature of the smart panel Princess dress. The wide braids are often used for an entire panel or yoke on a skirt; also for cuffs and the standing hand collars which appear on so many of these cloth dresses.

Cape Collars and Chokers

Another quaint and becoming detail of these dark cloth dresses is the collar. Many of the plain redingote serge gowns are made with single or double cape collars. Colored collars of all descriptions are being worn; turnover collars of colored velvet add a smart touch to the choker of the simple dress, and the idea of the colored chemisettes of the summer is being carried out for winter in failles and brocades, striped and figured velvets. Chemisettes of pale pink faille, made with high, unlined, unlined collars, buttoning at the side and wrink-

ILLITERACY IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 30.—"With the exception of Louisiana and New Mexico, Nor. Carolina has the largest percentage of native born white illiterates in the United States." This was the declaration made by W. C. Crosby, secretary of the committee on Community Service, in an address at Chapel Hill on "Moonlight Schools in North Carolina."

"We boast of our good qualities in North Carolina but conceal our faults. We hide our illiteracy as a horse trader does an old sore. The tendency now is to uncover the sore and heal it with the salve of the moonlight schools. In order to further the campaign against illiteracy, the month of November will be set apart and will be observed throughout North Carolina as "Moonlight School Month." A night school will be organized and conducted three nights a week for at least one month in every school district in the State where such illiterates are to be found. The day school teachers yill, in most cases, teach in these night schools. Five thousand teachers have already volunteered for the work. The State Department of Education will place in the hands of each of these teachers a little bulletin outlining the work to be done. The school will hold twelve night sessions during that month. Twelve lessons each month in reading, writing and arithmetic will be given. The reading book will not be a primer such as the children use but something which contains simple sentences and yet which concerns the movement of people with whom those attending the schools are acquainted, together with such sentences as would inspire their county pride and awaken them to continued effort. We want to get the old people interested in this work and get them out to these schools. It is a fact little known that one-seventh of the voting population of North Carolina cannot read or sign their names. This means that one-seventh of our homes are devoid of books or papers. This means that many homes are without the Bible, and eternity is approaching rapidly. The responsibility rests on us. Let us try to clear the stain from our State. Let us hope that when the census of 1920 is taken there will not be a single adult illiterate in North Carolina."

HORNE TO DIE DECEMBER 3 FOR CAPP'S MURDER.

Wilmington, Sept. 24.—Melvin Horn who was last night convicted in Superior Court of the murder in first degree for killing D. L. T. Capps whom he shot to death on streets of city on July 31, last, as result of long controversy over business transaction, was today sentenced by Judge Rountree to be electrocuted on Friday, December 3. Appeal to Supreme Court has been taken.

AFTER VACATION. When a fellow gets back to the job After his two weeks of play He ought to be there with a business-like air And work in a business-like way. His brain should be active and clear, His hands should accomplish a lot, He ought to be right up on edge for his fight, But somehow I find that he's not, When a fellow has loafed for awhile And rested his muscles and brain He ought to rejoice in the work of his choice And be glad to get at it again, He ought to come back with a smile And toil at a double-quick trot; Very keen he should be but it's not so with me And with others I hear it is not. A rest is a tonic for man, To loaf by the lakes and the streams 'Tis supposed to be sure as a balm and a cure For all of his indolent dreams, But I've taken my two weeks of play And I'm back at the huddrumming spot For the tasks waiting me, I should now eager be, Bu. why in the deuce am I not? —Edgar A. Guest, in Detroit Free Press.

FINAL QUESTION. "Em, for goodness sake get those kids to bed," grumbled Jenkins, who had vainly tried to settle down for a quiet five minutes. The young Jenkinse wene aloft and there seemed some prospect of peace until Harold, the eldest who had been allowed half an hour's grace, began butting in with ridiculous queries. "What on earth do you want now?" demanded the harassed parent, as he desperately flung down the paper. "Well did, did Adam only have one name?" "Of course he did. Now, look here any more silly questions and you go to bed, my son." "Yes, pa, but can't I ask a little more about that question?" "Go on with it," said the patient pa. "And, mind, this is the very last." "Well was Adam his first name or his last name?"—Buffalo Enquirer.
A DREAM. I saw your kind inviting smile, Your eyes so full of love; And then embraced you for a while, As lovely as a dove, Then you submitted to a kiss, As rich as golden cream; There I awoke and found that this, Was just another dream. Then as I lay there, yet awake, I felt your presence still; And how I longed that I could make, You subject to my will— Just as I dreamed you looked at me, With love enchanting eyes; With hands held out so lovingly, No lover could despise. But dreams are dreams, they're all untrue, Yet when I dream at night; I'd like to dream sweet dreams of you To keep you in my sight— So when I'd wake I'd see the smile, Your presence always shows; For I must see you all the while, Because my love o'erflows. —J. M. FREEMAN, Hickory, N. C.
GENERAL GRANT'S ATTIRE. It was at the closing exercises of ne of the public schools in Boston that Marjorie was reading a composition of her own "Grant's Werk in the Civil War." She got on most creditably until she reached Lee's surrender at Appropat:ox Court House. She then related how Lee wore his sword and was handsomely attired in full uniform, "while Grant," she announced, "had on nothing but an old, ragged union suit."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.
