ening of the sanguinary battle in the Europe is far from as great as that center of the line about Smolensk, gateway to Moscow. The invaders also claim to have made another deep thrust into the Bolshevist defenses north of Smolenck at Kholm.

Berlin reiterates that the objective of all the Nazi operations continues to be the destruction of the Red forces rather than the immediate capture of territory. That likely gives a fair picture of the position, for while this claim certainly serves as an excellent excuse for failure to smash the Muscovite defenses, yet concentration on destruction of the Red Army is a logical development and the Hitlerian strategy undoubtedly is de-voted in very considerable degree to that end. z
