THE TROUBLE IN FAYETTEVILLE

A few weeks ago the local press excited its readers by flaming head-lines: "Negro Riot," "Rescuing Prisoners," and the like. The military company in Fayetteville was called out and a few colored men were arrested and tried on the charge of "unlawful assembling," or attempting to rescue prisoners from jail.

We have made careful inquiry in the matter and the facts are about as follows: Two colored boys in the country were arrested on a charge of assaulting a white girl; lynching was freely talked of; the colored people were alarmed and put out sentinels to watch the jail at night and give the alarm in case there was any effort to take the boys out. The jailor discovered the sentinels, became alarmed himself and had the parties dispersed. On the second night the military company was called out and every colored man found in the neighborhood of the jail was arrested and the country was thrown into a great fever of excitement over the report of a terrible riot and imminent danger of bloodshed in Fayetteville. These men were tried on charges above stated and bound over to superior court.

There was no unlawful assembling. The colored men simply feared these boys would be taken from the jail and foully murdered. They quietly put sentinels there to watch and notify the public in case of an effort at foul play, or to take such steps they might think best calculated to protect the prisoners. If the colored men had any reason whatever to fear these boys would be lynched, they had a right to take any lawful steps to save them from such cowardly murder. The colored people of Fayetteville have not forgotten the foul murder of Archie Warden on the very steps of the court room in which he was tried and in the hands of the high sheriff of the county. They do not want to see another such blot fall upon the fair name of Cumberland. They read in the press the frequent occurrences of such crimes throughout this Southland. These are an intelligent an honest, an honorable, a brave people. They are not law-breakers, and the men arrested are among the quietest and most intelligent.

We take occasion now to warn the colored people of Fayetteville and all other places against violence, hasty judgment and indiscreet or unlawful action. At the same time we believe the colored men of Fayetteville thought in this case as many others think, that the time has come for this lynching to be stopped. Many of our white citizens think so and with the proper manly actions on the part of white men and colored men who oppose it, it can and will be stopped. We do not believe in violating one part of a law to execute or preserve another part, but we would like to see all parts of the law observed as far as possible, and when the preserving of innocent life is simply preserving and executing the law, to give blood and life is a common duty incumbent upon all rational beings and one disregarded by no race except the American Negro.

The American Negro has many faults brought upon him by the great cause, slavery. Twenty-three years should have freed him from many of his faults.

The colored people here were misinformed as to the charge against these boys. The charge was a common assault while it was thought to be indecent and criminal. There was really no danger of the boys being hurt and there was really no danger of the colored men interfering with anything, but as this is a political year, all advantage is taken of colored men's mistakes. It is said a drunken white man first started the rumor of probable lynching. The whole affair is very unfortunate. It was published by the papers that Broadfoot James Tucker and English Gee were put in jail. Neither of these gentlemen were in jail, but gave bail the first night of the trial. They did as any honorable men would have done and no wrong can be proven against them.

COLORED PAPERS IN THIS CAMPAIGN.

The colored newspaper, like the colored voter, is usually looked upon by Republican leaders as safe supporters of Republican nominees. It is true that the colored man thinks himself a natural Republican and under obligations to give all the time, energy and money in his power for the success of his party. The school teacher, preacher and the editor give their talent, eloquence as the just dues of the Republican party, and think it traitorous to fail to do all in their power.

The colored man is too generous in this particular, and the white leaders expect too much of him. The colored man in the South has been voting now 21 years. It was the abolition, union Republicans of the nation that made us citizens and gave us the ballot. Gratitude, if nothing more, would make a colored man vote for Republican nominees. Is he right in this? When he votes for a Republican to-day does he support the men and principles that freed him and made him a voter? Has the colored man a right to a choice between men and parties, or should this gratitude bind him to continue to prove his loyalty and thankfulness by voting for none but Republican nominees?

The nominees of a party should always represent the principles of that party. As a general thing the Republican party stands now where it stood 21 years ago when the negro began voting. It then believed in a protective tariff; in educating the masses and giving equal political rights to all men. The democratic party was opposed to education and fought every act of the Republican party looking toward securing the rights of the colored man. That party to-day opposes education and protection, but has surrendered its opposition to Negro rights, inch by inch, as it has been driven back by the Republican party.

Since the Negro editor, like the Negro voter, is steadfast, why should he be neglected by Republican leaders and expected to support all men and measures of the party even unsolicited and unrewarded? Negro editors should, like other honest men, support such men and measures as in their judgment will best serve the interests of the people and especially the colored people. They should, like white men, make a business of their work, and neglect their own and their people's interests for no party.

Tariff Literature for All.

The American Protective Tariff League is publishing a most valuable series of Tariff documents. These are prepared with a view not only to state the facts and arguments for Protection, but also to convince doubtful voters, whether they are farmers, laborers, merchants or professional men. Each issue of the series appeals to those engaged in separate industries, and presents indisputable facts, comparisons of wages, cost of living, and other arguments showing the benefits of Protection. Recent issues include the following:

Pages. "The Farmer and the Tariff," Col. Thos. H. Dudley..... 16 "The Wool Interest," Judge Wm. Lawrence..... 24 "Workingmen and the Tariff," "Reply to the President's Free Trade Message," R. P. Porter 8 "Some views on the Tariff by an Old Business Man," Geo. Draper..... 32 "Fallacies of Free Trade," E. P. Miller..... 32 "Wages, Living and Tariff," E. A. Hartshorn..... 104 "The Vital Question: Shall American Industries be Abandoned and American Markets Surrendered?"..... 8 Same in German with addition... 8 "The Advantages of a Protective Tariff to the Labor and Industries of the United States. First Prize Essay 1887. C. D. Hening, Univ. Pa., '87. 32 "Protection" E. H. Ammidown 4 "What is a Tariff?" A WOMAN to do housework.—Must be a good waitress. Apply to MRS. JOHN WILKES.

Republican Platform.

1st. That the interests of the farmer and the laborer are identical, and whatever injuriously effects one works a grievance against the other.

2d. The hand that holds the plow should be honored, and there should be a more equitable equation between the wages of labor and the compensation of the office-holder.

3d. We look upon the purity of the ballot-box as the best possible security against threatening evils and we demand such reasonable State legislation as will fully protect the elector in the exercise of the elective franchise. Any denial of the elective franchise by fraud or violence poisons the springs of power.

4th. Agriculture, manufacture and commerce are the three great factors of civilization and all legislation tending to foster these agencies will receive the support of the Republican party.

5th. While industry and economy are always to be looked to for relief from financial depression, individual success necessarily depends to a great extent upon wise legislation. To this end the total and unconditional repeal of all internal revenue taxes will greatly relieve the present paralyzed industrial condition of the country—both by relieving the country of a swarm of unnecessary officials and will relieve North Carolina from this unequal and unjust tax. Internal federal taxes belong only to war and all revenues for the support of the Federal government (in times of peace) should be collected from customs dues and their collection should be so adjusted as to protect American industries and labor.

6th. The general government should not keep in its treasury any more money than is actually necessary to meet the demands of the government; and as the means of preventing any further accumulation we demand the repeal of the internal revenue system of taxation and the passage of the Blair educational bill as the best method of public education and of distributing the already accumulated surplus in the treasury.

7th. We are opposed to the present system of county government and we demand the election of all county and township officers by the people.

8th. The Republican party favors and will earnestly support any legislation looking to the abolition of all useless State officials and dependencies, and the repeal of all unnecessary taxation, that government itself may not consume that which it was intended to foster and protect.

9th. We favor the working of the public roads by some system more equitable than the present unjust and burdensome one.

10th. That we oppose the present system of hiring out convicts by the State, so as to bring their labor in competition with free labor.
