OUR FEMALE SEMINARY.

The subject of a female seminary or Zion Church in the State of North Carolina was brought before the late Conference at Fayetteville, and discussed at a lively rate, we are told. Now we are satisfied. The question is brought where we have endeavored to get it-in the hearts and mouths of the brethren. We are satisfied because we believe we will have a semiadmit the "desirability" of it. but some fail to see the "feasibility." To those who fail to see the feasibility we would say, if we want and need such an institution, let us set to work to have it. We cannot see the feasibility while there is prejudice against _ it. Let us open our hearts and go to work as we have done before when the way was much darker than in this case. Let not the love for one institution bring about a jealousy against other good and needed efforts. We are told that the discussion upon this question was brought out one Henry Graham claims to have on the report of the committee on education: All parties claimed to favor the idea, but the real enemies to the project contended that it is not yet time ; that we must wait till our institution at Salisbury is better cared for, and that the latter is not sufficiently supported to justify the effort to establish another at this time.

Now the "feasibility does appear" to us, and by the help of the Lord, through our good brethren, we will make it appear to those who cannot see it, by the meeting of the next Annual Conference. We want a few of the leading ministers who can see the feasibility to lend us their aidwhich we are assured-and the feasibility will appear to all for the opening of a female seminary next fall.
