

THE CHARLOTTE NEWS.

VOLUME VII.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 11, 1892

NUMBER 1041

Seigle's
JAN. 11
1892.

The January Fair.

Late and Important News

The value of words is important to us as merchant advertisers. Their value depends upon fitness. No matter how strong and positive they are not hyperbatic if true.

How the people value our words is important.

If we tell the truth about goods that are good and prices are cheap and you tell us our business fellows, we make sure you get bargains and both are helped. But we would not make the same error would you get the bargains if we did not tell you from day to day in good English words of the goods and prices.

That's the basis of the January Fair. Confidence. You believe us.

We have on sale for this week our whole stock of Wraps. Ladies, childrens and Misses, in Capes, Reefers, Newmarkets, etc. We will sell you our $22.50 Wrap at $14.50; 29.00 for 12.00. Newmarkets $18.00 for 9.00; 12.00 for 6.00 and so on.

If you want a Wrap now is the time to get it cheap.

T. L. Seigle & CO.

No. 11 W. Trade St. 18 1/2 S. Tryon St

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

IF YOU SMOKE CIGARS

Of course you want to smoke the best you can get for the money. Our Leaders are here

THE RED DRAGON } Good as the
THE PETIT BOUQUET } average ten cent
THE HOWARD } Cigar.

And our Leaders for ten cents are

Good as the } GRANDIOS
average 15 cent } PRINCE ALBERT
Cigar } FLEUR DE COMMODORE

Burwell & Dunn,

Druggists.

IF YOU HAVE NEVER HAD A PRESCRIPTION PUT UP AT A. R. REESE & CO'S, WE WOULD LIKE FOR YOU TO TRY US ONCE. WE WOULD LIKE TO SHOW YOU HOW QUICKLY AND PROMPTLY WE DO BUSINESS.

A. R. REESE & CO.

THE DEATH OF DR. MILLER.

"I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

Such was almost the last conscious expression of Dr. A. W. Miller as he reached the gate on the journey to whose portals he had sustained and comforted so many of the people he had loved; and so saying, he passed on to receive his crown of righteousness.

It is no ordinary man of whom we write and who yesterday afternoon passed from the scenes of this life. Dr. Miller was a prominent figure in the social and religious circles of the South, and next to Dr. Palmer, was the highest man in the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church. So, therefore, Charlotte's grievous loss is shared in by all the people beneath the Southern sun. His religion was of a character most deep and profound, his devotion to the cause of Christianity was boundless, and his reverence of his creator was sublime. Of no other worker in the vineyard could it be said more truly than of him, that he was a man,

"perfect and upright, and one that feared God and eschewed evil." He was a great searcher after truth and was not only eminently versed as a Bible scholar, but as a theologian and historian he had few living equals.

A profound thinker, a preacher of great power, his influence was naturally broad and was always exerted for the good of the cause of which he was such a devoted upholder. In his death, indeed, "there hath passed away a glory from the earth."

Dr. Miller loved the South and he loved her people. He believed in the Southern traditions and to the South a more loyal son was never born. It was this peculiarity of his character that endeared him to all denominations. He was with our people when war raged the land. It was his words of comfort, of hope and of promise that dried the tear widow's and hushed the orphan's wail. Through all the succeeding years he has endeared himself to the people among whom he has labored. When they were bewildered with doubt and grief, his counsel eased the burden and his hand led them through the darkness into the light. His stewardship has been a long and trying one, but its accounting is all glorious. His name will have an enduring place in Southern history, and succeeding generations will cherish it, for,

"The sweet remembrance of the just Shall flourish when he sleeps in dust."

Local Ripples.
—Mr. Renben Culpepper, one of Charlotte's most prominent citizens, is very ill at his home in this city.

—The farmers could not get to town to-day through the sleet snow and rain, and the cotton men had an idle time.

—A half hour meeting of young men will be held in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian Association to-night at 8 o'clock to which the active members of the Association are especially requested to come. All men invited.

—THE NEWS forecast made some time last October that the winter would be mild up to about January 15, but that from that time to April rough times might be expected, is in a fair way of being verified to the letter.

New Advertisements To-Day.
Dog lost—Jas Roberts.
The January Fair—T. L. Seigle & Co.
The weather today—Jas Harrison & Co.
A shoe worth looking into—A. E. Rankin.

Some favor a tariff for revenue only some a tariff for protection, per se; but a large majority favor the free use of Salvation Oil for bruises, etc.

A TRUCE.

The Whiskey License Cases Go Over to Next February.

The board of county commissioners met at the court house this morning. It was expected that at this meeting Joe Lindy would be done to a finish, but not so. The town was ice bound, the court house was cold and dismal and neither the lawyers nor the commissioners felt like going into the fight again to-day. So it was mutually agreed that the whole matter be postponed to the next regular meeting of the board, which will be held on the first Monday in February. We now get a rest for a brief period, anyway.

Death of a Young Man.
Mr. Bruce Lumpkins, a young man of Chester, S. C., who came here a few months ago, died yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nesbit, on North Graham street, of consumption. His body was taken to Chester on this afternoon's train, for interment. The deceased was a brother to Mr. Sam Lumpkins, who is a telegraph operator in the Richmond & Danville railroad offices here, and his father is the general soliciting agent of the S. C.'s Railroad Company.

No Doubt About It.
That the Lotus Glee Club which will be at the Y. M. C. A. Star Course Friday night is truly one of the best, is evidenced by the flattering praises they received in London, Eng., on the occasion of the Patti concert. The Post says: "The only encores given were by Mme. Patti, Mme. Sterling and the Lotus Glee Club, who sang several pieces delightfully from their delightful repertoire," and the Daily News: "The Lotus Glee Club gave a truly beautiful rendering of 'The Three Fishers,' by Goldee, and, in response to enthusiastic applause, sang a vocal waltz in a fine manner." What is more delightful than a good male quartette anyway?"

Chairman Cowles.
The Washington Star devoted a page to pictures and remarks about the committee chairmen of the present House. In the list, we recognize the face of Col. Cowles, that runs all to board. The Star says of him: The new chairman of mines and mining is a marked man in the House. He is the bare-headed and long-bearded William Henry Harrison Cowles of North Carolina. He comes from the heart of the gold country of North Carolina, and may be able to do his people some good in his new place. He has a testimonial scar two inches long on his cranium, received in front of Petersburg at the close of the war. This is his fourth Congress.

A Murderer Captured.
Late Saturday afternoon, Messrs. J. D. Thompson and J. T. Starnes came into the city with John Wilson, the negro who last June killed another negro named Sydney Burton, in this city. Wilson fled immediately after the murder and had since eluded the officers. He was caught Saturday afternoon at Indian Trail on a warrant issued by Esquire D. G. Maxwell. On being captured, Wilson confessed to the murder. He is now in jail and will be tried at the next term of the Criminal court. Messrs. Thompson and Starnes got the reward of $125 offered for Wilson's capture.

Death of Rev. Dr. A. W. Miller.
One of the Most Faithful Servants in the Master's Vineyard Has Gone to His Reward—The Body will Probably Lie in State To-Morrow—General Grief Throughout the Town.

Dr. A. W. Miller, for 36 years pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Charlotte, died at the manse at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after an illness of three weeks. It was generally known throughout the city that Dr. Miller was sick, but few, even among his most intimate friends were aware of the seriousness of his condition, and when the quiet of the Sunday afternoon was broken by the tolling of the First church bell, many wondered, without knowing what it meant. Like an electric shock, the news went around town: "Dr. Miller is dead."

Dr. Miller went to Huntersville three weeks ago to act as moderator, and while there he caught a severe cold and returned home sick. A week ago he appeared to be better and was able to sit up, when he had a relapse from which he never rallied. He was to have preached his farewell sermon yesterday a week ago, having recently accepted the position of pastor emeritus, but was too sick to appear in the pulpit. Few then realized that his last sermon had been preached.

Dr. Miller had been with the people of Charlotte for 36 years, barring a short period during the war when he was at Petersburg. He first became pastor of the church here, in 1855, and continued for two years. Then he went to Petersburg, and took charge of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church. He gave up that charge in 1857 and returned to Charlotte, since which time he had continuously served as pastor of the First Presbyterian church. It is a matter not only difficult, but really impracticable to attempt a sketch of the life of this eminent man in an ordinary newspaper article. That is properly a matter for the pages of history, and we can only confine ourself to a brief recital of facts regarding his life.

Dr. Miller was one of the original members present at the organization of Mecklenburg Presbytery on October 16th, 1869. Of the ministers then present, Rev. R. Z. Johnston and perhaps two others, are now the only survivors. An historical sketch of Mecklenburg Presbytery was prepared by Rev. Wm. E. McIlwain in 1884, and from its pages we copy the following in reference to Dr. Miller's work: During the second pastorate of the Rev. Dr. Miller, extending from 1875 to the present (March 1884) 444 persons have been received, and of these, 3 are now ministers of the gospel, viz: Rev. W. W. Moore and Richard S. Barwell, received on profession of faith; and Rev. Horace M. Whaling, on certificate. During these years the Second church was organized from the First church. On the 6th of October 1873, a petition signed by 16 persons, all of them members of the First church except one, was read by Dr. Miller to Mecklenburg Presbytery, then in session in the First church, asking for the organization of a Second church in the city of Charlotte. This petition was granted, and 21 of the 30 members who entered the organization were from the First church, and others from time to time have united with the Second church. And yet the First church has now (March 1884) 390 members, thus showing a net gain over all losses by death and removal of more than 120, whilst the growth in the two churches in Charlotte has been from

A PASTOR MOURNED.

DEATH OF REV. DR. A. W. MILLER.

One of the Most Faithful Servants in the Master's Vineyard Has Gone to His Reward—The Body will Probably Lie in State To-Morrow—General Grief Throughout the Town.

Dr. A. W. Miller, for 36 years pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Charlotte, died at the manse at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after an illness of three weeks. It was generally known throughout the city that Dr. Miller was sick, but few, even among his most intimate friends were aware of the seriousness of his condition, and when the quiet of the Sunday afternoon was broken by the tolling of the First church bell, many wondered, without knowing what it meant. Like an electric shock, the news went around town: "Dr. Miller is dead."

Dr. Miller went to Huntersville three weeks ago to act as moderator, and while there he caught a severe cold and returned home sick. A week ago he appeared to be better and was able to sit up, when he had a relapse from which he never rallied. He was to have preached his farewell sermon yesterday a week ago, having recently accepted the position of pastor emeritus, but was too sick to appear in the pulpit. Few then realized that his last sermon had been preached.

Dr. Miller had been with the people of Charlotte for 36 years, barring a short period during the war when he was at Petersburg. He first became pastor of the church here, in 1855, and continued for two years. Then he went to Petersburg, and took charge of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church. He gave up that charge in 1857 and returned to Charlotte, since which time he had continuously served as pastor of the First Presbyterian church. It is a matter not only difficult, but really impracticable to attempt a sketch of the life of this eminent man in an ordinary newspaper article. That is properly a matter for the pages of history, and we can only confine ourself to a brief recital of facts regarding his life.

Dr. Miller was one of the original members present at the organization of Mecklenburg Presbytery on October 16th, 1869. Of the ministers then present, Rev. R. Z. Johnston and perhaps two others, are now the only survivors. An historical sketch of Mecklenburg Presbytery was prepared by Rev. Wm. E. McIlwain in 1884, and from its pages we copy the following in reference to Dr. Miller's work: During the second pastorate of the Rev. Dr. Miller, extending from 1875 to the present (March 1884) 444 persons have been received, and of these, 3 are now ministers of the gospel, viz: Rev. W. W. Moore and Richard S. Barwell, received on profession of faith; and Rev. Horace M. Whaling, on certificate. During these years the Second church was organized from the First church. On the 6th of October 1873, a petition signed by 16 persons, all of them members of the First church except one, was read by Dr. Miller to Mecklenburg Presbytery, then in session in the First church, asking for the organization of a Second church in the city of Charlotte. This petition was granted, and 21 of the 30 members who entered the organization were from the First church, and others from time to time have united with the Second church. And yet the First church has now (March 1884) 390 members, thus showing a net gain over all losses by death and removal of more than 120, whilst the growth in the two churches in Charlotte has been from 230 members in 1870 to 667 in March, 1884—a gain of more than 430. But the growth of the First church in members, in contributions, and church property by no means fully represents the labors of the pastor. During his first brief pastorate of two years in Charlotte, he began his evangelistic labors in the mountain country. In the summers 1855-56, when there were no railroads, he travelled in his buggy from Charlotte, by way of Lincolnton, Morganton, Asheville, Waynesville, Webster, Franklin, and beyond near to the Georgia line—holding meetings all along, the fruits of which remain to this day. Dr. H. W. Moore, of Franklin, one of the most intelligent and devoted elders of the Presbytery, was received into the church on this tour. During his second pastorate he resumed his evangelistic tours in 1866, and before this Presbytery was formed held meetings in Mitchell, Yancey, Ashe, Watauga, Caldwell, Madison, Rutherford, Polk, Buncombe, McDowell, Swain, Graham, Clay and Cherokee. Several of these meetings—in Morganton and elsewhere—were attended with marked results. Since the organization of this Presbytery, by its order he has made annual visits to our mountain country, often preaching where no other Presbyterian minister had ever been heard of seen, spending from eight to ten weeks, and traveling sometimes after leaving the railroads as much as 850 miles by private conveyance.

But Dr. Miller's work is not all embraced in this sketch. He supported several young ministers out of his private means, and was instrumental in establishing the missionary, Ben Ollie, in Jerusalem. Several thriving churches, with growing congregations, established in the mountains, are monuments to his memory.

Dr. Miller was born in Charleston, S. C., and was a loyal southerner. He was preeminently a learned man, and undoubtedly the ablest minister of the State. He possessed a library of rare value, and among the treasures which he collected are many proofs sustaining the authenticity of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. The matter which he has collected upon this subject is invaluable to the historian.

In the death of Dr. Miller, our whole community mourns, for he was recognized by all creeds as a man far above the ordinary, a giant of intellect, a powerful preacher, a friend and defender of the South.

THE REMAINS TO LIE IN STATE.
At the time THE NEWS goes to press, the arrangements for the funeral services had not been completed, but it is more than probable that the wish of the people of Charlotte will be recognized and that the body will lie in state in the First Presbyterian church, tomorrow, the funeral to occur Wednesday. Rev. Edward Mack will officiate at the funeral services, and the pastors of the different churches in the city will act as pall bearers. The interior of the First church is being very heavily draped in mourning. Dr. Miller's body will be interred in Elmwood cemetery where his two children are buried.

Death of Mr. Caston.
Mr. James A. Caston, an aged citizen of Mecklenburg, died yesterday at his home in Long Creek township. He was 71 years of age, and was a highly respected man.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES,
Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing. It is general debility. Try BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It will cure you, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite.

Children and Misses Cloak from 4 to 18 yrs. Jackets " " 8 to 18 yrs. Now offered at very modest prices to close the lot and make room for the grandest line of embroideries ever opened in this house. Every lady not yet provided with a Wrap can get a real nice or extremely handsome one at about half price, not many left but we don't want any stall. Come and get the new and positively the lowest price yet put on such goods.

The Remnant counter proves a success and all are amazed at the wonderful prices found on its goods.
Carpets are also being sacrificed to make room for other goods.
Our line of Moquette Rugs at $2 are extra value.

BETTER NEWS

Blankets! Blankets! Blankets!
The Elklin Blankets mightily near sell and wash themselves. They are pure N. C. wool and go at $4, $5 and $6 a pair, weigh extra heavy and show extra size. Comfort's $1 up.
The sum total of the whole matter is we offer entire lines of new and seasonable goods at very reasonable prices. Just such things as you daily need. A look through the line of Furs, Muffs, etc, woven (seamless) skirts, Muslin Underwear and many other such articles will indelibly impress the fact upon a doubting one.

The favorite cosset waist for ladies is in our stock—that club is growing right along. Remember Cloaks at $4.
Elklin Blankets at $4.
Fur sets had a tumble, at

230 members in 1870 to 667 in March, 1884—a gain of more than 430. But the growth of the First church in members, in contributions, and church property by no means fully represents the labors of the pastor. During his first brief pastorate of two years in Charlotte, he began his evangelistic labors in the mountain country. In the summers 1855-56, when there were no railroads, he travelled in his buggy from Charlotte, by way of Lincolnton, Morganton, Asheville, Waynesville, Webster, Franklin, and beyond near to the Georgia line—holding meetings all along, the fruits of which remain to this day. Dr. H. W. Moore, of Franklin, one of the most intelligent and devoted elders of the Presbytery, was received into the church on this tour. During his second pastorate he resumed his evangelistic tours in 1866, and before this Presbytery was formed held meetings in Mitchell, Yancey, Ashe, Watauga, Caldwell, Madison, Rutherford, Polk, Buncombe, McDowell, Swain, Graham, Clay and Cherokee. Several of these meetings—in Morganton and elsewhere—were attended with marked results. Since the organization of this Presbytery, by its order he has made annual visits to our mountain country, often preaching where no other Presbyterian minister had ever been heard of seen, spending from eight to ten weeks, and traveling sometimes after leaving the railroads as much as 850 miles by private conveyance.

But Dr. Miller's work is not all embraced in this sketch. He supported several young ministers out of his private means, and was instrumental in establishing the missionary, Ben Ollie, in Jerusalem. Several thriving churches, with growing congregations, established in the mountains, are monuments to his memory.

Dr. Miller was born in Charleston, S. C., and was a loyal southerner. He was preeminently a learned man, and undoubtedly the ablest minister of the State. He possessed a library of rare value, and among the treasures which he collected are many proofs sustaining the authenticity of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. The matter which he has collected upon this subject is invaluable to the historian.

In the death of Dr. Miller, our whole community mourns, for he was recognized by all creeds as a man far above the ordinary, a giant of intellect, a powerful preacher, a friend and defender of the South.

THE REMAINS TO LIE IN STATE.
At the time THE NEWS goes to press, the arrangements for the funeral services had not been completed, but it is more than probable that the wish of the people of Charlotte will be recognized and that the body will lie in state in the First Presbyterian church, tomorrow, the funeral to occur Wednesday. Rev. Edward Mack will officiate at the funeral services, and the pastors of the different churches in the city will act as pall bearers. The interior of the First church is being very heavily draped in mourning. Dr. Miller's body will be interred in Elmwood cemetery where his two children are buried.

Death of Mr. Caston.
Mr. James A. Caston, an aged citizen of Mecklenburg, died yesterday at his home in Long Creek township. He was 71 years of age, and was a highly respected man.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES,
Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing. It is general debility. Try BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It will cure you, cleanse your liver, and give a good appetite.

Children and Misses Cloak from 4 to 18 yrs. Jackets " " 8 to 18 yrs. Now offered at very modest prices to close the lot and make room for the grandest line of embroideries ever opened in this house. Every lady not yet provided with a Wrap can get a real nice or extremely handsome one at about half price, not many left but we don't want any stall. Come and get the new and positively the lowest price yet put on such goods.

The Remnant counter proves a success and all are amazed at the wonderful prices found on its goods.
Carpets are also being sacrificed to make room for other goods.
Our line of Moquette Rugs at $2 are extra value.

BETTER NEWS

Blankets! Blankets! Blankets!
The Elklin Blankets mightily near sell and wash themselves. They are pure N. C. wool and go at $4, $5 and $6 a pair, weigh extra heavy and show extra size. Comfort's $1 up.
The sum total of the whole matter is we offer entire lines of new and seasonable goods at very reasonable prices. Just such things as you daily need. A look through the line of Furs, Muffs, etc, woven (seamless) skirts, Muslin Underwear and many other such articles will indelibly impress the fact upon a doubting one.

The favorite cosset waist for ladies is in our stock—that club is growing right along. Remember Cloaks at $4.
Elklin Blankets at $4.
Fur sets had a tumble, at

Alderman Buchanan Ruddy Hurt. Alderman W. F. Buchanan, in coming up town this morning slipped on the icy pavement and had a violent fall. His right leg was broken near the ankle. Dr. McCombs set the fractured bone.

For Selling to Minors.
Messrs. J. D. Ross and Adolphus Bowles, who formerly kept saloons in Charlotte, were arraigned before Esq. D. G. Maxwell today, on charge of selling liquor to minors. Two charges were preferred against each, by Mr. Millard Trotter. Bowles was bound over in two cases $50 bond each. Ross was bound over in one case, $50 bond. The second case against Ross was dismissed at Trotter's expense.

The Weather.
Following is a synopsis of weather prevailing at 8 a. m., to-day: The storm now hanging over this section is central near about New Orleans. Within a radius of 150 miles of New Orleans heavy rains have occurred, notably, 1.16 inch at Meridian, Miss.; 1.06 at Montgomery, Ala.; 2.24 inches at New Orleans, La., and 1.25 inch at Mobile, Ala.; elsewhere, light precipitation has occurred. Temperatures are reported below zero (18 degrees below) from the west, throughout most of the which snow is falling. Continued rain or snow is likely, and stationary temperature.

Not Only Fancy, But It's So.
Several parties standing in front of the Central Hotel this morning, were talking about the caution one should exercise in walking the ice coated pavements. "The fellow who carries his bar room in his pocket ought to be extra cautious," suggested one of the party, "for if he falls"—just then a pedestrian went down in front of the ladies entrance to the hotel. There was a thud, a spind of breaking glass and the unfortunate scrambled to his feet his overcoat pocket filled with the remains of a quart flask and whiskey dripping from his clothing. "That's just what I was going to say might happen to nine men out of ten a day like this," concluded the speaker, as the unfortunate moved away with a capital case of the "Dry" grin.

Now is the Time to Buy OVERCOATS, Price is cut on every

Overcoat we have in stock. WE DON'T STOP AT COST, WE SIMPLY MAKE A PRICE

THAT WILL MOVE THEM. A few of these nobby English Melton Coats are left. We don't want to carry them, hence this cut. Those that were $25.00 are now $16; and the $22.50 ones are $15; Some elegant black double breasted Coats are here, sizes 36, 37 and 38, that were cheap at $20; They go now at $12.50, $13.75, and $15. Very long heavy weight Ulsters that sold for $15 are now $10; Surely it will not require a cold wave to move them at this price.

A few sizes left in Cape Overcoats, some with woolen and some with waterproof linings. Reduced as follows: From $17.50 to $13.75; from $16.50 to $13.50; from $15 to $10. All cheaper coats are reduced in same proportion.

Rogers & Co.

LADIES $2 SHOES.

WE have just received another shipment of our Ladies $2 Shoes. We are now buying these Shoes from the factories. We can't say they are running full time on our orders; but we keep orders there all the time, and keep the Shoes coming, so that we are able to fit any foot. Come in and see what a handsome Shoe we are handing out for a two dollar bill or two dollars in silver. Every pair warranted.

GRAY & BARNHARDT, 19 East Trade Street, CHARLOTTE, N. C. Prompt attention given to all Mail Orders.

SLIPPER SOLES.

Large new stock Slipper Soles just received. The finest goods we have ever offered. Bound Lambs Wool Soles for Ladies and Gents 25c a pair, postage 4c. Plain bound Soles, Ladies sizes 15c, postage 3c; Childs sizes 10c, postage 2c. Cork Soles, all sizes, 10c, postage free. Ladies blk over gaiters $1.25. Ladies gray over gaiters $1.50. Gents black over gaiters $1.25 postage 5c. These are the handsomest and best fitting tops made. Will be pleased to have your orders for them. Order same size as shoe worn.

GILREATH & CO. Open every evening till 8:00; Saturday till 11:00.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.

Ordered Especially for this SEASON'S TRADE.

BEAUTIFUL 13th CENTURY PLUSH ROCKERS, SIXTEENTH CENTURY RATTAN ROCKERS, SIXTEENTH CENTURY TABLES, ALL ARE OF EXCEEDINGLY HANDSOME PATTERNS, THE VERY LATEST THINGS OUT, AND THERE ARE NO MORE TASTY PRESENTS TO BE FOUND ANYWHERE. CALL AND SEE.

BURGESS NICHOLS, Furniture Dealer.

R. S Sloan, UNDERTAKER, Night call, Room No. 6, Bryan building, over Rogers & Co's.