CHARLOTTE, N.C.

Good for Dr. Breslow.

The present administration has inaugurated a most commendable system in street working. It is to take up and cart off the mud from the streets after each rainy spell. This is an excellent idea. It continued for a few weeks Charlotte's streets will be entirely free from mud, and as asphalt, in any kind of weather.

The Philharmonic Concert.

On account of the numerous entertainments that are to take place before the beginning of Lent, the Philharmonic society find it necessary to give their second concert, for this season, on Saturday evening Feb. 27th. The society will be assisted by Miss Brown, Statesville, and Mrs. G. F. Bayon of this city, who will sing the "Tiger Song," and also take the Contralto Role of the Cantata, "The Erl King's Daughter." This is a most interesting and beautiful Cantata, and being rendered by Choral societies all over the country. The concert will conclude with "A Peasant's Wedding in Karinthia." This is a beautiful waltz chorus, something that is within the reach of all music lovers. The society have endeavored to select a program for this concert that will be appreciated by every one who attends. The Philharmonic society is one of Charlotte's best organizations and should be liberally patronized by our people.

You can get more positive discomfort out of a shoe than the square inch than out of almost anything else under the sun to the square mile. If you don't think so, try it. That's one side of the picture. Here's the other: From the right kind of a shoe you can get no discomfort at all; on the contrary, it will be a case of getting satisfaction first, last and all the time. This is exactly what you can depend upon our shoes to give you; they will give you this and nothing else, and before you've worn them ten minutes you'll agree with us.

THE ALBANY CONVENTION.
The Body Organized and Gets Ready for Business—A Protest Tabled—Great Resistance.

ALBANY Feb. 22.—The state committee met this morning previous to the assembly of the convention for the purpose of settling contests. A protest of Cooper Union meeting with resolution for dissolution of today's convention, was recalled by the committee and on motion of Bourke Cochran, by unanimous vote the protest and resolution were tabled. The convention was called to order by chairman Edward Murphy, of the State Committee at noon. The rush was tremendous. Many delegates were shut out through the anxiety of the Albany people to get in. Without formality the chairman introduced temporary chairman Judge McBeebe. Judge McBeebe's reference to D. B. Hill as the leader under whom the Democracy has never known disaster, dishonor or defeat was the sentence of the address that warned the blood of the delegates and the shout that broke into series of rattling yell burst forth from several thousand throats. The Hill club of Elmira waved its banner and the flags of the other organizations and sawed the air as their banners
shouted and waved simultaneously.
Following the speech of McBeebe clerk DeForest called the roll of the delegates, when the name of Lieut Sheehan was called there was a surprising demonstration of applause almost equaling that accorded at the mention of Hill's name by Mr. Beebe.
The commissioners credentials
permanent organization, platform
and delegates, were then selected.

The Evening Star—New Out of Date.

Harrisburg is now deserted by the Northern hunters. Smith, the dog trainer, had a "falling out" with Lawrence, last week and bundling up his dogs, put out for New York. Lawrence and his friends followed a day or two later, and now the cows in that neighborhood do not come home so often in the evening, licking at shot holes in their hides.

THE NEW YORK EXHIBITION.

The People's Party, the People and the Progress of Both These.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The programme of the industrial conference for today will be opened by meetings at a block of the National Executive Committee of the People's Party at Madison Hall and the National Reform Association at Gramercy Park. Henry Tettell of Texas, will call the conference to order. Hon. C. F. Walbridge, president of the city council, will welcome the delegates after which addresses will be delivered by Messrs. T. L. Clark, president of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union; F. V. Fowler, grand master warden of the Knights of Labor, and Ignatius Donnelly, overseer of the farmers of the northwest. Temporary resolutions will then be voted and a committee on resolutions will be appointed.

The appointment of this committee will probably consume the remainder of the afternoon, and then the session will not get down to business before Tuesday morning. Among the latest arrivals are L. V. Fowler, J. W. Hayes, Congressman John C. Davis, A. W. Wright, John Deering, the knights of Labor, and Fred DeForest, editor of the National Economist. In an interview last night, Mr. Fowler said that the platform will have a large place in the programme.

President Roosevelt is at the expected to go through to the next day. The sub-treasurers service and the treasury staff would be disbanded. A plank will be inserted in the platform asking that the federal government interfere with the state regulation of the import trade.

The hopes of those who have been instrumental in forming the new party is shown by an interview with A. J. Street of Illinois, who says that the contemplated plan is not without obstacles. "One of our greatest difficulties," he said, "will arise from the fact that there will be at the present conference men who are interested in the old parties. These men have no right to be there, and they will try to manipulate the affairs. Thereform elements will seek to organize a new political party, comprising all those who object to the present institutions of the government. Suppose you organize a party, what will follow?"

"A call will be issued for a nomination convention by this meeting. There is a disposition among the southern alliance to have this convention deferred until they see whether or not the democratic conference will endorse its policy of the alliance."

What will be the name of the new party?

"I do not know, but it will have a new one. As to its programme, it will fight the saloon element, which is always a source of evil and detrimental to order and good government, but I do not believe the way to fight it should be arranged on a programme and I do not believe it can be done by prohibition. As to the States which we think we can carry when we are organized, I am pretty sure of those west of Mississippi river, Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota and I should not be surprised if we carry Missouri. There is in Missouri as there is in Illinois a growing tendency toward independent political thought, which is more marked to day than ever before. I believe we can also carry such States in the South as Texas, Georgia and Alabama.

There is abundance of material for independent candidates in the States if not manipulated by the Democrats. "Who would be put to nomination for President," he really cannot tell. "I have heard several names mentioned, for one I have heard of Jas. B. Weaver."

"What will be the effect of new organization on the old parties?" It is easy to see, to look at an aspect alone. If we get the temperance people to join hands with us, it will be the worst blow which the Republican party has ever received. I have only one more word to say: We have come together to accomplish something and we mean to accomplish it."

A new Exposition is now Edward Mack.

Services at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning were conducted by Rev. Dr. R. C. Hood, pastor of the Second church. At the close of Mr. Hood's sermon a congregational meeting was held to call a pastor. A practically unanimous call was extended to Rev. Edward Mack, who is now in charge of the Presbyterian church at Gladstones.

The call is intended for one year and he is to have a house and an annual salary of $1000.

This new pastor is a man of Rev. J. H. Mack, and one of the most popular ministers in the South. He is a graduate of Princeton University, and has preached for six years. The condition of people here is critical and there is great need of a pastor. Dr. Mack accepted the call with pleasure, notably by the members of the Presbyterian church.

Mackenloch Ranch in Colorado.

Two plucky Mackenloch ladies, Miss Stinson and Mrs. MacKenloch, sometimes see breaking up a ranch in Colorado. Miss Stinson first settled on the ranch about 1880 until she got a title to the land and she was afterwards joined by Mrs. MacKenloch. A recent letter from them gives something that will be of interest to their Mackenloch friends. They write that they are delighted with their experience out there. The winter they say has been hard, all the rain they have had being in the shape of snow. The winter is dry and bracing however and the only spells of weather sold out over two days. They are running an extensive farm although they are raising crops, and are happy.

The Mandate Proceedings.

In answer to the papers recently served upon them, the members of the board of commissioners of Mecklenburg will appear before Judge John Gray Bynum in the court house to-morrow morning, to show cause why license should not be granted to Capt. J. Esseler, to retail liquor in Monroe. The matter will not end with to-morrow's proceedings, as there will be an appeal, no matter what the decision of Judge Bynum may be.

Andy Gabriel, a tenant on the farm of Mr. John Terrance, in Lemby's township, last week killed his winter crop of four hogs and hung the meat in his smokehouse. Then, to cure it, he built up the usual smoke fire. He also had a pile of straw straw in a corner of the smokehouse. A spark got into the straw, and the result was that it was a horn-blowing occasion for Gabriel. His smokehouse and all its contents were burnt.

Social Notes.

Mrs. Thomas Franklin will give a reception for her new residence on North church-street tomorrow night, to her guests—Misses Diefenderfer and Goffette. Mrs. Walter Liddell will assist Mrs. Franklin.

Mrs. Graham of Davidson College, who has been on a visit to her father, Mr. Jas. Irwin, has returned to her home.

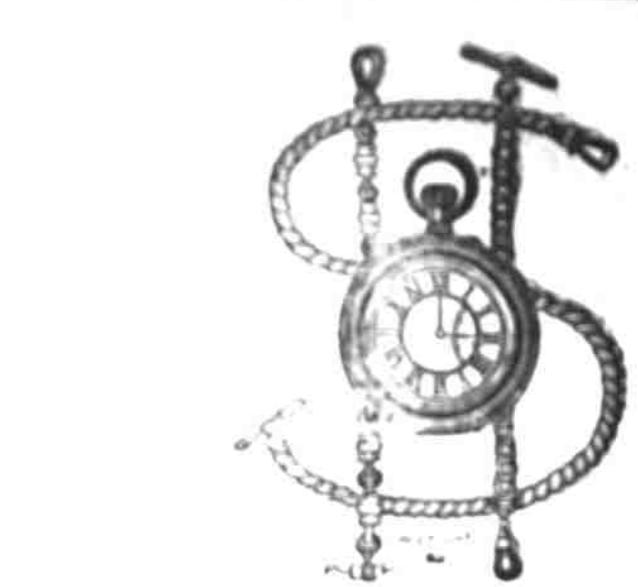

Politics under Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 22.—A thorough investigation along the frontier shows that there is now no danger of any uprising in Mexico. The Garza bandits who had been operating on United States territory appear to have disbanded with like likelihood of reorganizing.

The presidential election to be on June will be peaceful, as there are no opposing candidates. All classes signify their desire for the reelection of Diaz.
